August Date Possible

Apollo Launch Could Come 2 Months Early

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Recent successes in America's man-to-the-moon drive may permit the space agency to squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year, with the first launch perhaps two months sooner than scheduled.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announced schedule calls for astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo moonship into earth orbit in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no sooner than October.

Unofficially, however, sources say the flight could occur much earlier, perhaps August. They point out that current schedules call for the spacecraft to arrive at Cape Kennedy toward the end of March. The planned launch preparation time is about four months.

March 21 Launching
The success of America's second Saturn 5 superrocket launching, now scheduled for March 21, plus some key administrative decisions to be made in the next few weeks by NASA planners will determine whether

Peking Promises Nuclear Arms to Hanoi 'If Needed'

HONG KONG (AP) — The Hong Kong Star said today Red China has promised North Vietnam more workers and nuclear weapons, "if needed."

In a story attributed to its "own usually reliable sources inside China," the English-language newspaper said China warned North Vietnam not to escalate the war in Vietnam too quickly, but to "slowly bring the United States to an economic breaking point by forcing the Americans to commit more and more troops and economic aid in South Vietnam."

The advice and pledge of more aid were reported by the Star to have been made in a personal message by Chinese Premier Chou En-lai to North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

Hanoi Representative, Thant Confer in Paris On Peace Negotiations

PARIS (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General U Thant met for 75 minutes today with Mai Van Bo, North Vietnam's representative in the French capital. While no information was forthcoming on the nature of their talks, it was evident the central topic was the possibility of peace talks on the Vietnam war.

The meeting, which came after Thant's hurried flight here from London followed a conference between Thant and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson Tuesday, after which Wilson told the House of Commons that "only a very narrow gap" keeps the United States and North Vietnam from the conference table.

Thant delayed his return to New York, previously scheduled for Tuesday night, after a tour of New Delhi, Moscow and London seeking to open the door to talks to end the Vietnam war. But British officials were not

Napalm Used in Hue Pilots Down Pair of MIGs

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers shot down two MIG-17 jets today, blasted three North Vietnamese airfields and lent a hand to U.S. Marines trying to drive dihard Communist hold-outs from the walled Citadel of Hue.

Marine jets used napalm and tear gas as well as explosives in the battle for the Citadel, where entrenched North Vietnamese had turned back assault after assault by ground forces.

Two Air Force F4 Phantoms encountered the MIGs 30 to 40 miles northwest of Hanoi and brought them down with missiles and 20mm cannon, the Air Force said.

The U.S. Command said that during strikes against North Vietnam Tuesday, Air Force and Navy bombers attacked the airfield six miles southwest of Haiphong, the Bai Thuong field. No injuries were reported.

$130,000 Taken In Bronx Robbery

NEW YORK (AP) — A tall man and a tall woman, both wearing stocking masks and brandishing guns, robbed a Bronx bank of $130,000 today, police said.

They escaped with the money stuffed in a shopping bag. The man was described as 6 feet 11 and his woman companion as 5 feet 11. The robbery occurred at 9:30 a.m. at the Bank of Commerce. No injuries were reported.

China Jet Guns Down Unarmed Navy Plane

U. S. Craft Five Miles Off Coast

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unarmed, propeller-driven U.S. Navy plane was shot down by Chinese Communist MIG aircraft after it "inadvertently strayed into air space" off Red China's Hainan Island, the Defense Department announced today.

The Pentagon said the incident occurred Tuesday night when two unarmed Navy A1 planes "experienced navigational difficulties" while on a ferry plane trip from Cubi Point in the Philippines to the aircraft carrier Coral Sea in the Gulf of Tonkin.

"One of the planes was shot down by Communist MIG aircraft," the announcement said. It placed the spot about five miles off the east coast of Hainan Island.

Lands at Da Nang
The second A1 left the scene and landed at Da Nang in South Vietnam, the Pentagon said.

"Its pilot reports he last saw the other plane in a vertical dive and smoking," the statement said.

May Skip Test
The first manned flight aboard a Saturn 5 now officially is not scheduled until the fourth launching of the superrocket. However, project officials have left open the possibility that—if the second Saturn 5 is as successful as the first—NASA may decide to skip a third unmanned test of the mighty booster.

In this event, the Apollo spaceship now scheduled to fly on the fourth Saturn 5 could be launched aboard the third, possibly in October or November.

Another trio of Saturn 5 pilots then possibly could be launched in December for a dress rehearsal in earth orbit of the man-to-the-moon flight.

'Heavy Blow'
Navy pilots of the People's Liberation Army immediately dealt a heavy blow and shot down one of them and damaged the other," the radio said.

Air are propeller-driven planes also known as Skyraiders.

A preliminary report in Washington said that the pilot who made it to Da Nang had seen a parachute descending from the plane that was shot down.

Communist China claims its territorial waters extend 12 miles offshore.

This was the ninth incident involving Chinese Communist forces and American aircraft since September 1965, according to Pentagon records.

The most recent one occurred on Aug. 21 when two Navy A6A Intruder bombers were chased into Red China and probably shot down by North Vietnamese or Communist Chinese aircraft following a raid against North Vietnam.

Goulding refused repeatedly to say anything about the downed pilot.

Avoids Questions
"I am not going to answer any questions about the status of the pilot," Goulding said. He would not give a reason. He also asserted: "I am not

10,500 Troops Head for War Pressure Rising for Pentagon To Call Up Strategic Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The news "we believe that the reserve these officers say, are the combat-ready regular Army and Marine divisions in the United States.

There were 10 such divisions in this country in July 1965 when President Johnson ordered a major buildup of American ground forces in Vietnam. Eight of them were Army divisions, two were Marine.

There are four Army divisions in the United States—and one of them is losing a brigade of highly trained paratroopers to the Vietnam war.

The Army has begun to form another division, the Sixth Infantry, at Ft. Campbell, Ky., but this outfit will not be combat-ready for about nine months.

Call-up Urged
After the new deployments to Vietnam, the Marines will be down to a little more than one division in the United States. Marine officers long have urged a call to active duty of the Fourth Marine Division, the corps' reserve element. The Marines claim their reserve division and its associated air wing could be ready for deployment about 30 days after call-up.

This combined ground-air unit totals about 48,000 men. The Army has a 150,000-man force of first-line reservists and guardsmen who for two years have been undergoing extra training and are supposed to be fit for deployment eight weeks after being mustered.

Army Wants War Veteran To Pay $70 for Lost Rifle

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Army succeeds in collecting $70.21 from a former Wisconsin soldier for a lost rifle, the Navy should collect $30 million from the secretary of defense for the recent loss of two ships, Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg, R-Wis., complained Tuesday.

Schadeberg said the Army has filed a $70.21 claim against Ernst J. Wagner of Racine, Wis., who was honorably discharged from the Army after a year's service in Vietnam during which he was decorated.

Legal Action
The Army, Schadeberg said, thinks Wagner ought to pay within 30 days for an M14 rifle believed to have fallen out of a helicopter, or face legal action.

"He offered his life in defense of his country, and now he gets a bill for it," Schadeberg said. "If they start legal action, I will start a Wagner-Vietnam defense fund and ask for donations from veterans of all wars to fight the legal action."

Wagner, 24, was not immediately available for comment. He and his mother were reported to have left Racine Monday to pay a visit to a brother in Corona, Calif.

Schadeberg said the Army's claim has as much merit as a Navy request for $30 million to cover the loss of the USS Pueblo, seized by North Korea, and the USS Liberty, a casualty of an Israeli attack near the Egyptian coast.

"There is about as much chance of getting the Pueblo back as there is recovering the M14 rifle," the congressman said. "She and the Liberty, which is being decommissioned as a result of the Israeli attack, would cost $30 million to replace."

Drafted in June, 1965, Wagner went to Vietnam in April, 1966, and received the Air Medal for distinguished service as a helicopter gunner.

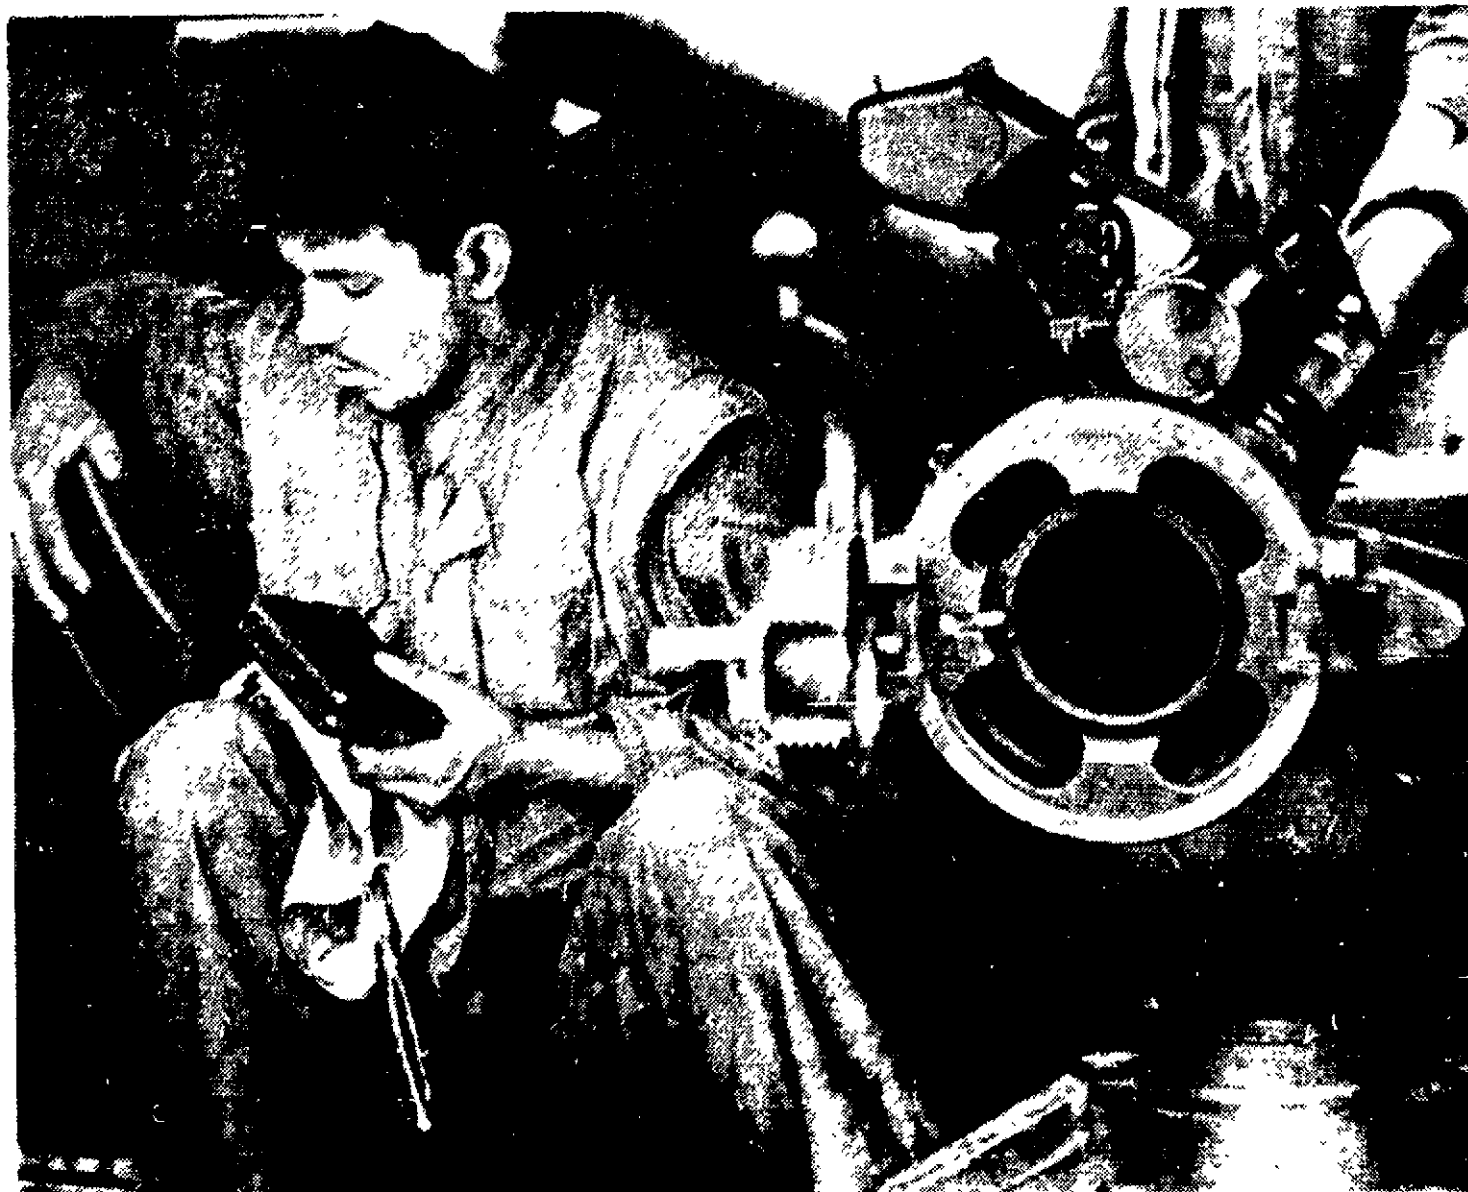

He returned to the United States and was discharged in April, 1967.

Schadeberg's office said Wagner's rifle was placed aboard a helicopter with the rest of his equipment the morning it was lost.

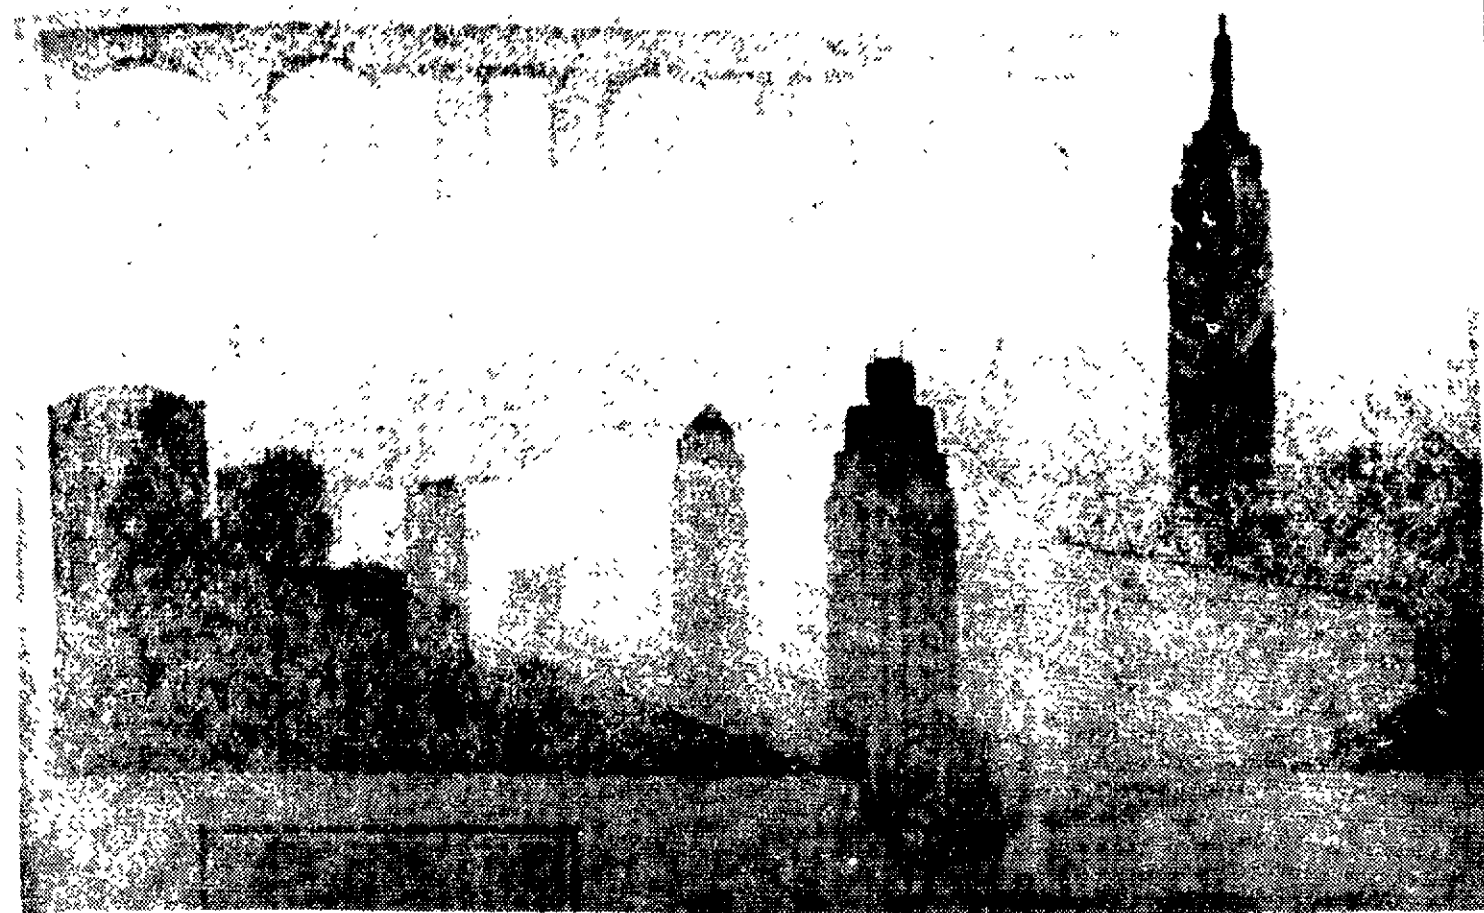

Fell in Flight
When the flight was ready, another gunner asked to take Wagner's place to obtain flight time. When the flight returned, Wagner asked for the rifle and the gunner told him he did not remember seeing it.

Wagner told Schadeberg that the rifle must have fallen while the helicopter was in flight, the office said.

The letter asking that Wagner pay for the rifle came from Lt. Col. G. S. Marin of the Army Claims Division, Indianapolis, Ind.

First Steps Taken For Clearing Up Air

Standards to be Set for Quality Control, Filter Device Ordered

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

To breathe enough oxygen to stay alive, you must draw some 1,600 quarts of air into your lungs every day.

But civilized man is making a sewer out of his sky and air. Too much of our daily air is polluted, containing increasing quantities of noxious, offensive and poisonous gases and solid particles.

Health officials say they can only guess at the real cost to health both from killer smogs and from chronic exposure to carbon monoxide, sulfur dioxide, ozone, lead, dust, soot, and a host of new chemical compounds.

This is the third article in a series describing how man is poisoning his environment and what he is doing to stop it.

The national bill from air pollution, damage to clothing, metals, buildings, crops, paints and fabrics is estimated at $12 billion per year—about $60 per man, woman and child.

Funds Increased
But to control or reduce air pollution, the federal, state and local governments until this year were spending only $84 million a year—42 cents per man, woman and child. Federal funds were boosted in legislation passed last year, but some experts say it's not enough.

"Americans have a choice: clean up the air and live like human beings, or stay indoors and live like moles," warns John W.

Gardner who recently resigned as secretary of health.

The earth is a spaceship whose outer "walls" are only its atmosphere hugged to the planet by gravity.

Each day into this atmosphere, 90 million motor vehicles are pouring 180,000 tons of carbon monoxide, 33,000 tons of hydrocarbons, and 17,500 tons of nitrogen oxide.

Each day, factories, homes, and power plants using fuel oil and coal belch up 100,000 tons or more of sulfur dioxide.

Livestock Injured
Damage to agriculture and livestock from polluted air is estimated at $500 million annually.

Much of some 800 million pounds of trash, garbage, leaves and the like is burned daily in incinerators, many of low efficiency, pouring more pollutants into the air.

Some 7,300 U.S. communities suffer from varying degrees of air pollution, says the U.S. Public Health Service.

During smogs, daily death rates soar above average as polluted air takes a toll of people with weakened respiratory systems and hearts.

A London smog was blamed for 4,000 excess deaths in 1952; one in Donora, Pa., for 20 dead in 1948; a Thanksgiving week smog in New York City in 1966 was blamed indirectly for snuffing out 168 lives prematurely.

Polluted air is blamed by some medical authorities for causing some lung cancers, exacerbating asthma, the lung disease emphysema, tuberculosis, and congestive heart failure. Years of chronic, low-level exposure presumably take some toll.

"When people just don't feel well from air pollution, how do you fix a price?" asks Dr. John T. Middleton, director of the Public Health Service's National Center for Air Pollution Control in Washington.

"The auto driver consuming carbon monoxide for an hour or so daily may become a highway hazard from monoxide effects on his nervous system," he declares.

An initial step has been taken to choke off some of air pollution from motor vehicles, which some experts say contribute 60 per cent or more of all air pollution.

Auto Devices
By federal law, all new cars starting with 1968 models must be equipped with devices that reduce the usual exhaust emissions of hydrocarbons by about two-thirds, and carbon monoxide by one-half.

It costs the new car buyer about $50. There is no legal requirement that the new efficiency be maintained as cars age, nor do older cars have to be similarly equipped. The government has proposed more stringent controls for 1970 models, cutting by one-third the amount of exhaust pollutants permitted in 1968 autos.

Some cities have pioneered clean air programs, notably among them Los Angeles, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

But as yet, says Dr. Middleton, most state programs lack adequate authority and resources to clean up what is everyone's air. And regional programs have been virtually nonexistent.

The federal government is putting more muscle into the struggle for cleaner air.

Under the Clean Air Act of 1963, and subsequent amendments, Congress supplied increasing funds for air pollution abatement programs, matching grants to states, research, training of personnel, and pilot programs to demonstrate specific means of reducing air pollution. The budget to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare last year for all such efforts was $64 million. State and local governments were spending another $20 million.

Spending Increase
The Air Quality Act of 1967 boosts spending to $428.3 million, over a three-year period. This includes $125 million for research over a two-year period.

HEW will set standards, designate air quality regions, and enforce the standards. The new act has been praised as a great step forward, and criticized as too complicated and as slowing down needed efforts to control air pollution.

No one denies that the problem is urgent, and complicated. "There is little or no political mileage to be won yet in working for cleaner air," says Ron M. Linton, chairman of Urban America Inc., a nonprofit organization, in Washington, concerned with urban needs. "The pressure groups fighting for it are not in the political mainstream."

"You wonder," he adds, "whether we have to wait for real disaster, the loss of many lives in a smog, before we begin all-out efforts to control air pollution."

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Terry McDermott, given no chance to repeat as gold medalist in the men's 500-meter speed skating race, whizzed over a sun-soaked rink today and grabbed the United States' fourth silver medal in the Winter Olympic Games.

Shortly before the 27-year-old sprint skater from Birmingham, Mich., joined three female speed skaters as silver medalists. Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., moved into second place after four of the five compulsory figures in men's figure skating competition.

Norway Gains 2nd Olympic Ski Gold Medal

AUTRANS, France (AP) — Norway gained its second Nordic ski gold medal today as its cross country relay team won the Olympic 4 x 10-kilometer race by more than two minutes.

Starting out in fog on a rain-soaked course, the Norwegian quartet finished in two hours, eight minutes, 33.5 seconds.

Sweden, the defending Olympic champion, placed second in 2:10:13.2 while Finland edged Russia for the bronze medal by half a second.

The Russians were in third place throughout the race until the skiers entered the stadium with slightly less than a half mile to go.

From that point the Russian and Finnish anchor men changed positions several times until Eero Maentyranta, winner of two medals in individual races, sprinted across the finish line just ahead of Viatcheslav Vedenine to keep the Russians blanketed in Nordic skiing in these Games.

The United States was a surprising sixth after the first lap but steadily dropped back and wound up 12th in the field of 15 in 2:21:30.4.

The U.S. squad consisted of Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., Mike Elliott of Durango, Colo., Bob Gray of Putney and John Bower of Middlebury, Vt.

Norway's Harald Gronnengen started off the Nordic events last week by winning the 15-kilometer race. He raced third in the relay with Odd Martinsen, silver medalist in the 30-kilometer, going first, Paal Tyldum second and Ole Ellefsaeter last.

After starting in the ski stadium, the race consisted of 1.86 miles of climbing, then .82 mile downhill, 1.55 miles of extremely rough climbing and finally 2.1 miles mostly fast downhill.

The pairings for the eight regional tournaments were announced today by the WCIAA.

Acquire Catcher From Giants to Replace Roseboro

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco Giants needed a second baseman who hits well. The Los Angeles Dodgers needed a catcher to replace the traded John Roseboro.

The result: The first major trade between the two teams since 1956.

In the deal announced Tuesday, the Giants traded their first-string catcher Tom Haller and a minor league player to be announced. The Dodgers gave up two second basemen, Ron Hunt and Nate Oliver.

Hunt, 26, will be counted on to provide Giant hitting power for the University of Texas. His average for five National League seasons is .280. In 1961, he hit .263.

Haller, 30, hit .251 for the Giants last year, including 23 doubles, five triples and 14 home runs.

Oliver, 26, will be counted on to provide Giant hitting power for the University of Texas. His average for five National League seasons is .280. In 1961, he hit .263.

The 27-year-old Oliver batted .237 last year in 39 games for the Dodgers and participated in 13 double plays.

Haller, 30, hit .251 for the Giants last year, including 23 doubles, five triples and 14 home runs.

William Bidwell, vice president of the National Football League club, said Cochran replaces Rick Forzano. Cochran, 45, resigned as a Packers assistant after the 1966 season.

Cochran, a graduate of Wake Forest, played with the Cardinals when they were in Chicago from 1946-49. He returned to Wake Forest in 1950 as an assistant coach, joined the Detroit Lions as an assistant in 1956, and went with the Packers in 1959.

He went into business in Green Bay, Wis., after leaving the Packers.

The former hallback still holds a Cardinal record for average punt returns—20.9 in 1949. It is still the second-best in the NFL.

The double round of action that will conclude Mid-Eastern Conference action for this season will have a special meaning for the Neenah High School Rockets this weekend.

Neenah will be playing its last two conference tilts, since the school joins the Fox River Valley Conference next season.

In addition, the Rockets will be aiming to leave with a flourish, eyeing their second straight 14-0 record, something no team has ever done before.

To give Neenah a thorough test in its M-E "swan song" will be the two teams that have caused the Rockets the most trouble in recent years. Friday night, Neenah must travel to Two Rivers to meet the Raiders, and Saturday Neenah enters second place Kimberly in the loop finale.

Other Games

Other games on the docket Friday include Clintonville at Kaukauna, New London at Kimberly and Shawano at Menasha. In addition to the Kimberly at Neenah tilt Saturday, Kaukauna visits Shawano, Menasha travels to Clintonville and Two Rivers will be at New London.

Neenah has played 477 basketball games against M-E foes and has come out with 333 victories. The Rockets have won eight undisputed championships and shared the crown on seven occasions.

The Papermakers of Kimberly have given the Rockets the most trouble. Kimberly has a 21-12 edge in the won-lost column since joining the conference in 1951. The Rockets hold a 23-17 edge over Two Rivers.

Leads Offensively

Going into the final weekend of play, Neenah leads the league, offensively, with a 72.8 average per game. Kimberly has the best defensive mark, having held foes to 53.4 points per game while Neenah is second allowing 54.5 per tilt.

Two Rivers ranks second offensively with 63.6 per game and the Raiders showed they are not to be taken lightly on their home court as they upset Kimberly last Saturday night.

The Kaukauna Ghosts, battling it out with Menasha for third place, carry the third-best offensive average in the loop with 63.3 points per contest. Kimberly is fourth with 61.1.

Kaukauna's Dennis Spice can wrap up the individual scoring title this weekend. Spice has scored 238 points for a per-game average of 19.8. His closest rival is Bill Gipp, of Shawano, who has 213 markers.

Greg Wing, of New London, has climbed to third place in scoring and Rich Carstens, of Kaukauna, ranks fourth. Dale Magdanz and Dan Jankowski, of Neenah, fifth and sixth, respectively.

More shuffling may come Saturday when Ohio State goes to Minnesota, Purdue to Illinois, Wisconsin to Iowa, Michigan State to Northwestern and Michigan to Indiana.

See-saw at End

Illinois blew a 36-27 halftime margin. Michigan went ahead 48-47, the Illini went ahead 55-54 at 7:02 and then the lead changed three more times before Jim Pitts made two quick baskets on steals that put the Wolverines on top 64-61.

But back came Illinois on Randy Crews' two free tosses at :48 for a 65-64 edge. Then Sullivan hit a long shot and followed with a free throw to seal the final score.

Sullivan headed Michigan with 18 points while Illinois' Dave Scholz was limited also to 18.

Kondla, who had averaged 31 points in the last three games, fouled out with 3:16 to go against the Wildcats, but they earned 85-80. Northwestern slipped couldn't rally. LeRoy Gardner added 19 points for the Gophers, who outbounded Northwestern 52-42. Dale Kelley topped the Cats with 27 points and Jim Sarneck contributed 17.

Ohio State remains on top with 6-2 Iowa, idle, moved up to second with 5-2.

CHICAGO (AP) — It was a night for the have-nots in Big Ten basketball.

With league-leading Ohio State losing at Wisconsin Monday night, the door in the title chase was left ajar. But Northwestern and Illinois couldn't get in Tuesday night.

Bob Sullivan and Dennis Stewart headed a last half charge that gave Michigan a 67-65 upset at Illinois. Illinois now is tied for fifth spot with Purdue at 4-3. Michigan is 2-6.

Tom Kondla poured in 29 points in the last three games, fouled out with 3:16 to go against the Wildcats, but they earned 85-80. Northwestern slipped couldn't rally. LeRoy Gardner added 19 points for the Gophers, who outbounded Northwestern 52-42. Dale Kelley topped the Cats with 27 points and Jim Sarneck contributed 17.

Ohio State remains on top with 6-2 Iowa, idle, moved up to second with 5-2.

Stahler for offense and defensive halfback Bobby Johns for defense.

Starr said "I had a wonderful four years at Alabama. I received a good education. It was the best four years I ever spent despite a poor football record. I had the distinction of playing on the first Alabama team that didn't win a game."

"I don't mind admitting that I left here with a bitter taste in my mouth. But since then it's been a great source of satisfaction to look at Alabama's success under Coach Paul Bryant in recent years."

Starr added that he would this time compare his coach, Vince Lombardi, with Bryant.

"Both are very sound. They are good coaches and they are successful," he said.

He said he foresees no major changes in the Green Bay team under Coach Phil Bengtson who has succeeded Lombardi as coach.

Final-Quarter Surge Decides Non-Loop Game

HORTONVILLE — Marion's Mustangs rallied in the final quarter of play to edge the Polar Bears of Hortonville, 55-53, Tuesday night in a non-league game.

Hortonville held the 56-53 advantage from the floor sink- ing 25 baskets to Marion's 19, but the Mustangs sank 17 of 21 free throws, while the Polar Bears capitalized on three of eight.

The Mustangs took a 13-7 lead at the close of the initial period but the Polar Bears rallied to tie the score at the half, 24-24.

Lead by Jerry Warning and Dave Riggles, the Polar Bears continued to surge and overtook the Mustangs mid-way through the third stanza. But the Mustangs staged their own rally, paced by John Braun and Randy Peterson, to take the lead for good in the final frame out-scoring Hortonville, 17-12, in that quarter.

Warning finished with 19 and Riggles with 18 for the Polar Bears. Marion's Peterson and Braun finished with 19 and 17, respectively.

12 in a Row Army Boasts Longest Win Chain in 22 Years

By TED MEIER

Another three-game streak followed against Illinois, Rice and Southern Methodist before N.C. State won 75-60.

Since then, the Cadets have bowled over in succession Yale, Georgetown, D.C. Temple, Fordham, Dartmouth, Manhattan, Penn State, NYU, Syracuse, Rutgers, St. John's of New York and Colgate.

Army's come-from-behind 55-54 road victory last week over St. John's was particularly gratifying. The Redmen bounced back with a road victory of their own Tuesday by edging Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., 83-81.

John Warren won the game for St. John's by sinking a 12-foot jump shot with just three seconds left. Warren was high third with 755.9 to Wood's 762.6 for St. John's with 26 Bob Arn- while Emmerich Danzer of Austria was in fourth after ex- perencing one of his blackest days in 10 years of international competition.

Louisville, led by Westley Un- sold's 23 points and 29 rebounds, kept its lead in the Missouri Valley Conference by downing North Texas at home 81-72. Wil- lie Davis led the losing Eagles with 31 points.

Bobcats Will Travel to Marquette

GREEN BAY — The Green Bay Bobcats will attempt to get back on the winning track Thursday night when they travel to Marquette for an encounter with the Iron Rangers before returning home for a weekend series with the Minn- sota Nationals at the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Bobcats split a pair with Waterloo Blackhawks at the Arena last weekend, winning 4-3 Saturday and losing, 5-3, Sun- day. The loss broke a Bobcat winning streak at five games.

The Bobcats have evaded the Michiels Bowl, Sherwood, Ruth times this season and have Johnson fired a 193 game and always come away a loser. 553 series. Helen Michiels Currently, the Cats are in shared honors with a 201 game second place in the United States Hockey League, with 23 and 501 series while Harriet Busch had a 530 set and Ev points. The Iron Rangers have McCourt rolled a 191 game.

Elaine Schmidt's 547 Series Leads Latecomers Pin League

Elaine Schmidt cracked a 547 series to set the pace in the Latecomers League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday.

Runnerup in the Latecomers circuit was Mary Schmidt with a 216 line and 524 set.

Lolita Schade swept individual marks in the Nite-Out League at Sabre Lanes Tuesday by rolling a 190 game and 537 series.

Jane Kampf's 521 series was the lone honor score in the Ten game and a 315 series, respec- tively. Karmen Ghia (19-3) leads the Thunderbirds by one game in the team race.

on the outcome could be seen from Keller's performance. The 23-year-old Munich dental student has an unratified world record of 39.2 seconds, but he couldn't even get down to the 40.1 Olympic record that Mc- Dermott set four years ago.

Neil Blatchford of North- brook, Ill., who had been ex- pected to do much better than McDermott, lost his stride and stumbled rounding the final bend. He finished in 40.7, good only for a three-way tie for fifth with John Wurster of Ballston Spa, N.Y., and Agne Herjunn- et of Norway.

Tom Gray of Milwaukee tied for 21st in 41.6. Skating with superb assur- ance, Wood outdid all of his competitors in the fourth figure, a fast "back outside change loop," and was named first by seven of the nine judges.

That put the U.S. champion 16.6 points behind Austrian Wolfgang Schwarz, who ac- cusedly won the game with one compulsory figure to go.

Patrick Pera of France was in fourth with 755.9 to Wood's 762.6. Gary Visconti, former U.S. champion from Detroit, moved into fifth after starting the day in sixth, and John Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., climbed from 13th to 10th.

Visconti was 65.7 points be- hind Schwarz and 23.3 behind third-place Pera, while Petkevich was 13.7 points back of Vis- conti.

Ready by 1970 Seattle Bond Issue For Domed Stadium Gets Voter Approval

SEATTLE (AP) — Seattle seph Gandy, chairman of the and King County voters en- dored a $40 million bond issue he hoped one could be an- nounced in 30 to 45 days.

"We want to get started on this as soon as we can," Gandy said. "We are determined to have the finest stadium in the country but we are also interest- ed in having it completed with- out undue delay. We would like missioner of baseball, said they to have it ready by the summer of 1970, if possible."

Will be Enlarged

In the interim, the new team will play in Sick's Stadium, home of the PCL's Seattle An- gels which is to be enlarged for about 30,000 fans.

Both major and professional football leagues have expressed interest in the area and Seattle is considered a good bet to get a franchise in the next expansion move.

Passage of the stadium issue climaxes a drive that began eight years ago. Voters turned down a $15 million proposal in 1960 and a $38 million issue in 1966.

Cost to the average taxpayer was figured at about $1.25 over the 10-year period of the bonds.

With only 10 of 1,082 reporting units uncounted, the proposal had 149,404 yes votes and 90,405 against—easily meeting the 60 per cent favorable vote required by state law.

Contacted at their homes, Joe Cronin, American League presi- dent, and William Eckert, com- misioner of baseball, said they to have it ready by the summer of 1970, if possible."

Amended Franchise

Both men were among the pa- rade of sports figures who visit- ed the area to give support to the stadium issue. Others in- cluded Mickey Mantle, Y. A. Tittle, Carl Yastrzemski and, most recently, Ron Santo, who grew up in Seattle.

Max Soriano, president of Pa- cific Northwest Sports, Inc., the group awarded the baseball franchise, called passage of the proposal "a victory for the en- tire community."

Soriano said he and his brother, Dewey, outgoing president of the Pacific Coast League, would meet soon with William Daley, Cleveland industrialist and the third principal stockholder, to consider ways of bringing other stockholders into the organiza- tion.

Coyne and Branta Place Second in State Paddle Test

Appleton's Bill Coyne and Bill Branta finished second in last weekend's state paddle racket tournament held in the Appleton YMCA.

They lost to Milwaukee's Dave Felger and Tom Sanicola, 21-15, and 21-15, in the finals.

In the consolation finales, Appleton's Ken Ligare and Bill Guyon lost to Fond du Lac's Ben Wirkus and Joe Wirkus, 21-12, 21-4.

Jerry's Lanes Quintet Takes Third Place

GREEN BAY — Bud Muntner rifled in 38 points to lead Jerry's Lanes of Kimberly to a 103-76 romp over Buddy Beek's of Milwaukee and third place in the 22nd Annual Green Bay Open Basketball Tournament concluded Sunday night.

Wausau Pike's, led by former Milwaukee Lincoln and Indiana University star Max Walker, successfully defended the title it won last year by downing Prospect Farms of Fort Atkinson, 87-75, in the final game.

Jerry's Lanes had reached the semi-finals of the tourney by beating Kenosha Tirabasi, 87-79, and then bowing to Pike's 87-68, Sunday afternoon. Muntner's total against Pike's gave him 122 points, tying him for meet scoring honors with Beek's Bruce White.

Walker, named the tournament's most valuable player, scored 24 points in the last game against Prospect Farms. The Wausau team held a 49-38 lead at the half.

Bruins' Orr Has Surgery On Left Knee

BOSTON (AP) — Defenseman Bobby Orr of the Boston Bruins underwent surgery at Newton-Wellesley Hospital Monday for removal of the medial cartilage in the left knee. He probably will be sidelined for the remainder of the regular National Hockey League season which ends March 31.

"The operation was badly needed," Dr. Ronald Adams, the team physician said. "He had a bucket handle tear—in other words, a badly damaged cartilage."

Dr. Adams called the surgery "completely successful" and said "there is no reason to assume that Bobby can't skate in five weeks."

Maritime Bar, Dale and Joy's Lead Pool Loop

Maritime Bar and Dale and Joy's retained slim leads in the two divisions of the Appleton 8-ball Pool League after last week's action.

Maritime (31-14) leads the American Division by just one game over KC Bar. Dale and Joy's has a 4-game spread over The Ultimate and five games over Brad's in the National section.

In last week's play, Maritime lost to Dick's Pub, 5-4; Klein Brothers downed Gay Spot, 7-2; KC Bar topped Hide-a-Way, 6-3 and Schwalbach's edged Kelley's, 5-4.

The National loop saw SSAC nip Dale and Joy's, 5-4; Frieda's downed The Ultimate, 6-3; Brad's edged Reetz Supper Club, 5-4 and Elmer's got by Rendezvous, 5-4.

Luethge High in Archery Circuit

Robert Luethge scored 95 for one game and had a 281 for series to lead the way in the AIAA Archery League at Midway Archery Lanes last week.

Bill Deltgen was runnerup in series with 269 and Ken Taplin had 268.

The Disagreeables, 1 e a g u e leader with a 10-2 record, captured top team honors with a 275 game and 804 series. The Americans were runnersup with a 262 game and 783 series.

The Short Shots (9-3) are second followed by the Americans (7½-4½) and the Rounders (7-5).

Dennis Koerner Tops Bow League

Dennis Koerner scored 283 out of a possible 300 points to set the individual pace in the Winnebago Archers, Inc. League action at the Midway Archery Lanes.

High for the women was Sheri Neubauer with a score of 249. The Fearless Four and The Experts tied for top team game with 339 and top series went to the Fearless Four with 1,006.

Here's to your health... and beauty... and budget!

Did you know that we have our own line of A&P Health and Beauty Aids?

It's taken us a couple of years to develop the line and we're not finished yet. Why so long? Well, we wanted them to carry the A&P name and you know what that means. They must be equal to or better than the nationally famous brands. That's a steadfast rule for any product bearing the A&P name. Here's what we have so far:

SHAMPOO	TOOTHPASTE	MULTIPLE VITAMINS
SHAVE CREAM		COTTON SWABS
CHILDREN'S CHEWABLE VITAMINS	PETROLEUM JELLY

What does this mean to you?

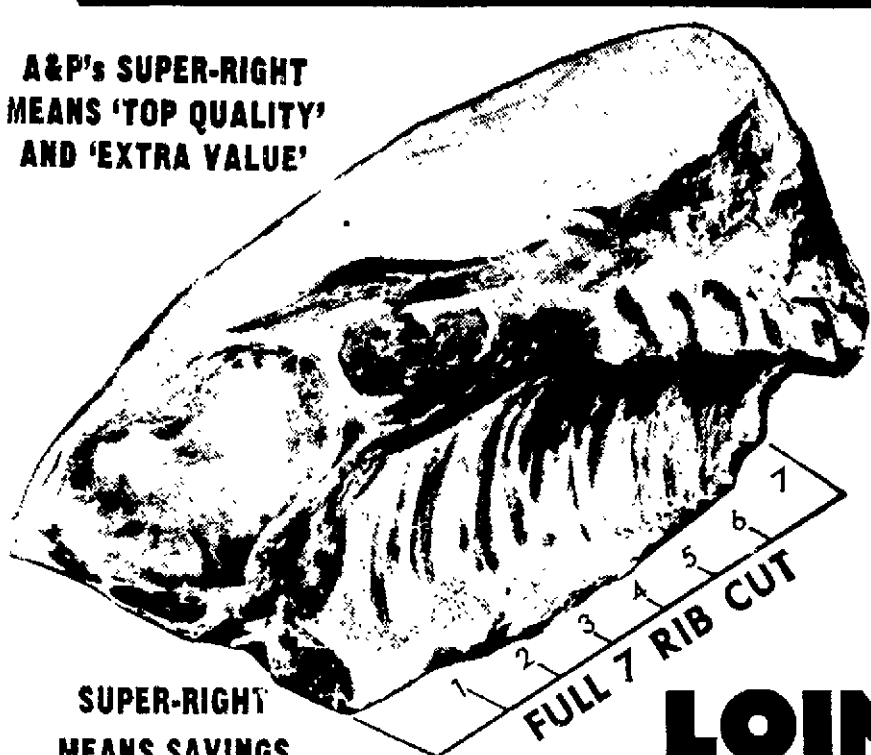

It means a convenient opportunity for you to buy guaranteed quality products at significant savings. Check the prices on this page. You'll see what we mean.

When you think about it... shouldn't A&P be your store?

Squad Car Bids Ask Lease and Purchase Costs

Board Studies Both Methods of Providing Police Vehicles

Without discussion or a single opposing vote, the Outagamie County Board Tuesday afternoon authorized its law enforcement and purchasing committee to advertise for bids on both purchase and lease of new squad cars.

Bids will be sought on vehicles of various minimum wheelbase requirements. Full-size, police special autos are now being used, but the law enforcement committee, which sponsored Tuesday's resolution, maintained that savings could be realized on purchase, trade-and operating costs with shorter wheelbase vehicles. The committee has made a detailed study of car costs and costs involved in changing to a lease program. The county has purchased squad cars on a contract basis for two years. The present contract, with R and R Dodge, Inc., of Appleton, has expired.

Recommendations by the law enforcement and purchasing committees are expected at next month's board meeting. In other law enforcement-related action, the board, by a 39-1 vote, approved sending a traffic department officer to a three-week course on supervisory requirements. Full-size, police special autos are now being used, but the law enforcement committee, which sponsored Tuesday's resolution, maintained that savings could be realized on purchase, trade-

English Actor Will Speak At Lawrence

"Words, words, words..." is the title of a convocation address to be given by English actor Harold Kasket at 11:10 a.m. Thursday at Lawrence University Memorial Chapel. Kasket is visiting the Lawrence campus as director of the university drama department's second major production of the season, Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice."

In his address, Kasket will consider ways in which earlier productions of "The Merchant of Venice" have influenced the play's recent interpretations, and particularly, his own. Kasket is a veteran of the Old Vic Theatre, the Olivier traveling company, and the BBC Radio Repertory Theatre. His production of "The Merchant of Venice" will play nightly in Stansbury Theatre from Feb. 20 through 24, with afternoon matinees on Feb. 24 and 25.

Stock Market Specialists' Role Disputed

Monopoly Status Again Subject of Heated Controversy

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The specialist, a vital link in the machinery of stock exchanges, a unique fellow who sometimes must buy stock that nobody else wants at the going price just to keep the market moving, is on the hot seat again.

Disputes are nothing new for this breed, which often is praised as gutsy but sometimes, rarely and maybe unfairly, accused of something a bit short of fraud. Even so, the current controversy, subdued but heated, is a surprise.

The question is this: Should a specialist have a "monopoly" in making a market in certain stocks? Or should a system of competitive specialists be used in order to limit price swings?

SEC Criticism

The controversy smolders just 4½ years after the Securities and Exchange Commission criticized specialist performance. It conceded their value, but suggested reforms, some of which are being carried out.

Remarks by brokers, specialists, traders, institutions and others show, however, that some in the investment community feel the reforms aren't solving some pressing problems — that they are in fact intensifying them.

One role of the specialist is to maintain an orderly market in specific stocks assigned to him by the stock exchange. He specializes in bringing together buyer and seller in these stocks. He makes a market in them.

When buyer and seller are far apart — when buy orders at a specific price do not match sell orders — the market stalls. Dollars instead of cents may separate buyer and seller, neither will budge.

Reduce Spread

This puts the specialist in an awkward position. He cannot permit prices to rise or fall by such a great amount, because this would be disorderly. He must, instead, consider trading for his own account, buying for more or selling for less than anyone else. In this way he reduces the price spread.

Investors today maintain that some specialists permit prices to rise or fall too sharply, to move by large fractions of a dollar or more instead of by a few cents, even though the New York Stock Exchange says records show only rare instances of this.

"They are thieves," exclaimed a large investor who claims to have seen the price of a stock rise $1 on a purchase order of 100 shares. Such an increase, generally speaking, should have been a fraction of $1.

End Monopoly

What is the solution, he was asked? "Competitive specialists," he replied. "If it can be done, the monopoly of specialists should be ended. Competition among them would limit the spread of prices."

The opposite direction has been taken by the New York Stock Exchange, where the vast majority of blue chip stocks are traded. In 1963 the Big Board had 110 specialists, some of whom competed. It has 84 now, none of which compete.

Exchange officials say that competition isn't assurance that one specialist will offer a better price than another. "You might have two weak sisters with neither one of them sticking her neck out," an exchange man said.

The criticism seems to be arising mostly from investment managers who deal in very large lots, where fractions per share often turn in many thousands of dollars. These big lots also make the specialists' jobs harder.

Four Specialists

Fred Carr, portfolio manager of the highly successful Enterprise Fund, advocates as many as four specialists for each stock traded. "The result would be smaller spreads and a much higher degree of marketability," he said in an interview.

Many mutual and pension funds and other large buyers and sellers are handicapped, Carr said in a speech, "by the present, old-fashioned situation." He suggested ending "the monopoly that exists on the floor."

Many others in the financial community have equally strong views, pro and con. The young officers of a highly regarded investment research firm were asked for an opinion. One of them, a floor broker, replied: "We thrashed it out last night. We have a diversity of opinion. I'm strong in mine, Bill is in his and Fred is in his also. In my opinion competition wouldn't do any good."

In another instance, a young specialist and a partner in a brokerage house that handles large orders argued at lunch. The specialist was against competition. The broker wanted it.

The broker felt compelled to explain to a guest: "You would never guess it, but we're good friends."

Helble to Speak At Kaukauna Masonic Lodge

KAUKAUNA — Herbert H. Helble, former principal of Appleton High School, will speak on "Freedom Is Not Free," at a 6:30 p.m. Feb. 24, dinner of the Masonic Lodge at the Masonic Temple.

The Lodge will be observing the anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

Helble is widely known as an educator and as a leader and contributor to civic and patriotic activities in Appleton, Outagamie County and the state. He is a member of the county board and president of the

CORE Director To Speak Friday At St. Norbert

WEST DE PERE — Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), will speak at St. Norbert College Friday night as a guest of the school's speakers forum.

McKissick's address, free of charge and open to the public, will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Hall of Fine Arts.

Always a dynamic civil rights activist, McKissick has been North Carolina youth director of the NAACP and a participant in negotiations, picketing, sit-ins and other civil rights demonstrations.

A successful lawyer with a lucrative practice in Durham, North Carolina, McKissick gave it up to accept the office of national director of CORE.

Educated at North Carolina College and the University of North Carolina law school, McKissick has said that " . . . phase two of the civil rights movement means total equality and to achieve it, three elements are necessary; an improved self-image for Negroes and other minority groups, development of economic power and development of political power."

4 Valley Chiropractors At Madison Seminar

A seminar on office procedures and new techniques was attended by four Fox Cities chiropractors this week in Madison.

Leo J. Murphy, D. M. Hidde and W. G. Boyson, all of Appleton and R. E. Geiger, Neenah, represented the area at the one-day conference sponsored by the American Chiropractic Association in cooperation with the Society of Wisconsin Chiropractors.

More than 150 chiropractors from the state were on hand.

Dog License Deadline Set by Appleton Police

Dog owners are to purchase licenses from the Appleton Police Department before March 1 or pay a $1 penalty, authorities said today.

Fee is $2 for a male or spayed female dog, while there is a $3 fee for unsprayed females. Licenses expire each January.

KOSTO IN-A-HURRY CHOCO-BUTTERSCOTCH FUDGE

1 package Kosto Chocolate
1 package Kosto Butterscotch Pudding-Pie Filling
2 cups sugar
1 cup evaporated milk
1 pkg. chocolate bits, (6 oz.)

1 pkg. butterscotch bits, (6 oz.)
1 pint jar (2 cups) marshmallow creme
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 to 1½ cups pecan or walnut halves, (opt.)

Combine first 4 ingredients in heavy saucepan; mix. Place over moderately high heat; cook, stirring constantly, until syrup is bubbling rapidly to center of pan. Boil 2 minutes, stirring vigorously. Turn heat off; stir in chocolate bits, butterscotch bits, marshmallow creme and vanilla. Add nuts and beat until mixture starts to lose its gloss. Pour into buttered 9 x 2-inch pan; spread evenly. Cool and cut into squares.
Yield: About 2½ to 3 pounds, 36 to 49 squares.

Quality

Solid-packed to the brim then cooked with its own natural juices.

That's why it's Freshlike.

George Gibbs, guardian of Freshlike quality.

As Chief Quality Inspector for Freshlike®, George Gibbs knows vegetables. He knows water robs corn of its natural flavor.

That's why after George has chosen the very best corn from each year's harvest, he insists that it be solid-packed in our compact cans. Freshlike cans that have a lot less water but as much corn as the taller cans. Then, Freshlike Corn is cooked with its natural juices to retain its "just-picked" flavor.

When you serve our golden sweet Freshlike Corn, give a thought to fussy old George Gibbs. And be thankful he's as fussy as he is!

Freshlike Vegetables mean what they say. In 18 different varieties.

A! DAS Ist Eine ZITZENCLOPPER

Und Ja! People DO read Post-Crescent Want Ads . . .

. . . and they have the most wonderful sense of humor!

To prove that people are interested in Post-Crescent Want Ads . . and all in fun . . . we ran the following ad on the Classified Page!

ZITZENCLOPPER with power focus, revolving flagalate and completely overhauled blef. Uplo and falox included if desired. Write Box R-44, Post-Crescent.

The response to the above ad was both quick and gratifying. Reproduced are some of the replies. It also proved to be the topic of conversation over many a coffee cup, provoked uncounted telephone inquiries and put local lexicographers to the test. And along with this, a Zitzenclopper turned up . . . a genuine Zitzenclopper . . . as described in this ad.

It is believed to be the only one in prestance and theredict, will be confluted to the American Metrole of Antriques for the berfit of all mernskite.

To Whom It May Concern:

In regard to the ad in your Feb. 1st paper for the Zitzenclopper with revolving flagalate. I have been interested in purchasing one of these for some time, since the local stores do not carry them anymore.

I would like some information on the color, the price you wish, and whether it is portable or not.

Yours truly,
D. S.
Neenah, Wis.

Box R-44

I'm not interested in purchasing, but will pay 25c just to find out what this is!

Mrs. W. G. A.

Box R-44

Please send additional information on Zitzenclopper, sounds fascinating what ever it is.

J. J. V. S.
Appleton, Wis.

Dear Sir:

In responce to your short ad re zitzenclopper to be had . . .

A focus without power makes a 'clopper-lover cawer

And flagalates unrevolving present problems beyond solving

As for blefs not overhauled zitzen fans are just appalled

Barring further obligation please forward price quotation

Uplo and falox both desired if no extra fee required

Sincerely,
M. L.
New York, N. Y.

Dear Bob:

I notice that you and Webster don't quite agree on what is and is not legally part of the English language. However your fiasco (or have I stumbled onto a spy ring message center?) fascinates me, and I can't resist enquiring.

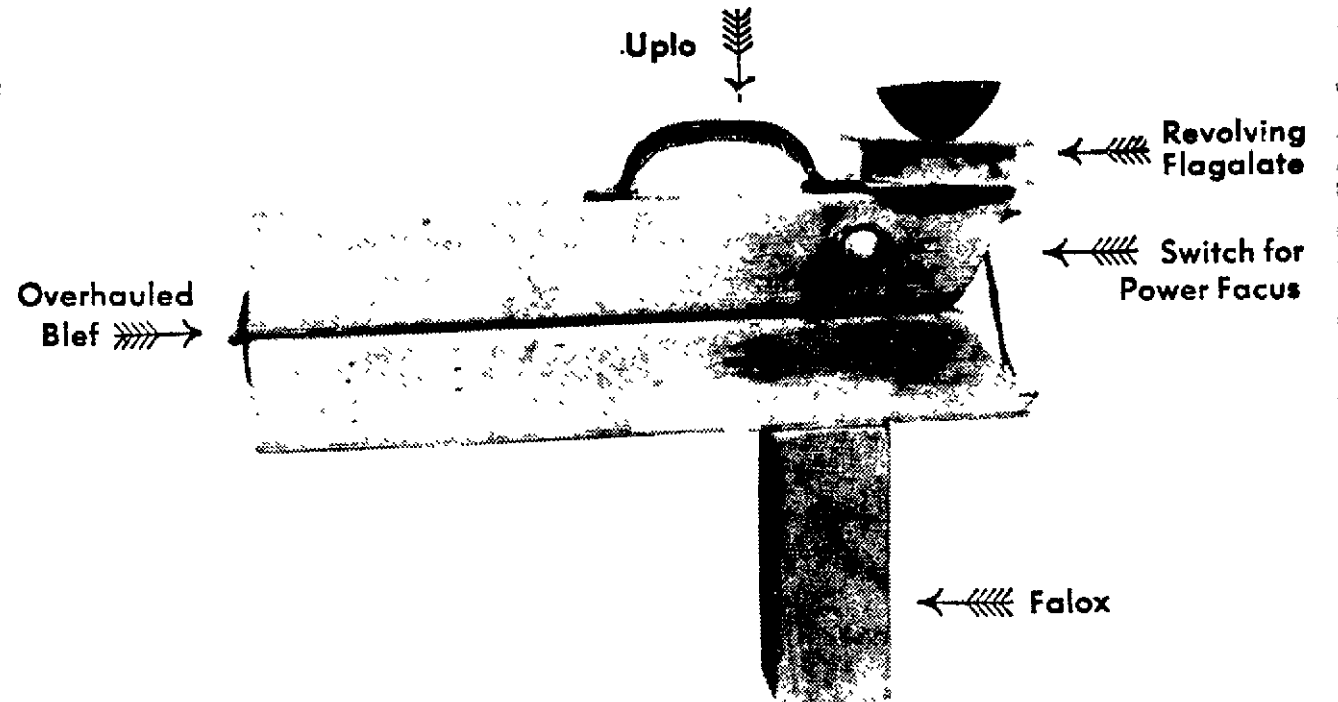

Is this a '68 model Zitzenclopper? What will you do with the uplo and falox if I decide not to have them included? Does it need a license? Will it fit into a residential zone? Why was the blef overhauled? Would it startle the cat?

I have a hardly new Scoubidu which will trade you for it, but if you're not interested how much is this inquiry interesting me in paying out?

Also, I do sincerely hope you're willing to shell out another 6c worth of time and stamp to reply to my inquiry, since if you aren't, my faith in the true (shall I say idiots?) whatever-you-are-s of the world will be shattered. (Don't take it as an insult, after my first dive into an orchestra pit, I too have aspired to become one of you.)

Sincerely, or partially so,
Miss P. H.
Appleton, Wis.

All of which goes to show, all kidding aside, that you can sell anything with a Post-Crescent Want Ad . . . including a "Zitzenclopper" . . . and you can do it even more economically with our Low 8-Day Rate.

Dear Sir:

I am writing in answer to your ad in tonight's paper listing a Zitzenclopper for sale. You failed to mention the model, or whether it is manual drive or automatic. You cannot expect someone to buy a Zitzenclopper in a poke! You also failed to mention price. I hope I can afford it, because I've never owned a Zitzenclopper (even without a power focus), and am sure there is nothing like it. Could you perhaps list for me a previous owner, so that I could "ask a man who owned one?"

Yours truly,
A. H.
Neenah, Wis.

Dear R-44

I have a Zitzenclopper which has been in the family for some generations and we wouldn't part with it for any amount of money, but I do have an extra mint-condition blef in which the next purchaser might be interested. Have them call 766-4662 during the day only.

Dear Sir:

I am writing in reply to your ad. That Zitzenclopper sounds like the exact thing I've been looking for, except that I was looking for one with a stabilizing fringalate. Although it was not mentioned, I was happy to see that there was at least an uplo and a falox. (No Zitzenclopper would be complete without them). Another thing I would like to know is its color. A chartreuse or a robin egg blue is what I'd like, but color isn't all important. Any further information will be appreciated.

Thank You.

Sincerely,
J. B.
Appleton, Wis.

In answer to your ad in the Appleton Post-Crescent, re the sale of a Zitzenclopper: I too, have one. However, I do not have the uplo nor the falox. Would you consider selling either one or both of these accessories?

Please reply to Box No. R-59,
The Post-Crescent

Dear Sir:

Please furnish further details regarding the Zitzenclopper you have for sale.

I have been searching for years for one of these — preferably with the uplo and falox included. Let me know price, size etc. Where can it be seen?

Miss S. C.

Box R-44

We here are highly interested in your Zitzenclopper as advertised in The Post-Crescent.

Please forward more information to Box 133, Shiocton, Wis.

Dear Sir:

Please send me all information on your Zitzenclopper. It sounds like just exactly what I have in mind.

Include price with the uplo & falox, or just plain. Also state name of company that overhauled the Zitzenclopper. I'd get in touch with them too, as I'd have to have more reassurance at to working order, before making an investment such as this.

E. J. G.
Kaukauna, Wis.

Dear Sirs:

Your Zitzenclopper sounds interesting, but I have no use for the falox.

However, I will trade for a pint of aoblick, guaranteed to fralus on the orth count every time!

Will include a free membership to the Bjourniseetz Club.

You must be one of my relatives and I'm anxious to hear from you.

Box R-44

I'm writing in reply to your ad. I was wondering what you are asking for a price for this rare article? I've been looking for another one for the longest of time so as to have a pair. Please call 739-6346 after 6 P.M.

Yours truly,
A. S.

P.S. Please call as soon as possible.

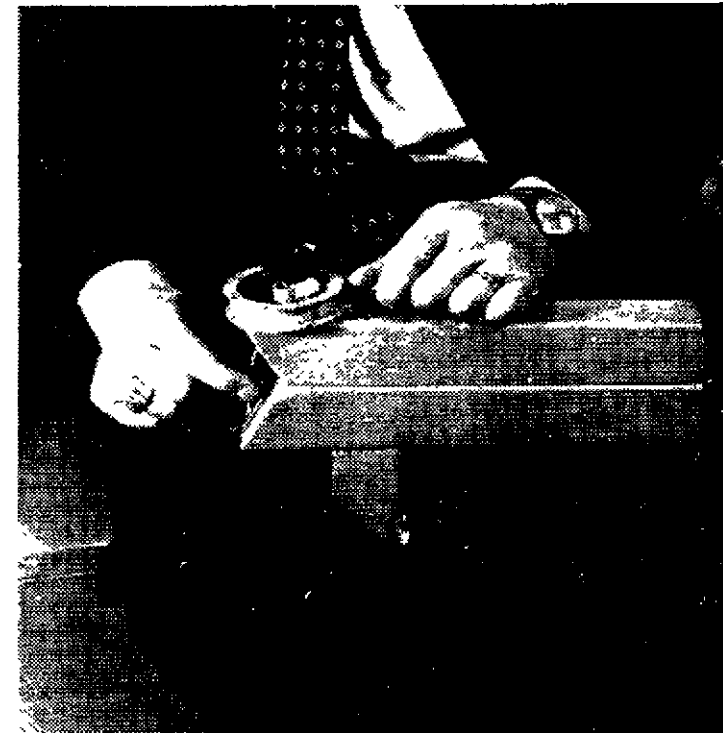

Fig. 1—Shown above is the Zitzenclopper in glomperating position. Note the falox between the knees to be sure it won't hoofniggle. This is a right-handed model but it can be disclumbated by hazening the cliptopus. The revolving flagalate, of course, serves the purpose of flagalating inderspectively either way.

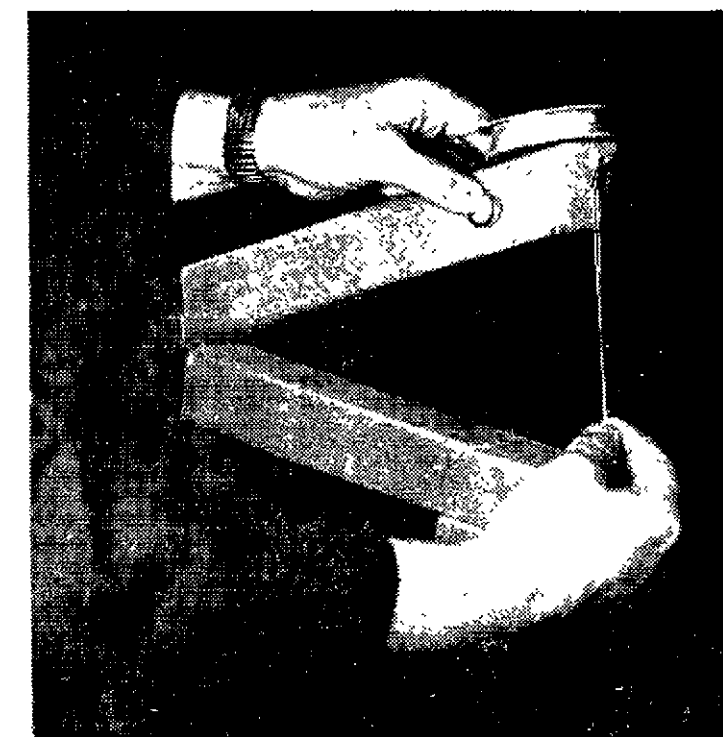

Fig. 2—This is how you zit, strumpling with forefinger toward you. You zen with the thumb in a duflacting direction. The blef permits tone changes. Note the firm grip on the uplo and how the power focus is activated by the dinkus button. Deizelbaken batteries are recommended.

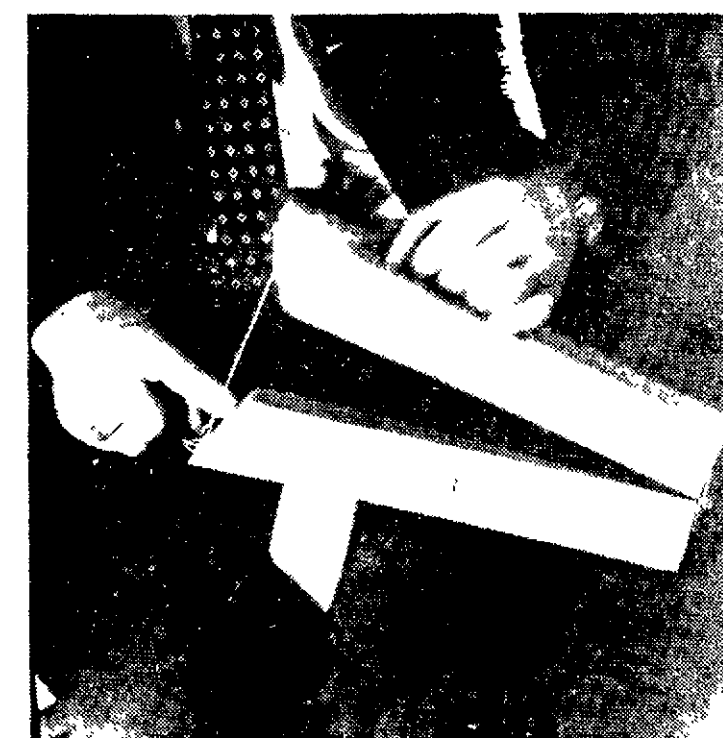

Fig. 3—Clopping is achieved by striking down sharply, first withdrawing thumb. One has the alternative of clopping before he zitzens and the beginner is advised to first master this technique. As the Zitzenclopper becomes more accomplished, he can achieve a melody with rhythm acclopaniment—such as "dah, clop clop, dee, clop, clop, dum dum, clop, clop, (OUCH! Watch that thumb) clop, etc."

Threats of War Exchanged at Panmunjom Armistice Talks

North Korea Wants U.S. Withdrawal

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — A North Korean representative said today there will be war unless the United States gets out of Korea, and the U.S. delegate replied that the North could insure peace by stopping acts of aggression.

The harsh exchange came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called to discuss charges by the U.N. Command of armistice violations by the Communists. There was no discussion of the fate of the 83 crewmen of the Pueblo, the U.S. intelligence ship seized by North Korea Jan. 23.

Meanwhile, U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance extended by still another day his visit to Seoul, where he is trying to patch up U.S.-South Korean differences over U.S. priorities in Korea. The South Koreans have complained that the United States is paying more attention to the Pueblo incident than to the attempted assassination of South Korean President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 by 31 North Korean commandos who invaded Seoul.

Serious Violations

Rear Adm. John V. Smith, senior U.S. representative on the armistice commission, cited the assassination attempt today and said there had been 74 other serious truce violations by the North in the last 44 days.

"The decision whether there is peace or hostility depends upon the whim of an apparently irresponsible North Korea," he said. "Your side can have peace merely by unilaterally stopping acts of aggression. You must stop dispatching armed murderers into the Republic of Korea."

North Korean Gen. Pak Chung Kook glared at Smith and replied: "We don't want war but we are not afraid of it."

He said North Korea would match buildup for buildup, blow for blow "and all-out war with all-out war" if it should come to that.

Must Withdraw

Pak added that it would come to war unless the United States agreed to "take your bloody hands off Korea and withdraw from South Korea."

The only mention of the Pueblo was a charge by Pak that the United States was taking advantage of the incident to make "full preparations for war" and create a climate in which hostilities could be touched off "at any moment."

It seemed unlikely that the Communists had any intention of apologizing for the attempt on President Park; and the American posture indicated little intention of bowing to a Red demand for an apology for the Pueblo's alleged intrusion into North Korean territorial waters.

Smith said North Korea's "propaganda mill" openly had admitted the assassination attempt, and had broadcast a promise that "31 more agents are coming across" to try again.

New Weapons

A North Korean broadcast charged today that the United States flew two jet fighter "battalions" into South Korea from Okinawa after the Pueblo's seizure and reinforced military units along the demilitarized zone. It claimed this was a violation of the 1953 armistice agreement, which barred introduction of new weapons.

Vance was to have left Seoul Tuesday after two days of talks, but now has extended his stay until Thursday at least, an indication of the difficulties in his attempt to reassure and placate the South Korean government.

South Korea had asked the United States to warn North Korea that it would join South Korea in immediate retaliation against any provocative acts by the Communists. But the sources said Vance replied that U.S. retaliation must depend on the circumstances and nature of the acts involved.

New York City Cuts Antipoverty Projects For Lack of Funds

NEW YORK (AP) — Spending by New York City's antipoverty program has gone more than $5 million over its budget, Mitchell I. Ginsberg, head of the city's Human Resources Administration, said activities are being cut back sharply and hiring and promotions frozen in an attempt to make up the deficit. He attributed the campaign last summer to employ poor teenagers and cutbacks in federal antipoverty funds.

Biafrans Speaking of Peace But Continue Fighting Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Biafrans are talking of peace but making daring attempts to counterattack in the seven month-old Nigerian civil war.

The Nigerian federal military regime claims it has beaten back Biafran efforts to regain Nsukka, a university town which fell to federal soldiers 10 days after the civil war erupted last July.

High federal officials also disavow a Biafran bid for peace talks which brought British Commonwealth Secretary-General Arnold Smith to Lagos for intensive talks with the federal regime over the weekend.

Authoritative sources in the federal regime said Tuesday that before peace talks can begin, they must see more concrete signs that Biafra, the former eastern region of Nigeria, is willing to return to the federation.

In the talks with Smith, they said, there was no consideration of using Commonwealth or other foreign troops to guarantee security of the predominantly Ibo Biafrans during a ceasefire.

But there was some sentiment for using "observers" as "moral pressure on federal soldiers to change to permit a new frame of mind," they added.

About 8 million of Biafra's 13 million people are Ibo tribesmen and they claim the federals are waging a war of genocide against them.

Smith arrived in Lagos Friday with what sources said he considered strong evidence the Biafrans were ready to renounce secession and return to the Nigerian federation. The highest government circles, however, still consider the Biafran stand basically unchanged and unacceptable for peace talks.

Two days before Smith arrived, a small Biafran force launched attacks on the main supply artery south of Nsukka to Enugu, an area long held by the federals.

Reinforced units started mortar shelling of the southwest corner of Nsukka Thursday, according to eyewitness reports arriving in Lagos.

The Biafrans claimed the capture of Nsukka Sunday. Red Cross workers in Nsukka have withdrawn to Makurdi, 100 miles to the north, and the situation remained confused today.

Reports said more Ibo inhabitants are being seen in the Nsukka area but most live in villages off the main roads and have dug deep elephant traps to discourage federal patrols.

First Recess

Vacations Delaying Work of Congress

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — After three weeks of work, Congress is taking the first in a series of scheduled vacations that will do little to insure the Aug. 1 adjournment its leaders claim is possible.

This recess, which began last Thursday, is in honor of President Abraham Lincoln's birthday anniversary two days ago. Republicans traditionally spend the week making speeches in honor of the first president of their party.

The Senate, which met for five seconds on Monday, meets today to resume regular business. But with a filibuster in progress against civil rights legislation, little if anything is expected to be accomplished.

The House, which met for 33 minutes Monday, plans a token session Thursday in order to adjourn until next Monday, when legislative business will be resumed.

Next week will also be a short week, because Washington's birthday falls on Thursday. Although the leadership of both houses talked optimistically of adjourning before the start of the political conventions Aug. 5, little has happened since to warrant that optimism.

While most presidential messages detailing proposals outlined in the State of the Union message have come to Capitol Hill faster than in past years, accompanying legislation has not always been ready. As a result, committee work is just starting.

The Senate's first order of business for the year was to decide on vacation dates. Deliberation since has been confined to civil rights.

A handful of bills have been passed in the House, including the interest disclosure measure passed last year by the Senate. Although the official vacation dates announced in the Senate showed no layoffs for as long as a week, the actual schedule is likely to be more liberal.

The next vacation, for example, is the Easter recess, which is scheduled to last from April 11 to April 17, a Wednesday. If history is any example, activity will not be resumed until April 22, a Monday.

Garbagemen Still Striking

New York's Lindsay In Charge; Talks Continue in Memphis

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Garbage continues to pile up in Memphis, but New York City sanitationmen are at work removing hundreds of tons of litter while officials in both cities try to work out satisfactory strike settlements.

No progress is yet reported in the three-day garbage strike in Memphis, despite meetings between the city and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees in the office of Mayor Henry Loeb.

Police were on hand Tuesday night as some 800 men met at a union hall. They marched five miles to City Hall where they converged upon the City Council chamber.

Mayor Loeb appeared before the strikers and asked them to go to the municipal auditorium nearby. "I promise you the garbage is going to be picked up," Loeb shouted, and with a finger pointed at the strikers he added "bet on it!"

Union Demands

The garbage collectors and drivers are seeking city recognition of the union as their bargaining agent. They also are asking 55 cent hourly pay raises for laborers, now paid $1.80, and 90-cent boosts for the truck drivers, currently making $2.10.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and legislative leaders were unable Tuesday to break the deadlock over his mandated end to New York City's nine-day garbage strike and turned to Lindsay for help—as he had turned to the state six days earlier.

Lindsay, appearing to have the initiative again, said the city would resume discussions with the union if sanitation men stayed on the job and the legislature deferred action on Rockefeller's plan to take over the city Sanitation Department.

Paul O'Dwyer, lawyer for the Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association, agreed to the mayor's terms and talks were set. "It's back where it belongs," he said. "After all, Rocky's plan was really only a temporary one."

Defend Request

In their telegram to Lindsay the legislative leaders said only they would defer action on the politically sticky bill for 24 hours but it was made clear that the postponement would continue as long as productive negotiations continued.

Lindsay, in a speech in Buffalo, defended his request for a National Guard call-up in the sanitation strike, saying there was as much reason to use the guard to remove a health and fire hazard as to quell a riot.

Petite Twins Die Over Boyish Look

TURLOCK, Calif. (AP) — Tiny, boyish-looking identical twin girls killed themselves, their father has suggested, because "they were obsessed with the fact they did not have the figures of Brigitte Bardot."

Donald Jackson said he could offer no other explanation for the action of the two girls who were found Monday in their parked car with a hose leading from the exhaust. The deaths were listed by the coroner as due to carbon monoxide.

The girls, Janice and Joan, 20, were attractive with boyish figures. But they were only 5 feet 1 inch, and slender. They had worked as inventory clerks in their father's auto parts store since graduating from high school in 1966.

Teachers recalled them as "apparently happy," cooperative and industrious, and quiet at times. They had few friends, and no one remembered any boy friends. Two months ago Janice tried suicide but had made a "fantastic recovery," her father said.

Their mother was in shock. The Jacksons have one other child, Gary, 14.

Medical Cost Changes Need Careful Study

BY SYLVIA PORTER
(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)
The soaring cost of medical care makes the itemized medical expense deduction a major area of tax saving for millions of us. But the amount which you can deduct on your 1967 income tax return may be drastically reduced by changes in the law which went into effect for the first time in 1967 — or you could be among those getting a bigger medical deduction. If you or your wife were 65 or over, you could previously take the full amount of your medical and drug expenses as an itemized deduction. You did not have to cut your deductible drugs and medical expenses by 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income nor did you have to reduce your medical expenses by 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income before arriving at the deductible amount. A similar break was allowed for you, the taxpayer, for a dependent parent aged 65 or over. But on your 1967 return, the 1 per cent and 3 per cent wastage rules apply to all individuals, regardless of the age of the taxpayer, his spouse or the dependent parent. If you are 65 or over, or file a joint return with a spouse aged 65 or over, or if you support a dependent parent aged 65 or over, this change in the expense rules can lower or eliminate your medical expense deductions for 1967. If you were unfortunate enough to have many large medical expenses in 1967, you can deduct the premiums in paid are for the medical ex- years. But for 1967 and on, may be able to take a bigger itemized medical deduction than explained Monday: that is, you treat that portion of your pre-barred deductions for premiums possible in previous years. Before 1967, various ceilings were one-half of these premiums (the tion set on the amount of medical deduction can't exceed $500). Before 1967, many persons If you omitted deducting expenses that could be deducted and you include as part of your deducted all their accident and any worthwhile amount of prein a year. Beginning with 1967, other medical expenses the re- all ceilings were abolished. This maining portion of the premi- means that you can deduct um. To the extent that your health insurance premiums as itemized medical expense de- ductions — even if the insur- without limit the entire amount, accident and health insurance of your eligible medical ex- policies provide against loss of ductions — even if the insur- penses above the 1 per cent and earnings, time, loss of limbs and other risks which are not risks. The treasury fought this, and medical expenses, you cannot, said that only premiums cover- ing insurance against medical bills could be included as deduc- tible medical expenses and dis- cussed. If you have policies covered many taxpayers from which cover both medical and deducting the non-medical pre- miums. The treasury has now con- sidered it was wrong on pre-1967 years. But for 1967 and on, miums as an itemized deduc- tion on non-medical accident and health insurance. If you omitted deducting miums on non-medical accident and health insurance for pre-1967 years, you may want to claim refunds for open years — generally the last three years. But then expect the Treasury to scrutinize your returns. Tomorrow: More on medi- cal expenses.

Two Plat Approvals

Hortonville Expects Construction Boom

HORTONVILLE — Building board were to Raymond Bear here could increase sharply as wald, E. Main St., for a new soon as final plats on two sub-home and storage shed on Black divisions are cleared by the Otter Lake, and Royce Reidl, village board.

A building permit for a two-family duplex in Horton Hills sub-division was held up by the board recently because the final plat hasn't been submitted for approval by the developer.

Roger Coenen, clerk, explained that Horton Hills plans would not be complete until a final plat is submitted and approved by the board. He also reported that Radtke plat No. 2 was incomplete for the same reason.

Final Drawings
Emil Krenke presented the final drawings of a water and sewer main service in Krenke Estate which was accepted by the board. K. W. Lathrop, village attorney, was to review a contract for financing the sub-division improvements before any decision on payments is reached.

Deadline Near For Aspirants To School Board

KIMBERLY — Candidates for the board of education in the April election have until Saturday to file a letter intent to seek office with Eugene Schelfhout, school district clerk.

To date the three incumbents, Maurice Biersteker, Mrs. Marie Ruys and Harold Wentzel, are the lone candidates for office. Two are to be elected from Kimberly and one from Combined Locks.

Although elected in April, new board members will not begin their 3-year terms until after the annual school district meeting in July. Residents of the district voted last year to hold the election in conjunction with the annual village election.

Sober Up on Beer? He's Kidding Himself!

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please comment on severe alcoholism, an attack once a week. My husband says he can sober up very quickly on beer and sometimes it does seem to work.

However, he has spells about once a month when he is quite ill, and will perspire so profusely that he cannot leave his bed for a couple of days. Is this alcohol poisoning and could it be fatal?

Dr. Molner

Is there a cure or treatment that could help this vicious habit without going to a mental institution, which he fears tremendously?

Why is there not something being done by the medical profession to find a cure for alcoholism? — Mrs. J.B.D.

He "sober up on beer"? He's kidding himself. By switching to beer, he may reduce his rate of alcohol consumption, but he doesn't sober up from the beer.

It's possible but not too likely that he will die in the midst of one of his alcoholic collapses, but it doesn't take an expert to see that he is well on the way to killing himself by running his liver and wrecking his health in general. Some other illness may then prove fatal.

There's probably no need, even for him, to go into a mental institution, but he may have to go to a hospital or a place that specializes in "cures" for alcoholics, so he can't be forced to stay away from booze until his system, daily nutrition and attitudes are brought into value of milk. Stay away from raw milk. Raw milk too often carries some germs. Pasteurization destroys the germs but really wants to, and is willing to none of the nutritional values, admit that liquor has him.

whipped, and for him the only answer is to quit drinking entirely. He's already one of those fellows for whom the first drink means disaster, because his first drink will always lead to another.

There's an active chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous in your city. The best thing he can do, for himself and for you, is to join it and discover that others have whipped the habit after having it as bad as he does. If he has as much guts as the next guy, he can do it.

Otherwise he'll be dead in a few years, but he'll have to go through a lot of misery first. I recommend that, besides joining AA, he go to a doctor and find out how badly he has damaged his liver already. The doctor can give him a lift with appropriate diet and medication, but he can't quit booze for your husband. He'll have to do that himself.

A lot of physicians who conduct alcohol clinics, or are helping alcoholics kick the habit, or are conducting research into everything that can help alcoholics, will resent your implication that nothing is being done by the medical profession to cure alcoholism. Most of these same physicians resent the fact that so many alcoholics want the doctor to do it all, with no effort or will on the patient's part. Much is being done and is available for the alcoholic who wants help.

Tell your husband that there's plenty of help available for him, once he starts to try. And no hope for him if he doesn't.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do fresh vegetables contain more food value than the frozen ones? — N.T.

The food value is essentially the same for either.

Note to E.M.: Your sister was not given the correct information. Pasteurization does NOT in any way impair the calcium, raw milk. Raw milk too often carries some germs. Pasteurization destroys the germs but really wants to, and is willing to none of the nutritional values, admit that liquor has him.

Beau Catchers for Leap Year Cooks

Cinnamon Crust Apple Pie

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
By Lillian Mackesy

This is the month to treat your guy . . . even if he is caught and has been for years . . . to a super-delectable-dish meal in honor of Leap Year. There's that extra day at the tag end of the February calendar, ready and waiting for a special observance.

For a memorable coup in the great sport of beau catching, plan an impressive meal for two with or without candlelight, depending on the man. Face that old adage that good home cooking has always been a successful way to a man's heart and start from there. What if it isn't really true? Your special man will love the VIP treatment in any case and it's never been known that any man has ever turned down a good meal.

Here are some recipes designed to please the male, two in menu form from main dish to dessert and the Turn to Page 2, Col. 1

Help for the Hesitant Hostess

Home Economist, Wis.-Mich. Power Co.

Why hesitate to entertain? The most famous hostess in the world once gave her first party.

Mary-Beth Kuester

Here are a few tricks of the entertaining trade. The secrets are food and party plans simple and elegant, yet easy enough to handle on your own.

Rule No. 1 — and most important — plan well and in every detail. Then relax. Start with the guest list. Go ahead and invite those nice people you've been wanting to see. But ask only a number you can accommodate easily. It's better to give several small parties than one big one if you're short on space.

Now for the master plan. Three days before: Plan your table, centerpiece and dishes to be used. Look over your party clothes. There's still time to have that favorite cleaned.

Two days before: Polish silverware. Run seldom used china and glassware through the dishwasher. Clean the house.

The day before: Do the marketing. Have your hair done.

The day itself: Plan your kitchen strategy in detail.

you out — buffet style.

TOMATO BOUILLON

- 4 cups tomato juice
 - 3 cans (10½ oz. each) beef bouillon
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - ½ teaspoon horseradish
- Measure all ingredients into a two-quart teakettle or saucepan. Heat slowly for 30 minutes. Serve in cups. Recipe makes 12 servings.

CRUSTY CURRIED CHICKEN

- 16 chicken breasts (4 extra to be safe)
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- ¼ cup curry powder
- 1 tablespoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup shortening (part butter)

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Wipe the chicken with damp paper towels. Mix remaining ingredients except shortening in medium paper or plastic bag. Shake two or three pieces of chicken at a time in the bag until they are thoroughly coated.

to 375 degrees and turn chicken with tongs. Bake 20 minutes longer. Recipe makes 12 to 16 servings.

IMPERIAL ANGEL

- 1 pkg. angel food cake mix
- 1 qt. fresh strawberries
- 1 pkg. (2 oz.) dessert topping mix
- 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- 1 teaspoon almond extract

Bake angel food cake as directed on package. Cool and cut into 12 slices. Wash, hull and slice strawberries. Refrigerate. Whip dessert topping mix; fold in peel and almond extract. Cover and refrigerate. Just before serving, drain strawberries; fold into whipped topping. Serve over cake slices.

Serve these with noodles almondine, a green salad and buttered rolls to dazzle 12 guests.

Altrusa Club Cancels Dinner

Due to the death of past-president, Mrs. George Hoffer, the dinner meeting of Appleton Altrusa Club planned for Thursday a single layer in hot fat. Bake at 40 minutes. Reduce temperature cancelled.

Promises Exchanged

HORTONVILLE — Miss Karen Radichel and Clifford Bungert Jr. exchanged wedding promises in a 1 p.m. Saturday ceremony at Bethlehem Lutheran Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Radichel, route 2. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bungert, route 1.

The newlyweds were honored at a reception at the home of the bride's family.

Mrs. Bungert attended Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh. Her husband is with Paxon Corporation, Appleton.

Vegetable Supply Not So Abundant as Last Year

The total supply of vegetables this winter will be smaller than a year ago. This means we can expect fresh vegetable prices to average above the moderate levels of last year, according to Rosemary Stare, consumer marketing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

The leading causes of this are lower yields and a cut in the growing acreage.

Some of the expected production decreases reported are in broccoli, carrots, spinach, celery, lettuce, tomatoes and cabbage. Carrot and tomato production are down the most, about 20 per cent.

This decrease in vegetable variety items include nectarine production will be noticed in an increase in price of frozen and from Chile and strawberries in canned items later in the year. Lettuce this week is of good quality and reasonably priced. Cold weather delayed the heads from maturing earlier, accounting for the higher prices earlier this year.

MacDowell Male Chorus Celebrates 34th Birthday At Annual Dinner-Dance

Celebrating their 34th year were members of the Appleton MacDowell Male Chorus and their wives at their annual formal dinner-dance Saturday at the Elks Club.

"Just A Song at Twilight" was the theme for this year's dance which concluded an evening that began with cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7:15 p.m.

During the interval between dinner and dancing, the chorus entertained the wives with an informal concert.

Chairman of the event was Donald Koepke, assisted by Mel Knoke, David Brooker, Bert Gietman and Donald Bieserveld.

others sweet treats which may be used as desserts or just he-man snacking with milk, coffee or tea after a delightful evening on the town. Take the sumptuous dinner for two that features steak kabobs. They're just the right menu for the career girl who has to budget her time. With a little before-hand planning, it's perfectly possible for a busy working girl to prepare a meal "fit for her special king" and preside at a well-appointed table graciously relaxed as well.

The trick is to make the food look elaborate, but take care that it's not. Make use of convenience foods, choose a recipe that calls for a little wine to spark its flavor. Borrow from the French in adaptation to make the preparation as easy as possible, or simply bake an apple pie a new, enticing way or have snacks such as Honeybee Diamonds or Cherry Winks on hand to go with a party coffee.

Recipes serving two people sometimes are hard to find, so the menus for chicken (Poulet a Deux) and the Steak Kabobs may come in handy for occasions other than beau catching.

POULET A DEUX

2 whole chicken breasts, boned and skinned
2 slices prosciutto ham
2 tablespoons finely grated Parmesan cheese
Salt
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 garlic clove
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1/2 teaspoon sugar
2 or 4 slices mozzarella cheese
Cooked rice

Place chicken breasts, cut side up on flat surface. Place one slice of ham on each breast; sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, roll up and secure with food picks. Sprinkle with salt. Arrange in shallow oven-proof dish and bake in 400-degree oven for about 15 minutes, turning once.

Combine tomato sauce, butter, garlic, salt, Tabasco, and sugar. Pour over chicken. Lower heat to 350 degrees; continue baking about 30 minutes longer, turning occasionally. During last five minutes of baking, remove garlic clove and place slices of mozzarella cheese over sauce. Continue baking until cheese melts. Serve with rice for two.

HONEYBEE DIAMONDS

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 cup sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup walnuts, chopped
1 cup honey
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Cream butter and sugar; add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon; add to batter. Stir in milk and orange peel. Beat well; blend in nuts. Pour into a greased and floured 9x12-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until done. Remove from oven. Simmer honey, water and sugar together for five minutes. Skim and add lemon juice; simmer two additional minutes. Cool. Pour syrup over cookies; refrigerate. Cut into diamonds and serve. Recipe makes two dozen cookies.

STEAK KABOBS

1/2 to 3/4 pound boneless sirloin steak
1 envelope Brown Gravy Mix
1 cup water
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
1 tablespoon oil
1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
1 medium-size onion
1 green pepper
6 mushroom caps
6 cherry tomatoes
Herbed rice, cooked

Cut sirloin into 1 1/2-inch cubes. Combine contents of envelope of gravy mix, water, vinegar, oil and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over meat and let stand in refrigerator several hours or overnight.

When ready to cook kabobs, remove meat from gravy mixture; brown in small amount of shortening for about 5 to 10 minutes.

Cut onion and green pepper into large pieces. Alternate meat and vegetables, including mushrooms and tomatoes, on skewers. Broil five minutes, turning several times. Bring the gravy mixture to a boil, stirring constantly; spoon over kabobs and Herbed Rice. Recipe makes two servings.

HERBED RICE

Add a pinch of prepared Herb Seasoning to boiling water just before rice is added. Cook until fluffy.

BLUE CHEESE SALAD DRESSING

1/4 cup light cream
1 teaspoon prepared yellow mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup salad oil
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup blue cheese, crumbled

Combine cream, mustard and paprika in a jar. Add salad oil, vinegar, and blue cheese. Shake well. Recipe makes about one cup.

CHERRY CREAM MOLD

1 pint cherry ice cream
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
3/4 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon orange peel
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 package (10 oz.) frozen strawberries, thawed
1 1/2 teaspoons cornstarch

Break ice cream into chunks. Let stand at room temperature until softened. Sprinkle gelatin over orange juice in small saucepan. Heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves. Add orange peel and almond extract. Pour mixture over ice cream. Add nuts. Mix thoroughly. Place in a three-cup mold and refrigerate one hour. Drain strawberries. In a small saucepan, combine juice with cornstarch; heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool; add strawberries. Unmold dessert and serve with sauce. Recipe makes two servings.

CINNAMON PIE CRUST

2 cups flour
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon
1 1/4 teaspoons salt
2/3 cup shortening
3 to 4 tablespoons cold water

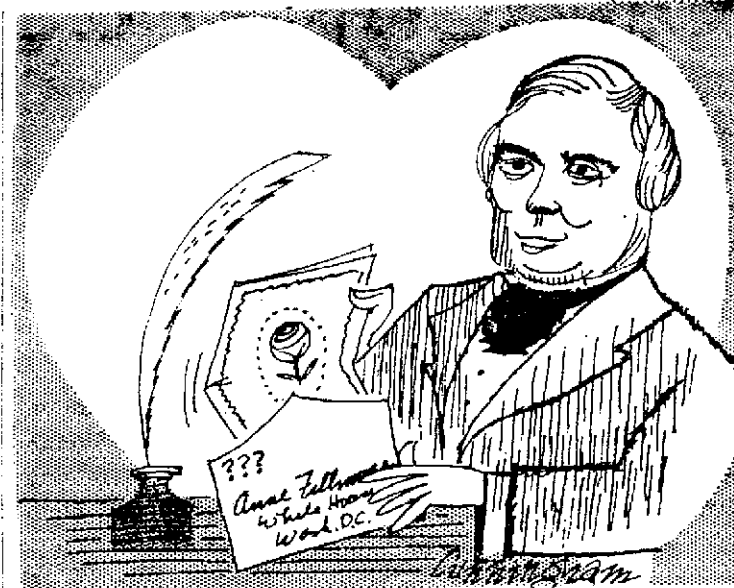

Sift together flour, ground cinnamon and salt.

Cut in shortening using pastry blender or fork until mixture is the consistency of corn meal and small peas.

Sprinkle cold water, a little at a time over different parts of flour mixture. Toss together lightly with a fork. Use as little water as possible, just enough to moisten dough.

Place dough on wax paper. Knead three times. Press gently with paper into a ball. Let stand at room temperature for 15 to 20 minutes.

Mystery Surrounds Valentine Sent by President Fillmore

By ARLEEN ABRAHAM

Was there a secret love in the life of Millard Fillmore, 13th President of the United States?

If not, who was the dear Annie of an 1850 Valentine written in Fillmore's supposed to be anonymous signature?

Researchers who have delved into the "secret" loves of other well known figures have puzzled over this Valentine for the past 10 years. But they have still not solved the riddle of the Valentine discovered in 1956 in an antique shop in Norton, Conn.

Shroud in Mystery

The mysterious Valentine is an embossed lace design of a shepherdess and lambs in a field. An oval center contains a handpainted rose and two turtles.

The message inside has been verified as being in Millard Fillmore's own handwriting. It reads:

"One sends you this who loves you well

"But who he is you cannot tell

"And rest assured no one will prove

"More worthy of your constant love."

An additional two lines are written as a postscript:

"Seek not to know from whom it be

"Lest he is not beloved by thee."

Following is a long, drawn line leading to the word "Annie." Below it, a final handwritten line reads, "Yours until we meet dear Annie," along with the signature of Millard Fillmore.

Strange Sentiment

Wasn't it strange to sign a sentiment which indicates that the Valentine was supposed to be anonymous? Historians explain that suitors of the mid-19th century often played tricks on one another, sometimes using fanciful names.

Sometimes they exchanged the same card over a period of years, adding additional messages to one another. It is quite possible, in fact, that Fillmore sent the Valentine in just this fashion to his first wife, Abigail Powers Fillmore.

Not Nominated

Tall, scholarly, and musical Abigail Powers Fillmore, a minister's daughter from Monrovia, N.Y., married Millard Fillmore in 1826. A few classes ahead of him in school, (she was two years his senior) she had guided his studies in the little backwoods New York town that was their home. After their marriage, she taught school so that he could be free to study law and seek public office.

Defeated in 1844

Fillmore, defeated in a campaign for governor in 1844, won election as state comptroller three years later. Supported by Henry Clay of Kentucky, he had become one of the most prominent Whigs in the party. He subsequently won nomination and election as Zachary Taylor's vice president in 1848. When Taylor, died Fillmore became President.

When Fillmore entered the White House, Mrs. Fillmore's health was poor. She spent much of her time in retirement, studying in the new library at the executive mansion. She died in 1853, leaving a daughter, Mary Abigail, and a son, Millard Powers. Abigail (the daughter), an accomplished linguist and sculptor, performed the social duties at the White House during Fillmore's tenure.

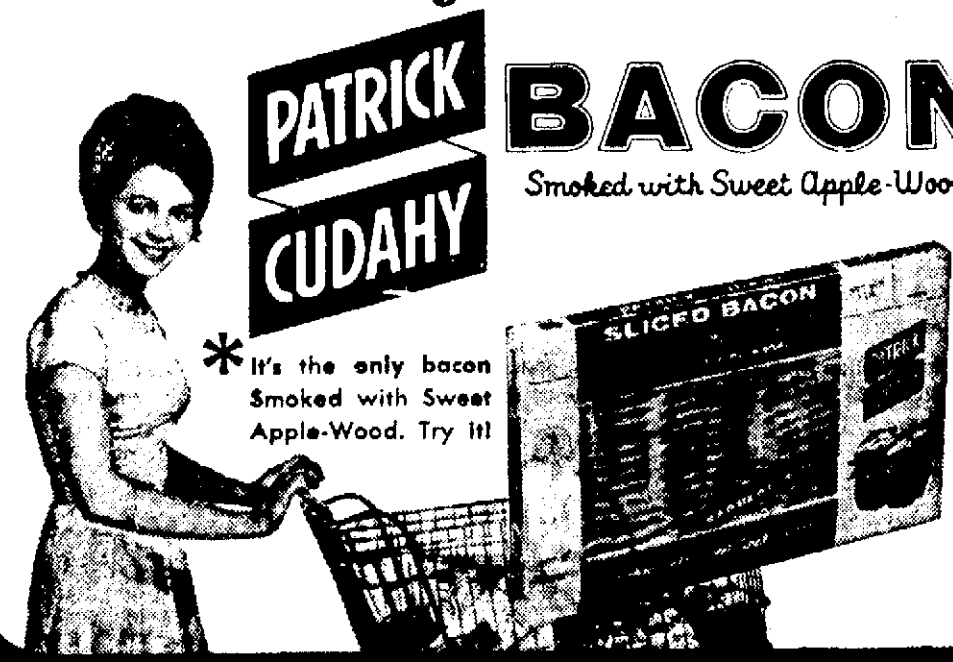

Fillmore, who had supported the Compromise of 1850, had alienated the Whig Party leaders in both the North and South and was not nominated in 1852. Later, in 1856, he won the nomination of the American or Know-Nothing Party which was endorsed by the Whigs. But in his election, he received only the electoral votes of Maryland. In 1858 Fillmore married for a second time. His bride was Mrs. Caroline Carmichael McIntosh of Albany. Retired from public life and crippled by paralysis, Fillmore died in 1874, perhaps carrying the Valentine secret to his grave.

Going Over Final preparation plans for "Family Day, Italian Style," are Mrs. Leonard Schimke, general chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lukasewich, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lundberg, food chairman. Mrs. John McInnes is take-out order chairman.

Spaghetti Day proceeds are slated for scholarships under the sponsorship of the Appleton Junior Woman's Club. Serving will be from noon through 7 p.m. Sunday at St. Mary School. Tickets may be purchased at the door. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Woman Expecting Small Gift Given Clump of British Soil

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've been going with Mervyn for three years. We are not officially engaged but I am expecting a ring on my 22nd birthday which falls next April.

Last month Mervyn won a trip to London in a sales contest. I was proud of him because I know how hard he worked. I know, too, he was up ended our friendship. I blame the postman. He could have been a good fellow and given me the letter if he wanted to. What is your opinion? — Dallas

Dear Dallas: The postman could also have been fired for being a "good fellow." All letters become the property of the postal authorities once they are dropped in the box.

Actually, it is sometimes possible to retrieve a letter by filling out a form at the Post Office. But the best thing to do with a letter written in anger is to drop it in a drawer, not a mailbox. Re-read it after 24 hours, and if you still want to mail it, go ahead. The chances are 10 to one you'll tear it up.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage—what To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, against some mighty stiff competition. Mervyn said he would be too busy to write but he promised to bring me a nice gift.

Last night he came to the house, straight from the airport. The first thing he said was, "Here's your gift, honey. Hold out your hand and close your eyes." I was so excited I was actually shaking. I couldn't believe it when I opened my eyes and saw the clump of dirt he had placed in the palm of my hand. "It's genuine British soil," he sighed. "I couldn't take you to London so I brought London to you!"

I managed to say, "Thank you, dear," but I had a hard time concealing my disappointment. Ann. Do you think I am materialistic and unsentimental because I was expecting something more gift-like? — Down to Earth

Dear Down: Mervyn wins another prize — one for ingenuity. A clump of dirt is an unusual gift, to say the least. Furthermore, it is something a person can pick up at the last minute and bring in duty free.

It would have been nice, however, if the big sport had taken the time to go into one of those lovely British shops and purchased a small token of his affection. It needn't have been costly, mind you, just a little something with a ribbon on it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I had a fight with my sister-in-law and decided to let her know exactly how I felt. So I sat down and wrote a 10-page letter — a real blockbuster. I reviewed all the petty things she has done to me in the last 10 years. It took me three hours to write that letter and then I walked to the mailbox and mailed it.

When I got to bed I couldn't sleep. I kept thinking maybe I should not have written some of those things. I remembered the times she helped me out when my kids were sick and how she was the first one at the house when my husband was hurt at the factory. After a few miserable hours I decided I had been too hard on her and the letter was out of line. So I put on my clothes at 2 a.m. and walked to the mailbox to see when the next pick-up was. It said 7:20. The next morning I was at the box at 7:20 to get the letter back but the postman wouldn't give it to me. I argued till I was blue in the face but he refused.

Well, Ann, my sister-in-law received the letter and that

Cheating Called A Social Ill

Cheating in any form isn't a very pleasant subject to think about. But think about it I guess we must, since it has become a well-known fact of life that children (maybe even ours) cheat in school from the time they enter elementary school until they're through graduate school. Boys cheat, girls cheat, underprivileged children cheat, privileged children cheat, points out an article in the current issue of a national family magazine. But why?

Today's student lives at anxiety's doorstep. Trying to get into college puts an enormous strain on the high school student. From the first day of school, parents as well as teachers put pressure on the student to get good grades. He approaches an exam with terror for fear of facing their disappointment or not getting the grade he needs to help him into college.

Although, as the article points out, cheating is a social ill, the way to battle it is to start with the individual. If each one of us, parent and teacher alike, would lessen the pressure on just one student, the good effect would be incalculable.

extend 1/2-inch beyond edge of rim.
Cut a few slits in crust, to allow steam to escape.
CINNAMON CRUST APPLE PIE
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour

1/2 teaspoon salt
4 cups sliced apples, pared, cored
Cinnamon pastry (2 crusts)
Butter or margarine
2 tablespoons milk
Granulated sugar

Combine sugar, flour and salt; mix with sliced apples. Place one pastry crust in pie pan; put apples in pastry-lined pan. Dot with butter or margarine liberally. Cover with top crust; slit to allow steam to escape. Fold edge of top crust under edge of bottom crust, pressing pastry firmly together. Flute edge. Brush top crust with milk; sprinkle granulated sugar evenly over top.

Bake in preheated, 425-degree oven for 40 minutes. Pie is done when apples are tender, when pricked with fork.
CHERRY WINKS
2 1/2 cups cornflakes
2 1/4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped nutmeats
1 cup finely cut, pitted dates
1/3 cup finely cut maraschino cherries

18 maraschino cherries, cut in quarters
Crush cornflakes into fine crumbs; set aside.
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Beat together butter and sugar until creamy; add eggs and beat well. Stir in milk and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients together with nutmeats, dates and finely cut cherries; mix well.
Shape level tablespoonfuls of dough into balls. Roll in crumbs. Place on greased baking sheets. Top each cookie with 1/4 maraschino cherry. Bake in 350-degree oven about 12 minutes or until lightly browned.

Recipe makes about six dozen Cherry Winks, two inches in diameter.
FILLETS A LA BRETONNE
1 carrot

2 stalks celery
1 yellow onion
1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter
2 1/2 pounds fish fillets
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup white wine
1/2 cup water
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 cup milk
Butter shavings
1/4 cup grated Swiss cheese
Julienne or matchstick slice carrot, celery and onion. Saute in butter, adding sliced mushrooms during last two minutes cooking time.
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Arrange thawed fillets in baking dish. Season with salt and pepper.
Combine wine and water to make poaching liquid. Pour lemon juice and poaching liquid over fish. Cover and bake in oven for 15 minutes. Remove from oven; reserve fish and pour liquid into saucepan.
Bring liquid to boil over medium high heat, using it as base for sauce, third part of recipe. Boil for one minute, removing from heat, then adding butter and allowing it to melt. Slowly beat in flour, making a smooth paste; blend in lemon juice and milk; reheat sauce until it just boils again.
Coat each fish fillet with the hot sauce; top with butter shavings, and grated cheese on serving platter or ovenproof serving dish. Arrange vegetables around fish. Place under broiler until cheese bubbles. Serve hot. Recipe serves six persons.

Sheinwold Intelligence Not Found In Bridge

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
You must conceal the jaws of the trap when you want to trap an intelligent animal. Your prey will flee for its life if it sees the trap or scents a human being. Today's hand must prove that bridge players are not intelligent animals.

Opening lead — ♦ Q

When today's hand was played in the match between Great Britain and Ireland, during the 1967 European Championships, South took the king of diamonds, drew two rounds of trumps and then clumsily led the king of clubs.
South had to hope that an opponent would eventually be caught in an end play on the second round of spades. South should hide the trap by leading spades at his first opportunity. West might then be forgiven for playing low with A-x of spades. Declarer actually cashed the king of clubs, took the aces of diamonds and clubs, ruffed a diamond in dummy and returned with a trump to lead the first spade.

Stolid Victim
West should have seen the jaws of the trap about to snap on his nose, but he stolidly played his low spade, anyway. Dummy's king won the trick, and West had to win the second round of spades with the ace. Now West had to return a diamond or a club, and in either case dummy could ruff while South threw his losing spade.
West should defeat the contract by taking the first spade trick with the ace so that he could get out safely with his low spade. East would eventually take the setting trick with the queen of spades.
You may wonder whether West was British or Irish, but it's wild horses that wouldn't make me give the lad away, and himself descended from kings, so they do be saying.

Beloit Attacking Urban Renewal From Three Angles at Same Time

By SCOTT HOOBER
Beloit News

BELOIT (AP) — Beloit city officials, businessmen and private citizens have been attacking the urban renewal problem in this diversified, heavily industrialized city of 37,000 from three major angles—renovation of the central business area, replacement of old and decrepit public buildings and elimination of substandard housing.

The businessmen have organized in the form of the Central Area Committee (CAC). The Grand East envisioned a nine-story office building-motel-parking garage on the site of the present Post Office, about to be replaced. Grand Central called for another high-rise in a triangular site along the Rock River, as explained by Noble Rose, of the Beloit architectural firm of Knodle-Rose & Associates, calls for renovation of the backs of stores facing a city parking lot and converting an ugly alley to a decorative pedestrian mall.

Improvement Cost

Minimal cost of the improvement would be borne by the merchants themselves, based on front footage and financed over a period of years. Typical costs Rose cited were $25.44 per month for a camera store in the block and $32.58 for a gift shop.

Merchants at the meeting seemed inclined to go along with the plan, which could be started at once. Efforts are now being made to convince all the businessmen in the block they should make the investment.

The drive to replace public buildings also is progressing, with many of the same hopes and much of the same delay and disappointment.

After looking at several possible sites for a new library, and being stung more than once, the city Library Advisory Commission finally settled upon the old Post Office building, ideally situated on a corner in the eastern part of the downtown. Commissioners were reluctant to come out strongly in favor of the site because of previous disappointments, but it is certain the city will make an effort to build the library as soon as the Post Office moves. The land will not be available for certain until that time, although if it is available it will be free to the city.

Optimum Use

Architect Rose described a plan for renovating the building groups. Although Beloit has a sizable Negro population, some of the effort is aimed at the elderly as well.

A major feature in downtown redevelopment. Although it will mean a move from the center of the business district to its edge, the new building will have more space, both inside and out. One of the present Post Office's limitations is its lack of space for the big trucks that now deliver mail.

The new building is about to be built; the contract has been let and the option has been assigned to the developer. Construction is expected to take about a year.

Meanwhile, private groups and the city government have been pushing ahead in the area of housing for low-income groups. Although Beloit has a minimum of five houses at a time, doesn't require approval of the workable program.

The most hopeful sign is the Beloit Housing Corp., a non-profit organization that will buy substandard homes, refurbish them and sell them, under an FHA program known as 221(h). City Manager Robert Quinlan, meanwhile, is pushing from another direction. Several months ago Quinlan proposed using an abandoned school site near the downtown area for a complex of apartments for the elderly.

Quinlan now is hoping for establishment of a Beloit Housing Authority within as little as two months. The authority would be charged with specific public housing tasks, including the Parker School elderly project. But, among the stumbling blocks to city action is the workable program, required for federal aid.

The 221(h) plan, involving a minimum of five houses at a time, doesn't require approval of the workable program.

Another hopeful sign in housing in Beloit—which presently is very tight—was the passage Jan. 2 of a fair-housing ordinance. The code, one of the strongest in the state, prohibits discrimination except in the case of one or two tenants in an owner-occupied rooming house.

Annual State Budgets?

We share the view of Assemblyman Martin of Neenah, one of the leaders of the legislature who pushed through the pending constitutional amendment authorizing annual sessions of the legislature, that such a change in the basic legislative arrangements of Wisconsin is probably reasonable and timely.

But we note with interest that Mr. Martin in a recent speech acknowledged his own reservations, and probable resistance, to the idea that annual legislative deliberations ought automatically to bring about an annual rather than biennial budget document for the state also.

The assistant majority leader of the present Wisconsin assembly says that he prefers an arrangement — which would be at the option of the legislature if the annual session amendment is ratified in a spring referendum — to handle a biennial appropriations bill in one annual session, which would be a sizeable assignment, while rewriting the rules to have the lawmakers concentrate on general legislation in the alternate year.

His reason, he said, is that the legislature probably would not be able to resist the importunings of the pressure group spenders if they considered a budget in an election year. His attitude is undoubtedly shared by many others. It is one of the reasons why several of the governors of Wisconsin in recent times, including Gov. Knowles today, have been reluctant to summon special sessions in election years, in spite of their desire for legislative action on non-fiscal matters.

The fear, or the supposition, that an annual legislature will mean an annual state budget, indeed, is one of the reasons for the objections of some persons to the change in the constitution. It should be clearly understood, however, that the two are not necessarily associated. The issue will be resolved by the legislature itself, and the people of Wisconsin can make themselves heard on that question when it arises — which would be in 1969 if the annual session referendum is accepted by the people and incorporated into the constitution this spring.

Yet it is fair to recall, as Mr. Martin will be the first to acknowledge, that the biennial budget practice of Wisconsin state government of tradition is the exception rather than the rule in public affairs. Cities, counties, towns, school districts operate on an annual appropriation basis. The federal government has done so historically. It may be argued, as it is argued with respect to the Congress, that the federal purse is more loosely handled in the election years than in the "off" years.

Conversely, it can be argued and is in fact asserted by some expert and detached students of government, that biennial budget-making in modern times cannot be precise or accurate. It may be wasteful. It may be inadequate, with respect to expenditures authorized for particular purposes, for in the usual situation there is a lapse not of two years, but of two and one-half years or more, between the start of budget deliberations and the end of the fiscal period. These are the considerations that must be reflected upon by our legislators and their constituents as we near the time for the important decision about an annual legislative sitting.

Will We Destroy Vietnam While Saving It?

General Earl Wheeler has tried to reassure Congressman Henry Reuss and other Americans that every attempt is being made by Americans in Vietnam to prevent the kinds of atrocities we are seeing portrayed in our newspapers and on our television screens. But the nature of this war makes such efforts extremely difficult. And so too does the attitude of American servicemen toward the Vietnamese people.

Part of the trouble now is that there are no front lines in Vietnam, no distinctions between Viet Cong-held territory and that safely secure. To some extent it has always been that way but the most recent attacks in the cities have increased the confusion. Moreover, the Vietnamese people look alike, especially to Americans. The Viet Cong often use South Vietnamese uniforms or they dress as ordinary peasants. Fear of the Viet Cong and of the South Vietnamese and Americans means that the ordinary peasants often try to turn their backs, to remove themselves from the war — and for this they are punished by both sides.

The Viet Cong take few prisoners and North Vietnam continues to refuse to consider those captured as prisoners of war and subject to good treatment under the Geneva Convention. The reports of Viet Cong atrocities are undoubtedly quite true, especially those terroristic acts against civilians. But this does not justify retaliation in kind.

A Japanese reporter who considers himself "a sincere friend of the United States" has sent dispatches on American search and destroy missions which probably describe accurately the way things are. American forces first bomb villages to rubble and then move in with infantry forces. They destroy stored rice on the grounds that it might be used by the Viet Cong. An American lieutenant confirmed that if a tank is booby trapped, every one in sight is shot because "they had seen the Viet Cong lay the mine" and did not report it. Certainly the failure of the South Vietnamese to rally around their government or fight against the Communists with any enthusiasm has increased the American serviceman's contempt for all Vietnamese. With that attitude and when there is death lurking in every doorway, atrocities, unjustified killings of unarmed civilians and the mass destruction of villages are bound to happen.

"It became necessary to destroy the town to save it," said an American major in explaining why Ben Tre had to be bombed to rubble with untold numbers of civilian casualties.

This now has apparently become our official policy in Vietnam. We must destroy the entire nation in order to save it.

Kennedy's Strange Posture

Senator Robert Kennedy has taken note of that "certain restlessness" in the country which President Johnson so inadequately described in his State of the Union speech to Congress.

"It is a year for us to examine not only the candidates but also the country, to ask not only who will lead us but where we wish to be led; to look not only to immediate crises but also to the nature and direction of the civilization we wish to build." Our gross national product is high, writes the Senator, but "it measures everything except that which makes life worthwhile. . . . Once we thought with Jefferson, that we were the 'best hope' of all mankind. But now we seem to rely only on our wealth and power. We search for answers to specific problems; but more than this, we seek to recapture our country."

This sounds very fine and we have no disagreement with it at all. And yet we must wonder a little how Senator Kennedy can describe so vividly and accurately the sad state of the union — and then announce his firm intentions to back the man under whose direction we have so lost our sense of direction.

Politics is the art of the possible. Senator Kennedy seems to be demonstrating. He has little chance of taking the presidential nomination away from President Johnson this year and this year's opposition might lose the support of party regulars in 1972. This is hard political fact — and exactly the kind of self-serving that keeps the nation in such a demoralized state.

Senator Eugene McCarthy may be committing political suicide but he certainly must gain some personal respect which at this point seems to evade Senator Robert Kennedy.

Peak-Berger Bell Ringers Coming

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Feb. 8, 1868.

The Peak family Bell Ringers are billed to give one Grand Concert in this city at the College Chapel on Monday Evening next.

Since the popular Peak Family visited us last it has added to its troupe the Berger Family, comprising probably the only bell ringing concerters now traveling worth hearing. Our readers need have no fear of being victimized as they were by the humbug Alleghaniens.

The State papers speak highly of the concerts being given by the Peak and Berger troupe, and our citizens may be assured of enjoyment of a pleasant evening's entertainment by attending this concert.

Taylor Writes

With Our Vast Intelligence System Why Are We Always Surprised?

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

North Korea's hijacking of our intelligence ship Pueblo, like the Israeli bombing of our similar ship, the Liberty, during the Egyptian war, raises the question as to why, with all we do in the intelligence field, we're so constantly the victim of surprise, surprise, surprise.

Taylor

The function of intelligence is to keep us from being surprised. Incredibly, Washington is spending at least $4 billion a year for intelligence. What's wrong?

Castro surprised Washington at the Bay of Pigs, the Soviet's Cuban missile installations were a surprise, the Berlin Wall was, a Red attack on the Dominican Republic and the Zanzibar take-over were surprises, and the whole Vietnam war has been one endless surprise after another. Why?

TWO YEARS LATER

On November 29, 1965, while we were being told that all was well, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara stated: "I must say I was surprised by these Viet Cong attacks." Now, more than two years later, Washington is admittedly still surprised by the same unexpected intensity and capability in the attacks on Saigon and 20 additional cities.

The Central Intelligence Agency's current budget (secret) is certainly around $1 1/2 billion a year, according to the official findings of the House Armed Services Committee. The CIA alone is larger than the State Department and spends more than twice as much money. Its Langley, Va., headquarters cost $46 million. About 10,000 people work there in intelligence. At least another 5,000 are scattered throughout the world, burrowing everywhere for intelligence. And this should make the taxpayers wonder what's happened to the CIA's official contentions.

CIA Deputy Director L. K. White testified to the House Appropriations Committee in 1956 that its $46 million building headquarters would "put things under one roof" and save $600,000 a year. Well, now still another CIA building ("No. 213") has arisen behind the scenes at the Naval Gun Factory in southeast Washington at the cost of another $10 million. And surprise, surprise, the CIA now has branch offices in Denver, Detroit, Houston, Miami, Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, San Francisco, Seattle etc., although the CIA is supposed to concern itself with foreign intelligence whereas the U.S.A. is the domain of the FBI. The only blessing is that CIA Director Richard Helms is a very able man, but, as Tiny Tim said, "There's never been such a squash."

In addition, the competing agencies are too many and enormous for me to expect you to believe the facts. Actually, there were recently in Berlin alone at least 40 known U.S. intelligence agencies and their branches — competing. SECOND SECURITY AGENCY

The CIA was founded to eliminate the dangerous compartmentalization and duplication. But the Pueblo, for example, wasn't operated by the CIA entirely. It was controlled by the hush-hush National Security Agency, a separate, immense group that grows and grows inside still another gigantic building in Washington's suburbs.

This is a sprawling, secret adjunct of the U.S. Army and Navy and both the NSA and CIA spend much time wondering what each other is doing. Beyond this Mr. McNamara somehow built an additional large intelligence structure within his own office that reported only to him and competed behind the scenes in Vietnam and elsewhere with the NSA and CIA alike. This, of course, is one of the first things incoming Defense Secretary Clark Clifford should abandon.

We simply cannot afford, nor should we put up with the surprises, surprises, surprises that result. It is absolutely imperative to condense the fog in Washington's cuckoo-land intelligence cloud into an efficient rain. The overlapping and mutually jealous agencies are loaded with empire builders. In the field where the country's unsung heroes daily risk their lives in espionage they are terribly snafued by the tremendous bureaucracy here at home. And many

Wisconsin Report

County Government Bound to Increase In Scope, Importance

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — When the county boards of Wisconsin were reapportioned on the basis of population equality a few years ago, one of the most knowledgeable and experienced of the students of local government affairs predicted that the act would be a prelude to a new era of growth in function and importance of the county in the family of local governments.

Wyngaard

Successing developments, sometimes obliquely, sometimes overtly, have tended to reinforce the forecast.

The Tarr Commission of citizens and legislators, although it has been publicized mostly in connection with the problem of state-local fiscal relations and the financing problems of the cities, also has an explicit mandate from the Legislature to report next year how the structure of local government services in Wisconsin can be improved.

TO PLAY WIDER ROLE

There is a very good chance that the idea of developing the county as an instrument of regional government, both for its logical strength and as a means of relieving the admittedly difficult financing problems of the cities and other municipalities, will figure as one of the major themes in that group's final report.

Actually, the upgrading of the county in terms of power and responsibility as an instrument of regional government during a period of rapidly changing population patterns is already underway, as Robert Mortensen of the Wisconsin County Boards Association reminded in a keynote speech at the recent association convention.

There was the forceful proposal in the recent Legislature for a county system of property tax administration. It failed, but by a hairline, and it is safe to forecast that it will become law in an early Legislature. The Legislature otherwise in recent sessions has recognized the county as a preferred agent for essential local services, as in flood plain zoning, shoreland zoning under the water pollution control law, the development of natural beauty councils, county planning, and most recently, county safety committees under the revised and strengthened state highway safety code.

STRAWS IN THE WIND

The Legislature has authorized counties to provide regional library services. In most of Wisconsin the county is accepted as a more logical instrument for the operation of airports than is the city or village. Recently Gov. Knowles, in the spirit of the idea, vetoed a bill that would have prohibited a county incinerator service in Milwaukee County and continued a proliferation of such local services.

Mortensen cites the report of a New York study committee, given a task similar to that of the Tarr Committee, which forecast an increasing emphasis upon regional concepts in local government operations. The county is able to function in that sense, without the political haggling that is inevitably associated with any attempt to alter the structure of the number of towns, villages and cities.

Said the New York report: "County governments can help resolve the problems of growth and development that now plague our local governments in many areas.

CAN OVERCOME PROBLEMS

"They can do this by serving as the planning, administering and even financing agency for many urban services required within the region. This area-wide approach can overcome the problems caused by many small units of government attempting to provide services on a piece — meal, uncoordinated basis."

The merest glance at the fiscal situation of typical municipalities in Wisconsin-Madison is the one with which this reporter is most familiar — suggests the logic of such thinking.

In Madison and elsewhere the financial pinch will become ever more difficult to manage, in part because the central city is providing services in effect for suburban nonresidents who do not share in the tax liability occasioned by them. A gradual transfer of truly metropolitan services to a county financial base, whatever else may be said for it, would be a matter of equity. Otherwise, some authorities are convinced, the rhetorical question asked recently in a national circulation periodical — "Can Local Government Be Saved?" — will probably be answered negatively.

Strictly Personal

Baby-Type Nickname Is Mark of the Elite

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

I met these people who have just moved into town and they seem most eager to break into what they fondly imagine is "society" — although, as the old lady said, what passes for society in America, outside of Boston and Philadelphia, is a very sour joke indeed.

Harris

At any rate, they asked me (and I can't imagine why me) the best way to go about it, and I said the first thing they had to do was to change the names of all their four children — who were called something like George, Kenneth, Susan, and Marcia.

Because, in imitation of the British upper classes (who are about as endearing, futile and silly as any group can be), the cream of American cream would not dream for a moment of calling any of their children, or friends, by something as banal as a real first name.

"George," I told these wistful climbers, "must be called Go-Go. Kenneth must be called Black. Susan has to become Frappy. And Marcia must be addressed only as Crumpet."

Under no circumstances short of a military wedding must their true names ever be used. And it would also be helpful if the mother and father became known, instead of Edward and Edith, as Crocker and Poof.

Since hereditary noble titles are, of course, nonexistent in America, and the Old School Tie is scarcely distinguishable from anybody's $2.50 repp, the baby-type nickname has become fau-te de mieu, the identifying mark of the elite, soi-disant or otherwise.

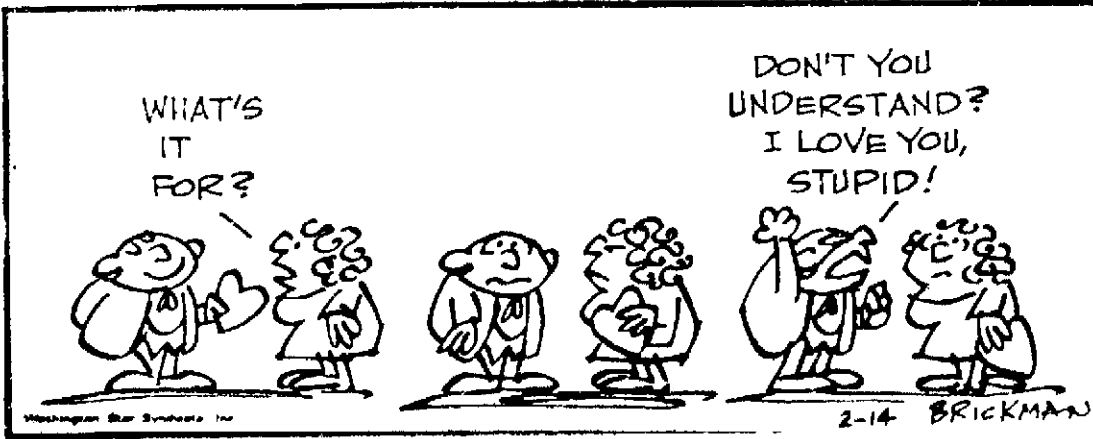

For years, I have been running across people regularly whom I call by such jovial idiocies as Tum-Tum and Scraggle and Woof and Yammer and Nips and Kips and Flips — without the slightest idea of what their Christian names really are. They would be horrified, mortified and insulted if I ever addressed them as Charles or Elizabeth. That's not playing the game.

And the name-game has, so far as I can tell, three rules: the name must be asexual or bisexual, so that no outsider could possibly tell if Quag or Pomsey is a male or female; it must have no meaning whatsoever, as if its derivation were lost in noble obscurity; and it has to sound infantile, as if it had been bestowed by some primordial, cosmic Nanny.

I thought of all this today, when three valentines arrived at my office, from Tiggy, Spunker and Zim-Zim. I hope to God they're all girls.

Reservist Cited After Cold Weather Training

A Kimberly Army Reservist has received a certificate from the Army's Northern Warfare Training Center at Ft. Greely, Alaska, early this month. He is Sfc. Reuben R. Lang, 208 Lox Court, a member of Appleton's Co. C 291st Engr. Bn.

The presentation was made on completion of a 133-hour training class in cold weather military operations. Most of the training was conducted in sub-zero temperature, with a minimum of .55 degrees reached while on a field problem. For this a second certificate was awarded, the school's "Minus Fifty Club" in recognition of participation in outdoor training when the temperature was below that figure.

City Engineers Switch Over To Teamsters

Group First Signed With AFL-CIO; Rescind Application

Teamsters Local 563 was two-up today on Local 73 of the Wisconsin Council of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, in their competitive efforts to organize Appleton city hall employees.

Nine members of the engineering division, who at first signed membership cards for the AFL-CIO affiliate, today filed a letter with city officials that they were withdrawing their authorization.

"Therefore, the cards we signed authorizing Local 73 to represent us are to be destroyed," they wrote.

Earlier in the week, the employees filed an official request — through teamsters Local 563 — to have the latter be their bargaining agent in all future negotiations dealing with wages, hours and working conditions.

Teamsters officials requested the city to recognize them as bargaining agents for the engineering division, and asked for a meeting next week to finalize the matter.

Today's development would indicate that while Local 73 had the employees sign cards first — Local 563 moved in and emerged with the nine-member unit.

Three Injured In 2 Mishaps

E. College Avenue Setting of Both Tuesday Accidents

Three persons suffered minor injuries in two accidents on Appleton streets Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Annette Block, 625 S. Lee St., suffered knee bruises when her car and another collided about 5:20 p.m. on S. Lave Street at E. College Avenue. Appleton police said the other car was driven by Joseph J. Lang, 27, 2609 S. Jackson St.

Police said the Lang auto was northbound on Lave and the Block car was southbound, making a left turn.

Two young women were hurt in an accident about 9:15 p.m. in the 300 block of E. College Avenue. Cars involved in the accident were driven by Pamela A. Walters, 20, 800 N. Clark St., and Hejen Mendez, 21, 216½ E. Wisconsin Ave.

Police said both cars were eastbound on College Avenue when the Walters car slowed for a car ahead and was rammed from behind by the Mendez auto.

Police said that Miss Walters suffered a neck whiplash and her passenger, Sara Paltzer, 22, 2321 N. Ballard Road, had a bump on the head.

Saved Man From Flames

Boys Honored for Bravery

Two boys, who helped save an Appleton man from possible death by burning, were cited for their efforts Tuesday at a meeting of the Appleton Northside Kiwanis Club.

Donald Quella, 16, 1827 S. Jefferson St., and David Casper, 15, 535 E. Lincoln St., were presented certificates of merit by Mayor George Buckley.

The certificates cited the boys for "outstanding bravery without regard for their own safety in helping save the life of a fellow citizen, who was endangered by fire."

The boys were in the area of S. Jefferson and E. McKinley streets about 6:20 p.m. Feb. 8 when they spotted a

A complete revamp of the welfare program is needed based on the principles of self respect and human dignity, he said.

While these programs are designed to help the people the situation is complicated by public apathy toward welfare as compared with intense interest in education. Getting full value from these programs is worth our concern, he said.

Great leadership alone won't resolve the problem, he asserted. "On behalf of all elected officials," Goetz said, "we are not gifted with superior intellect and are subject to human error."

Judge Orders Year's Probation For Appleton Man

Jack E. Holcomb, 20, 1707 S. Oneida St., Appleton, was placed on one-year probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services this morning after he pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Holcomb was charged with taking indecent liberties with a minor, following investigation by Appleton police who said the offense occurred early the morning of Dec. 17.

However, Outagamie County Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer this morning asked the reduced charge, saying it was warranted on the basis of a full review of circumstances in the case. He noted that Holcomb had no prior record.

Holcomb entered the plea in Circuit Court. He was bound over to Circuit Court following a preliminary hearing last month in County Court.

Kimberly Bar Burglary Suspect Requests Hearing

Robert J. Menting, 27, 107 N. Main St., Kimberly, requested a preliminary hearing Tuesday on a charge of burglarizing The Avenue Bar in Kimberly.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set the hearing for next Tuesday afternoon and continued bond at $2,000. Menting, who has a court-appointed attorney, is in jail under bond.

Kimberly police contend that Menting burglarized the tavern early last Thursday morning. Police said that $111 and a bottle of liquor were taken.

Referendum Likely On Beer Age Views

Support for Uniform State Law

Appleton electors may have the opportunity to show what they think about a statewide 21-year-old beer drinking law.

The possibility developed Tuesday night when the welfare and ordinance committee adopted a recommendation for "an Appleton referendum as soon as possible" to support a uniform statewide age limit.

Committeemen questioned whether the referendum question still could legally be placed on the city's April election ballot, and instructed City Atty. David Geenen to find the answer.

Geenen said this morning the city council could authorize a referendum in time for the April election. The only requirements would be a majority vote in the council and publication notification the two Mondays prior to the election.

However, Geenen questioned whether the city could ask a referendum concerning a question on which the council has no authority to act. He said he had advised a group of Lawrence University students last fall the city could not hold a referendum on the Vietnam War.

Advisory Referendum

The committee had agreed if there was not enough time to make the April ballot, the referendum should be placed on "some future election" ballot.

The recommendation is expected to come before the city council next week. If adopted, this would be the city's second referendum in a decade.

First Big Valentine

Day for Hearts 'n' Flowers

BY CHUCK DILDAY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Gentlemen, today is Valentine's Day.

It's time to get that box of candy, or order that bouquet, or but that bottle of cologne if you want to remain a knight in shining armor with the little woman at home.

And if you think that Valentines are kid stuff and pretty foolish, don't forget that what you think doesn't matter at all.

It's what the General Manager — the gal who runs the family — thinks that really counts. And let's face it, life is a whole lot easier if she thinks that you are one swell guy.

And while the occasion may be strictly sentimental, I'll lay you an odds even bet that you will remember when Feb. 14 was pretty important to you, too, if you think back a bit.

Store of Memories

All of us rugged he-man types have a few memories stashed away that make Valentine's Day more important than we may want to admit.

Think back.

Remember the first Valentine you every gave? It was probably to the girl with the long yellow curls and the buck teeth who sat across from you at school.

And do you remember the first Valentine you gave to the gal who is now expectantly waiting back at the manse wondering if you will remember this year?

I well remember my first encounter with True Love. (Of course, I am overlooking a couple of dozen passing fancies when I was too young to know better.)

I was just 14 when romance overwhelmed me. I remember it well.

I was a high school transfer student and it was my first day in the new school when I saw the Girl With the Brown

Swim Pool at Plamann Park

Immediately after Outagamie County supervisors Tuesday afternoon approved purchase of the Mosquito Hill site near New London, Board Chairman Sylvester Esler urged strong consideration be given to building a swimming pool at Plamann Park near Appleton.

Esler, who voted with supervisors approving the Mosquito Hill plan, said on the basis of information he has received, the county should be able to construct the pool for about $20,000. He said it was possible federal funds would be available to assist in the project.

"This is a project we should look at right now," Esler said. He noted that "swimming lakes" in Black Creek and Seymour get considerable use in the summer.

Supv. Joseph DeBruin of rural Kaukauna, chairman of the county board's parks and recreation committee, promised Esler that strong consideration would be given to the proposal.

But it did And I carried her books. It was years later that I realized that she had more to do with this than I did.

Anyway, we got along better than well and the next months were filled with more book carrying and occasional movie dates

And then came Valentines Day.

Now, I wasn't what you would call the offspring of wealthy parents, but I had a job working in a grocery store on Saturdays and I made a couple of honest bucks each week. And I decided that the Valentine for the Girl with the Brown Eyes was going to be nothing less than sensational.

So I shopped. I remember I went to two drug stores, a stationery store and all the 10 cent stores in town.

Finally I found THE Valentine. It cost a whole dollar and was filled with cupids and lace. I bought it.

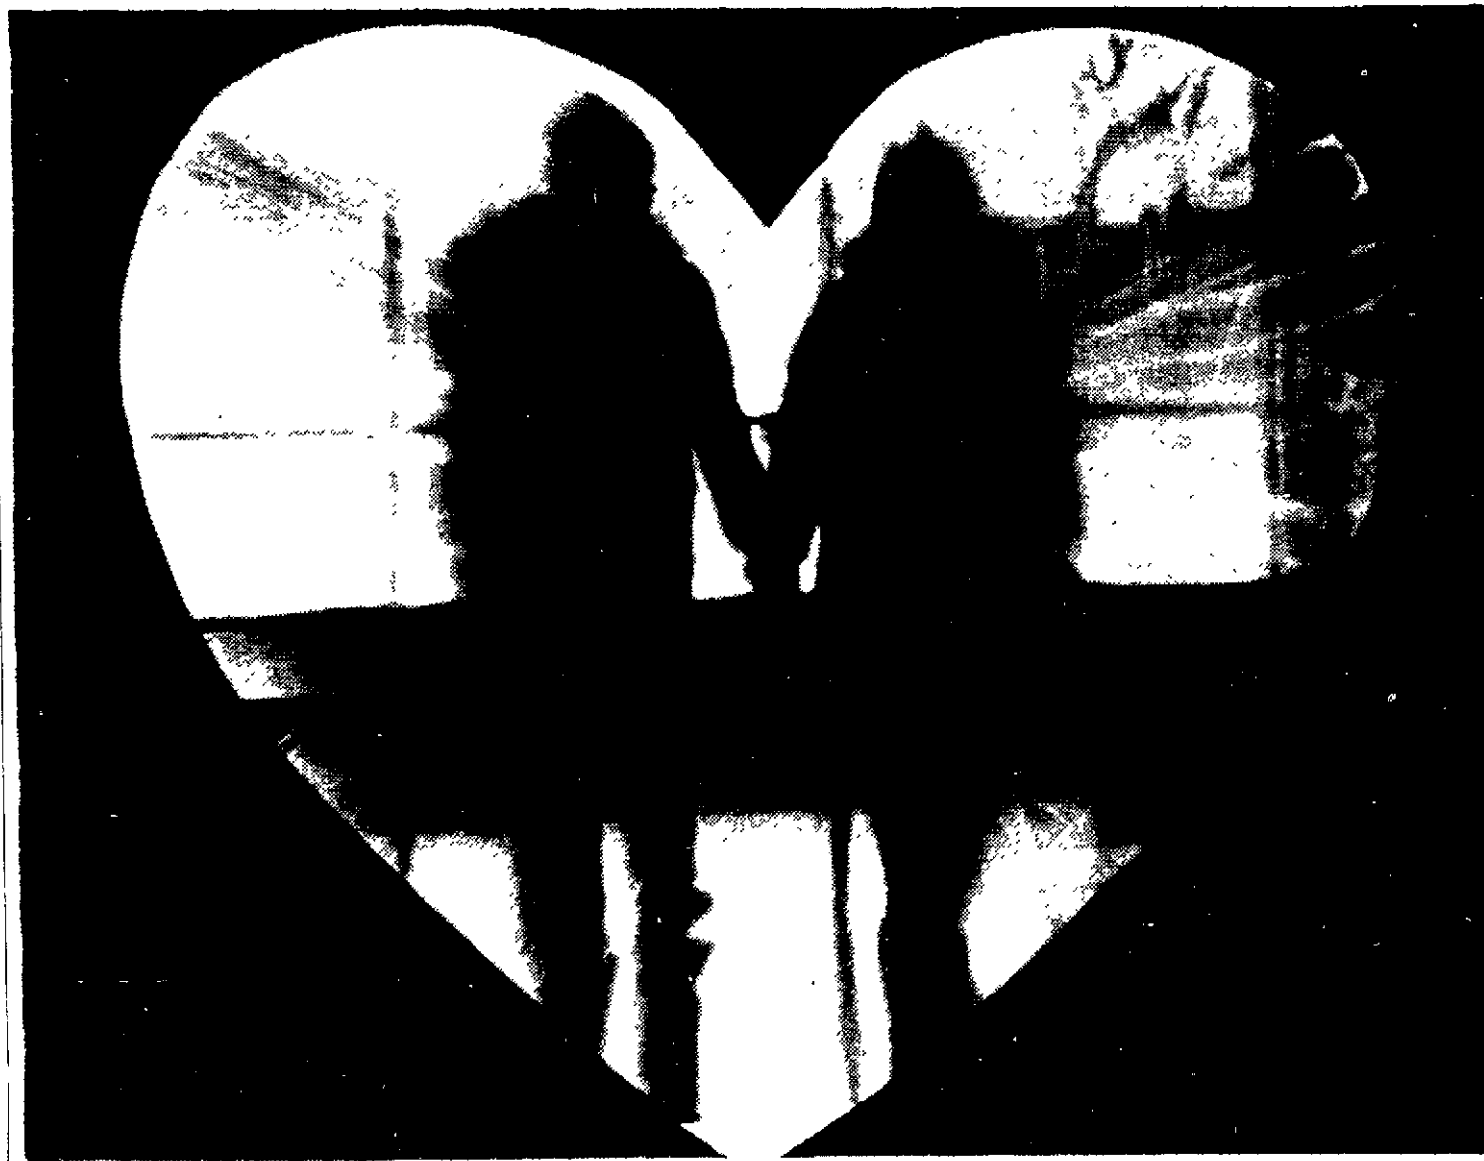

The trouble was that I bought it about the first of the month and for two weeks I would dig it out of my bureau drawer and admire it secretly.

Didn't Carry Books

But the more I looked at it, the more I was panicked at the idea of giving it to her.

And so came the fateful day, Feb. 14. That night I didn't carry her books. I hurried home and got my

Sewage Bypassing Ended; Efficiency High in Twin Cities

NEENAH-MENASHA — By-passing of raw sewage into the Fox River ended at 11:15 a.m. Tuesday and by this morning nearly all incoming sewage was going through the complete treatment process, the plant superintendent announced today.

As Supt. Harland Schuelke gave the progress report on the plant's return to normal after last week's mechanical breakdown, state officials revealed reports showing efficient earlier performance at the plant.

Records prepared by plant personnel and submitted to the state resource development division, Department of Natural Resources, Green Bay, showed the plant now is two to three times as efficient as it was before $2.1 million was spent on more thorough treatment equipment.

Breakdown
The record was marred during the past week when a press broke down and touched off a chain reaction that forced by-passing of an unmeasured amount of raw sewage into the river, while a sizable portion of the total intake was released into the waterway before reaching final treatment stages.

The plant's intake today flowed at a rate of some 15 million gallons per day. Schuelke said. Of this, more than 14 million gallons was being routed through the entire system. The rest was given primary treatment before release into the river.

As the week began, about one-third of all sewage coming into the plant was being bypassed without more than primary treatment. Within a short time, bypassing should be eliminated entirely as the plant resumes normal operation after the breakdown which was repaired by last Friday, Schuelke said.

Brimming
The bypassing was forced because the failure in one of the last components in the treatment process caused a backlog to build up in other sections of the system. Eventually, the system was brimming and the only alternative was bypassing, officials have explained.

Much of the bypassed sewage went first through the primary treatment process, which was the type of treatment used before the expansion program was completed last summer. Treatment is chiefly a mechanical means of removing solids that are suspended in sewage. The expansion project added secondary treatment facilities, which use chemical and biological means to remove finer solids and materials that are dissolved in the sewage.

According to L. A. Montie, chief of the resource development division's treatment section in Madison, a primary treatment plant can be expected to remove 45 to 50 per cent of suspended solids from the sewage it takes in.

Some materials contained in sewage are particularly harmful when released into lakes and streams because they remove oxygen from the water. A primary treatment system may remove about 30 per cent of all this type of waste, known to experts as BOD, Montie said.

The last reports from the Neenah-Menasha plant, submitted to the regional resource development office in Green Bay, showed that the plant was averaging 93.8 per cent removal of incoming solids and 93 per cent removal of BOD wastes.

The reports are prepared by the staff of the local plant and have been received, according to regional officials, once every three months on the average. The state prefers monthly reports.

"I think when it's operating properly, it's doing a terrific job," said Allen Schoen, an engineer on the regional staff. He added that the Fox River would, without pollution from cities, factories and other natural sources, carry 10 to 12 parts oxygen-demanding solids per million parts water. A single sample Schoen said he took from the local plant last summer contained 7.6 parts per million — less than normally contained in the river.

Schoen offered the test as an example of the plant's normal efficiency under the new processes. But he added that since his test was only one sample taken without comparison with others during the same day, it was impossible to say if it was representative of that day's operating efficiency.

Beer Depot Loot Estimated at More Than $530

KAUKAUNA — A stock inventory showed that merchandise valued at more than $500 and $30 in cash was taken in a Saturday break-in at Rennie's Beer Depot.

Richard Rennie, owner, told police the loot included 20 cases of beer, five cases of assorted brandy, one case of whiskey, four bottles of vodka and 15 cartons of cigarettes. Police recovered five cases of beer Saturday morning. The beer was found between two houses near the beer depot.

A Total of 94 new voters were added to the City of Appleton lists Tuesday evening during the neighborhood voter-registration drive. Registering with Mrs. Leslie Steckbar and Mrs. Bernice Sorgani at Fire Station No. 1, are, from left, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kurtyka and Miss Lind Brock. The program, tried in Appleton for the first time, will move to station No. 3 tonight and will be open from 6:30 to 9 p.m. On Monday, 97 persons restored their voting franchise. Realtors Sponsor Discussion on New Regulations

Licensed real estate brokers and sales people in Outagamie and Winnebago counties have been invited to a special meeting Thursday to acquaint them with the newly-revised regulations governing real estate accounts.

The Appleton Board of Realtors will sponsor the session, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Appleton Elks Club. More than 400 letters of invitation have been sent out.

Two Milwaukee men — Atty. Thomas C. Rosenthal and investigator Richard J. Wogland, both Wisconsin Real Estate Examining Board staff members — will conduct the meeting. This state agency is responsible for overseeing real estate activities and has published the new trust account regulations.

License Ordinance Probe Scheduled

Taxi Permit Dispute Leads to Call for Study of Procedures

A taxicab license dispute study were reported back to Tuesday night led city council them by May 15, they would have ample time to present it to the council and make a decision before cab licenses come up for annual reconsideration June 30.

Hearing Not Held
The committee's improper licensing procedure was brought to light by Lloyd Doerfler, owner of the Yellow Cab Company of Appleton. He claimed the committee had failed to hold a hearing, as demanded by a city ordinance, prior to granting the Menasha-based Ideal Taxi Company a license to operate in Appleton.

Ideal has been operating with two cabs in Appleton for nearly two weeks. Doerfler claimed an additional cab firm in Appleton would hurt all cab services by "spreading (business) too thin."

Thomas Janssen, an Appleton attorney representing Ideal, said during his brief operation, his client's service had kept busy with up to 60 calls per day, without a telephone listing, and that this "clearly shows a public demand and need."

Exercise Care
Committee chairman Richard Huisman (1st), warned the committee must be careful not to hurt any firm's business efforts.

"We can't allow a firm to expand its business and buy more equipment, and then take its license away," he said. City Clerk Eldon Broehm told the committee only three taxicab licenses have been granted in Appleton. These are to Yellow, Ideal and Fox Valley Cab Company.

The other cabs within the city are owned and operated by the Yellow Cab. Geenen explained that any taxicab firm either can pick up or discharge passengers in the city, but a service must have an Appleton license to both pick up and discharge passengers within the city limits.

Committee Errors
The committee became concerned when it learned that because of procedural errors on its own part, all three Appleton taxicab licenses were voidable. However, Geenen suggested the committee authorize a study to determine a workable number of taxicabs for Appleton's population to avoid dissipating all three businesses.

The students dispatched 30,000 packages, including grape, lemon, lime, raspberry, strawberry, orange and cherry, with freight paid to San Francisco, Cal., where it will be shipped to Saigon courtesy of the USO.

Viet Water
When the Student Council took on Project Concern in December, their purpose was to provide as much of the fruit flavoring as they could to make the water in Vietnam drinkable. "Last year they cooperated with Shawano High School, but this year they wanted to do it themselves," said Miss Eugenia Kyrakakis, council advisor.

They called upon the community and added contributions to the money they collected during Slave Day at school, raising a total of about $800.

Pillsbury
"The real bonanza was a gift from Pillsbury Mills, which donated $1,800 worth of fruit ade," she added.

"When local merchants made it possible for the kids to buy their mix at wholesale prices they were delighted."

"We are proud to do something for our fighting men," one student commented as he sealed the carton shut.

"It doesn't seem like much, I guess. I hope they know we care."

Hospital Will Get Dental Equipment

$17,000 Appropriation Wins Approval of Outagamie Board

Better dental care for Outagamie County Hospital patients was assured when county board supervisors voted Tuesday afternoon to spend $17,000 for modern equipment and expanded professional services.

The appropriation, which met unanimous support, will allow for the purchase of a mobile dental unit, with x-ray equipment and updated tools and supplies for the county hospital.

Supt. Eugene Speener told the board's executive committee last week that increased dental facilities were recommended by the State Department of Health and Social Services and by a consultant.

8 Hours a Week
With Tuesday's appropriation, dentist services to the county hospital will be increased to eight hours per week. A dentist now treats patients two hours per week.

The mobile dental equipment to be added will allow for treatment of patients in their rooms.

Kaukauna Supv. Russell DeLa Hunt, chairman of the board's health committee, said that some of the dental equipment at the hospital was of "pre-World War II" vintage.

Tuesday's resolution provided for the transferring of $15,000 from the contingency fund to the mental hospital budget to cover the $17,000 expenditure. There is $2,000 in the hospital budget for the equipment, supervisors were informed.

Federal Funds
Board Chairman Sylvester Esler said some of the money probably could be gotten back through federal assistance once the new dental equipment is purchased.

In other action Tuesday afternoon, the board:

—Approved taking the positions of county nurse and assistant county nurse from civil service status and putting them on a contract basis. The county nurse would be paid $683.33 per month, while her assistant would receive $500 per month under contracts authorized for negotiation.

—Approved the request of Sara Schamp, assistant county nurse, to attend an eight-week field training course in public health nursing in Waukesha.

Costs are paid by the state. She will be absent from her post at no cost to the county.

Survey Seen for Appleton on Beer Age Views originated from a citizen who told committeemen she decided it was time she stopped waiting for others to take action against the 18-year-old beer drinking law.

Mrs. Warner Porlier, 1706 E. Byrd St., appeared before the committee and explained her position. She said she had received several telephone calls backing her since she had written Mayor George Buckley and the city council asking for action.

She had written: "I was very disappointed to see that our assemblymen did not see fit to approve the 21-year-old Uniform Beer Drinking Law."

Not Only Appleton
Members of the committee agreed with Mrs. Porlier's stand but warned this should not be misconstrued as indicating preference for a 21-year-old beer drinking age only for the City of Appleton.

Ald. Orville Strutz (17th) commented: "We feel the same way but we also realize the 21-year-old Appleton law would only drive our teen-agers outside the city to get beer."

He added that a countywide 21-year-old beer drinking age would only send the youths to go into neighboring Calumet, Winnebago or Brown counties.

Ald. Richard Huisman (1st) said he would be "dead against it (the referendum) if it would lead to a 21-year-old Appleton law. He feared this if the state Legislature refused to adopt a statewide uniform age.

Ald. William Errington (15th)

Hours Changed by St. Francis Library

Hours for the St. Francis Library, 116 S. Walnut St., will be changed, starting Monday.

The library will be open to the public from 3 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and from noon to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

Up to now, the library has been open from noon to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and from noon to 5 p.m. Saturdays. It is run by volunteers of the Third Order of St. Francis.

was particularly critical of a localized (county or city; 21-year-old beer drinking law.

"This was adopted in Vilas County, and it only kept the kids on the road longer," he said, noting they had to travel to the next county to drink beer.

He said he favored a countywide referendum calling for a statewide uniform beer drinking age.

Mrs. Porlier told the committee she felt a 21-year-old statewide beer drinking law "has spoken for itself," since Wisconsin's neighboring states have adopted this.

"And it's proven that Wisconsin's accident rate is higher," she said.

Supervisors Vote Themselves Out of Insurance Program

Outagamie County supervisors Tuesday denied themselves the chance to have the county pay half of their group health and medical insurance premiums.

A resolution by the county board's property and insurance committee asked that the county participate on a 50-50 basis with supervisors on the insurance plan. Supervisors eligible for coverage under the county's insurance plan now pay the full cost of the premium.

And they will continue to do so on the basis of a 26-13 vote Tuesday afternoon.

Supv. Walter Fredericks of New London told the board that the insurance committee, which he heads, asked for half of the premium pay following requests from several supervisors. He said those supervisors wanted the same insurance opportunity as county employees.

Pay Own Premiums
Fredericks said that only county board members under age 65 would be eligible to get the insurance. About seven or eight supervisors now take the insurance and pay the full costs themselves, according to Board Chairman Sylvester Esler.

Labor Temple Eyes City Land

Appleton Association Seeks Ballard Road Corner for Building

The Appleton Labor Temple Association has approached the city with plans for taking an option on property in Appleton's new industrial park to erect a new building.

Norbert McHugh, association president, sent a letter to Frank Keuler, public works director, today seeking information on an eight-acre tract the organization has in mind.

The present labor temple is located in an old building at 527 N. Appleton St.

McHugh said the labor group is specifically interested in putting up a new building at the corner of Ballard Road and Northland Avenue (OO).

He asked city officials to reply as soon as possible.

Keuler, a member of the city council's land sales and acquisition committee, said the city would cooperate with the association in negotiating the sale of the site.

Street Setback Legal, City Attorney Rules

10-Foot Strip Essential for Franklin, Lawrence Future as Major Traffic Arteries

The proposed 10-foot setback, renovation projects would have for Franklin and Lawrence streets, which would apply to all future construction, is legal, City Atty. David Geenen said today.

Geenen had been requested by the city plan commission to prepare an opinion. The commission has held that it is vital for the city to have the setback for the two major downtown traffic carriers. It has reaffirmed its recommendation on the matter before the city council.

While indicating there was no question about the legality of the setback, Geenen outlined other alternatives which he thought could attain the same objective.

Widen in Future
At some future time the city intends to widen the streets. The setback would prohibit additional encroachments now and in the future on the area needed for street expansion.

Geenen said the three most likely methods the commission could use to preserve the setback area for future street right-of-way included:

—A setback ordinance which states that for these streets buildings shall be built no closer than a specified distance.

—Provision for such a setback in a zoning ordinance.

Existing Exceptions
—An official city map amendment.

In all cases, existing buildings would be allowed to remain but swore off women for life. But after I had been brooding for a half hour or so the phone rang and it was the Girl With the Brown Eyes calling to thank me for my beautiful Valentine and we decided to go to a movie that very same night.

Yes, I remember well. Don't you?

And if you are interested in knowing what happened to the Girl With the Brown Eyes, I married her a few years later and I know that right now she is wondering if I will remember this year.

And I will.

Recognition Dinner Set For Xavier Key Club

Lt. Vern Remter, of Appleton Police Department's traffic bureau will be the speaker at the recognition dinner for Xavier Key Club at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Reetz's Supper Club.

Others attending will be the officers of Appleton High School-East and West Key Clubs, and members of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the sponsoring organization.

James Weiss, Xavier club president, will preside.

Court Grants Two Divorces

Two divorces were granted Tuesday in Outagamie County Court Branch 1, both on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Duane E. Beckman, 47, 1623 N. Summit St., was divorced by Phyllis Beckman, 35, Milwaukee. They were married May 20, 1961, and had one child.

Beckman is to pay $40 support every two weeks.

Jane Clark, 29, 716 N. Superior St., divorced Ronald L. Clark, 28, 901 S. Outagamie St. Married June 26, 1958, they had three children. Clark is to pay $45 per week support.

Valentine, a all carefully wrapped in special paper that cost another 10 cents. And then I started for her house.

It took me 15 minutes to muster courage to mount the steps to her front porch and ring her doorbell.

But I did. And the door opened and I blindly proffered my Valentine and blurted out, "It's for you." Then I turned and charged down the steps and up the street.

Win a Big Grand Prize By Counting the Hearts

BY CAPPY DICK

How many hearts are in the picture? Count them, prepare a contest entry that is neat and original, send it to me and you may win a national grand prize in today's contest.

will be qualified for the national competition in which the judges will select the five neatest and most original entries from around the nation. These will win the Stamp Collector's Hobby Outfits.

After counting and coloring all the hearts in the picture above, clip it out, paste it on paper and print the total number of hearts beneath it, along with your name, age, address and Zip Code Number. Add any decorations you believe will make the entry neat and original. Finally, address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek Stamp Album Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow.

Names of the prize winners will be published here and their awards will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property, none can be returned.

Tomorrow How to frame a big picture with a tiny frame!

How Many?

The big prize — and five of them will be awarded — will be a Stamp Collector's Hobby Outfit including an album in which to mount interesting stamps, a packet of 1,000 stamps as the beginning of an educational collection, a magnifier, a watermark detector, a package of stamp hinges and a booklet of tips for the young collector.

In addition, 5 local prizes are offered in this and all other cities where this column is published. These will be packets of eight pictorial stamps from Argentina bearing pictures of an alligator, a llama, a herd of sheep, a mountain lake, a mountain highway, a mountain gorge, a puma and a horse. Together they make an interesting "show-and-tell" set of educational value to any boy or girl.

The local prizes will be awarded for the 5 neatest and most original contest entries from boys and girls of the Appleton area. These entries

PROGRESS REPORT

BY TV SCOUT
7:30-8 — Channels 2-7 — Scene-stealers of the world, rejoice! Your canine leader, Snoopy, has stolen the thunder from such formidable foes as Charlie Brown, Linus, Lucy, Schroeder, et al, becoming the unchallenged star of the newest Peanuts special, He's Your Dog, Charlie Brown. Charlie isn't too happy about it, not because of the upstaging, but good grief, the precocious pet is getting so out of hand that the other kids are getting annoyed and finally Snoopy is shipped off to a puppy farm for a refresher course in beagle behavior. (C)

9-10 — Channel 5 — One of the better format ideas for television reaches fruition with the premiere outing of The Academy of Professional Sports Awards. Three top players in each of eight major sports are on hand to learn who has been chosen by his fellow athletes; first in his profession. To make the program palatable for all viewers, the producers are bringing on top names in entertainment to present the awards and perform, including: Don Adams, Don Rickles, Laraine Turner, Chuck Connors and James Garner. The sports are: American League Baseball, NFL Football, AFL Football, Basketball, Hockey, Golf and Horse Racing. Johnny Carson hosts. (C)

6:30-7:30 — Channel 11-6:30-7:30 Channel 9 — The taped highlights of the day's main events at the 1968 Winter Olympics from Grenoble, France, includes: Pairs Figure Skating; 4-man Bobsleds; Men's 500 Meter Speed Skating, and hockey highlights of the East Germany-Finland game. (C)

6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7 — Lost in Space has come up with another American institution for its imaginative fun and games, the beauty pageant. This one is called Miss Galaxy, produced by a flamboyant showman, a 19th century type, named Farnum. Judy is chosen as a human representative but wait 'til you see some of the others for, as Farnum puts it, "to a fish, another fish is beautiful." Leonard Stone is featured. (C)

6:30-8 — Channel 5 — "The Hell Wind" is a nice tense drama on The Virginian with regulars Doug McClure, Don Quine and Sara Lane, sharing the feature roles. They are driven into an abandoned house by a violent storm, and are soon joined by an interesting group including Pat Crowley, a former saloon singer now married to a banker played by Ford Rainey. (C)

8-9 — Channel 5 — "Cowboys and City Slickers" is both nostalgic and new on The Kraft Music Hall, starring Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, Phil Harris and Alice Faye, and the zesty Serendipity Singers. (C)

8-10 — Channels 11-9 — The Wednesday Night Movie's presentation of "The Condemned of Altona," is a ponderous adaptation of the Jean Paul Sartre play that reduces a tensely dramatic situation to an extreme family situation. Sophia Loren is cast as a German wife, Robert Wagner her husband, Fredric March his father and Maximilian Schell, a World War II fatality, who is actually alive and being kept hidden by his father and brother to hide their own pasts and protect their future. (C)

8:30-9 — Channels 2-7 — Guilt feelings invade the Hollister household when He and She forget their friend Harry's birthday. (C)

9-10 — Channels 2-7 — Sally Field, The Flying Nun, and singer Lana Cantrell pretty up The Jonathan Winters Show with Sally singing "Golden Days" and starring in cinema skit based on "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner." Miss Cantrell sings "When You Wish Upon A Star" and Jonathan's best moment is his appeal for the presidential nomination as Maudie Bird Frickell. (C)

Kaukauna to Invite 6 Firms To Show New School Plans

Education Board to Interview for Northside Elementary Designer

KAUKAUNA — Six architectural firms were selected to submit proposals for a new northside elementary school Tuesday night by the board of education, after reviewing the qualifications of 24 prospective designers.

The six firms, three from Appleton, two from Green Bay and one from Sheboygan, will be asked to send representatives to a special meeting Feb. 23, when board members will interview them and review several school projects they have completed.

Also discussed was the number of classrooms to be included in the proposed northside school, but no action was taken. The board contemplates study in an effort to learn whether any changes in parochial school plans within the next few years could force the district to expand facilities.

In other action, board members voted to increase the salaries of all clerical staff members $15 per month, effective Feb. 1. The pay increases are expected to cost the district an additional $1,750 a year. Money for the salary increases was included in the 1968 budget.

The board also voted to increase insurance coverage for all school district employees to coincide with the coverage granted teachers. This means the district will pay 60 per cent of the insurance for the first four years of employment and 75 per cent thereafter. Previously, insurance was split on a 50-50 basis.

Three bids were received for seven typewriters. Low bid of $124.50 per machine was accepted from the Appleton Business Machines, Inc.

Julian Bichler, superintendent of schools, reported all teachers presently on the vocational school faculty have been offered positions with the Vocational, Technical and Adult Education District 12, but to date only two have decided to accept and four others have agreed to assume duties on the high school faculty.

The board approved two curriculum changes for the 1968-69 school year. One would permit a fifth year of Spanish for students who took Spanish in grade school and have completed four years of Spanish when juniors in high school. The other adds a third semester to the speech course, dealing primarily with the dramatic arts.

Six teacher resignations were accepted by the board. They are Shirley Brander and Mrs. Nancy Unmuth, first grade; Mrs. Della Milbach, kindergarten; Mrs. Patricia Rude, special education; Mrs. Carolyn Weiman, sixth grade and Sharon Guiser, elementary library.

In addition, Mrs. Kathleen Davis will retire as high school guidance director, and Anna Luisa Echeverria and Fabiola Franco, high school Spanish teachers from South America, who were at Kaukauna under the two-year teacher exchange plan, will return home.

Teachers approved for employment are Christine Hussli, kindergarten; Mrs. Topper Switzer, elementary library; John Buskager, fourth through sixth grade teacher at Harrison School and Gary Thiel, high school Spanish, all graduates of Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.

Manila Bay Flagship Faces Another Crisis

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Cruiser Olympia, which braved Spanish shot and shell as Commodore George Dewey's flagship in the battle of Manila Bay, faces another crisis—this one financial.

The ship, a relic of that May 1, 1898 encounter, is berthed here. Casper J. Knight Jr., president of the Cruiser Olympia Association, says the ship is in need of repairs, but there is no money for them. Knight said it would take $250,000 to restore the ship.

If your stockbroker doesn't make sure that you have taken care of life insurance, get yourself another broker.

Before you move into securities investment, you should protect yourself and the people who depend upon you. And that means life insurance.

The first question most people ask is "How much life insurance?" One investment counselor says a man should own an amount roughly equal to five times his annual salary. A survey of thousands of families showed the following needs:

MONTHLY TAKE-HOME PAY	INSURANCE NEEDED
$ 450	$24,000
500	28,000
600	36,000
1,000	64,000

But honestly, there's no pat answer.

It all depends.

First, you need enough to cover burial expenses.

Then if you've got kids, you're faced with a dependency period, the time it takes your youngest to reach eighteen years old. You should have enough life insurance and other income to be sure your youngest child and the others will be fed, clothed, housed and educated like you want them to be.

Another use of life insurance is to leave your survivors without a lot of debts.

And a man usually wants to provide his wife with income that allows her to live like she has become accustomed.

These are the basics of life insurance; based on need.

After you've carefully checked your life insurance, look over your health, auto and home insurance. You could become sick, flat on your back for six months; so look into disability income, too.

See an insurance agent to have him check your coverage.

How much insurance? Really, it all depends.

We want to be sure that you've got protection. So on your first visit with The Milwaukee Company, our broker won't push a security at you. He'll ask some solid questions which will lead to a financial survey.

You may need securities that grow quickly in value, or the kind that yield stable income, or a combination of these characteristics. So this survey does three things: outlines your financial situation; tells you if you can afford investment securities and estimates the amount; provides information for setting up financial goals.

Give us a call for that check-up.

Our telephone number is 414/739-6311, or stop in at our office at 301 First National Bank Building, Appleton.

Find out about this broker who recommends adequate insurance before he recommends a stock.

Technology Part of High Medical Cost

Labor, Services Send Hospital Expenses
Shooting Upward

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The speedily rising cost of medical care is explained by supply, demand and changes in technology, the state Department of Health's monthly periodical said today in a candid appraisal of medical economics.

The most important factor in the steadily rising costs of health care during the last 15 years has been the growth in hospital prices, and the most important reason for their price increases has been the rising labor costs of their employees and the rising numbers of their workers, it was said.

The trend contrasts directly with other industries, which have expanded capital to increase their productivity. The emphasis in hospitals has been labor intensity, and as a result hospital wage increases cannot be absorbed as readily by increased productivity as in most other industry.

The agency report was prepared by Murray Tucker, a member of the staff of the Institute for Research on Poverty at the University of Wisconsin.

Nurses Underpaid

He said that hospital payroll inflation may appear disproportionate because nurses have been in undersupply and because they were historically underpaid their wage levels have advanced rapidly, because hospital service workers have come under the U.S. minimum wage rules, and that the ratio of service workers to patients in hospitals has advanced 200 per cent in the last 20 years.

The report said that probably 40 per cent of the increased hospital costs can be attributed to medicare.

Tucker says the picture is more complex when physicians fees are examined. Historically they tended to follow the general price index. He commented also that in many instances the "usual and customary fee" upon which payments to vendors are based under medicare was not known in many instances and had to be developed by the paying agencies. The lag permitted many physicians time to establish a higher "customary fee profile," it was speculated. Upon that assumption, the physician fee level may begin to level off, except for the factor of physician shortages that may be created by such situations as the Vietnam conflict, the study suggested.

Vandals Burn Historic Tree

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's historic Logan elm is no more. The last surviving part of the tree, a six-foot stump, was burned recently, apparently by vandals.

The tree had marked the spot south of Circleville where Chief Logar of the Mingo Indian tribe was believed to have made an impassioned speech in 1774 rejecting a peace treaty with the British.

The tree was destroyed by age and disease over the years, and the burning of its stump was not mourned.

"I'm glad the thing burned," said M. E. Noggle, president of the Pickaway County Historical Society. "It was such a miserable sight—it looked like a piece of driftwood

backache

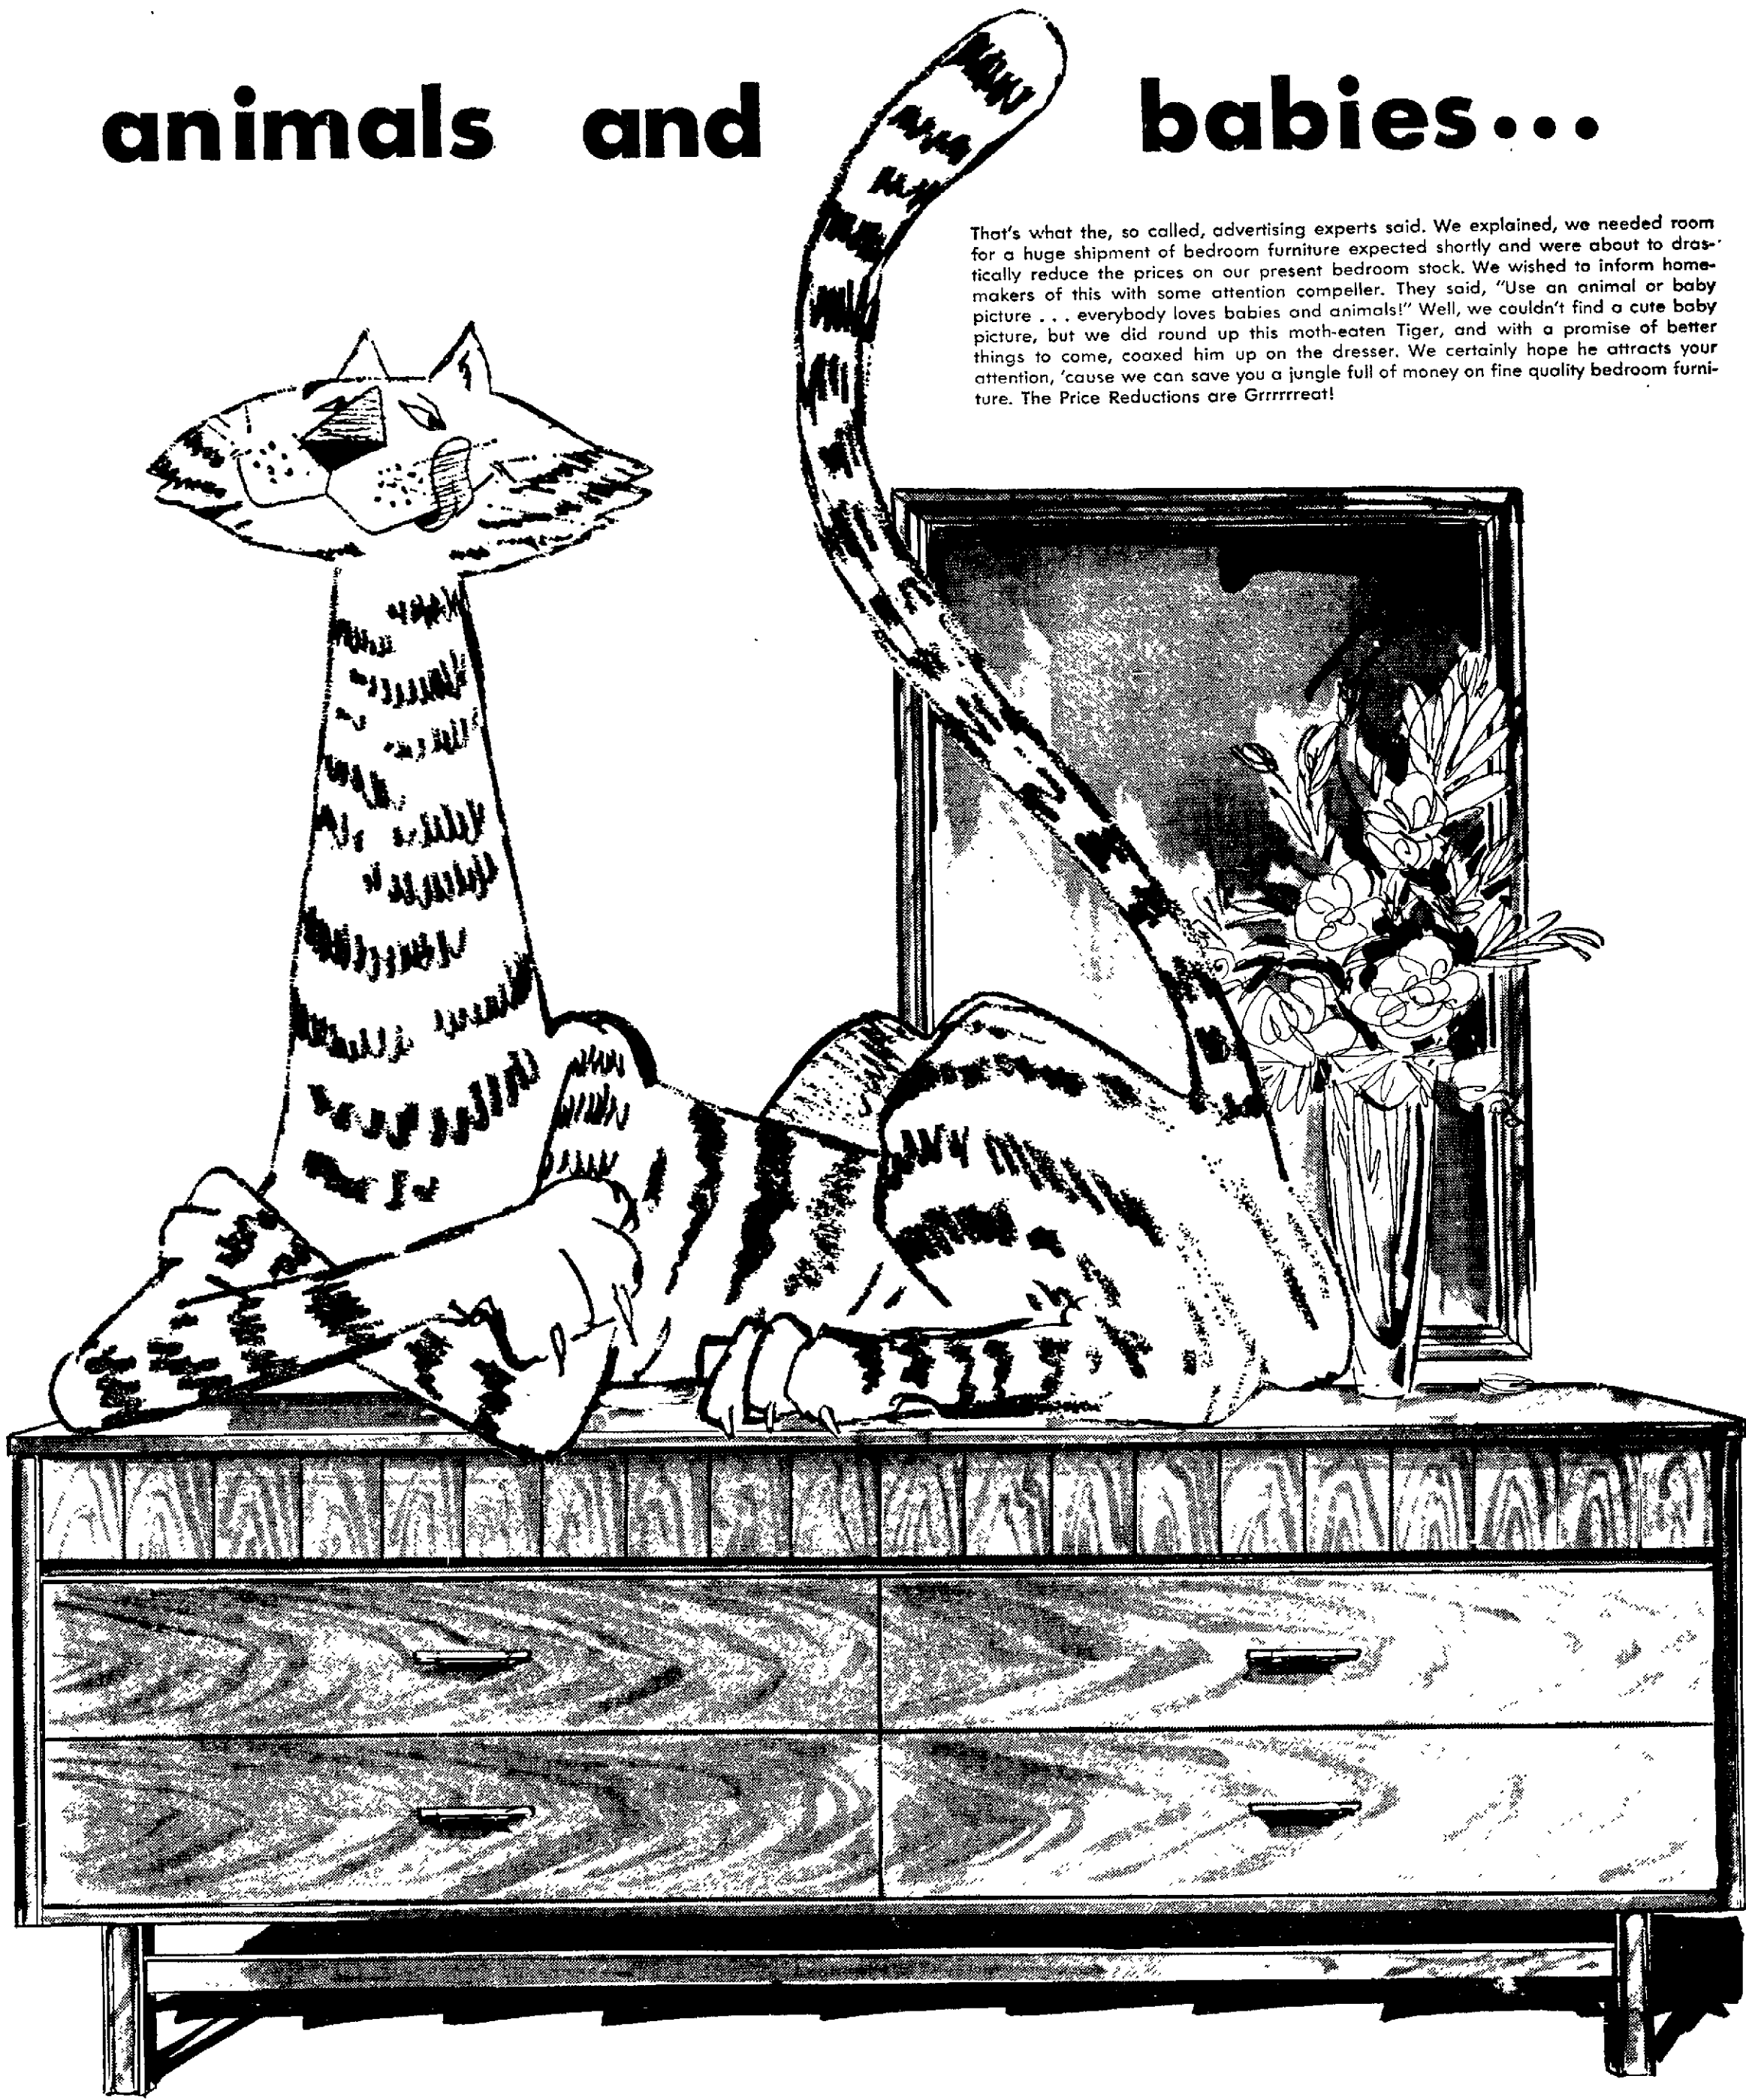

Nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets, or everyday stress and strain. If this nagging backache, with restless, sleepless nights, is wearing you out, making you miserable and irritable, don't wait, try Doan's Pills — an analgesic, a pain reliever. Doan's pain-relieving action on nagging backache is often the answer. Get Doan's Pills — not a habit-forming drug but a well-known standard remedy used successfully by millions for over 70 years. See if they don't bring you the same welcome relief. For convenience, always buy Doan's large size.

That's what the, so called, advertising experts said. We explained, we needed room for a huge shipment of bedroom furniture expected shortly and were about to drastically reduce the prices on our present bedroom stock. We wished to inform home-makers of this with some attention compeller. They said, "Use an animal or baby picture . . . everybody loves babies and animals!" Well, we couldn't find a cute baby picture, but we did round up this moth-eaten Tiger, and with a promise of better things to come, coaxed him up on the dresser. We certainly hope he attracts your attention, 'cause we can save you a jungle full of money on fine quality bedroom furniture. The Price Reductions are Grrrrreat!

These are wild bedroom buys . . . take it from a cat who knows!

Agency School Committees to Air Procedures

Regional Conference Set Thursday at CESA in Appleton

Laws, guidelines and techniques for agency school committees will be discussed by state educators at the annual regional conference Thursday at the Cooperative Educational Service Agency (CESA) 8 office, 107 N. Douglas St., Appleton.

More than 40 members and CESA directors of Agencies 3, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 13 have registered.

An agency school committee is under the auspices of a CESA district. It has seven members and deals primarily with school district reorganization.

The conference will begin with a 9 a.m. registration. Mrs. Kenneth Watts, CESA 8 reorganization committee chairman, will welcome the group at 9:30 a.m. and an informal open discussion will follow.

After a noon luncheon at Nino's, George Tipler, executive secretary, Wisconsin Association of School Boards, will present a revised "Guide for Agency School Committees."

Henry Nelson, assistant state superintendent, will speak on "Developing and Implementing a Long Range Plan of School District Organization," at 2:30 p.m.

District Scout Units Cited For Displays

Appleton, Marion, Hilbert Youths Win Valley Contest

The three winners of the Valley Council Boy Scout window display contest, held in conjunction with the 58th National Boy Scout Week have been announced by Ned Galloway, council activities chairman.

Tri-City District winner was troop 67, sponsored by the Appleton Veterans of Foreign Wars Post whose display was in Langstadt's Inc., Appleton.

North district winners were from pack 26 sponsored by the Marion Volunteer Fire Department with a display at Nolan's Sales Office, Marion.

East district winners were from pack 79 sponsored by the Hilbert Chamber of Commerce. Their display is located at the Calumet Bottled Gas store in Hilbert.

Every participating unit received a certificate, a ribbon. The three winners also received a traveling trophy.

District chairmen are Dick Schroeder, East, and Dr. James Lawton, North.

Sherwood 4-H Club Schedules Bake Sale

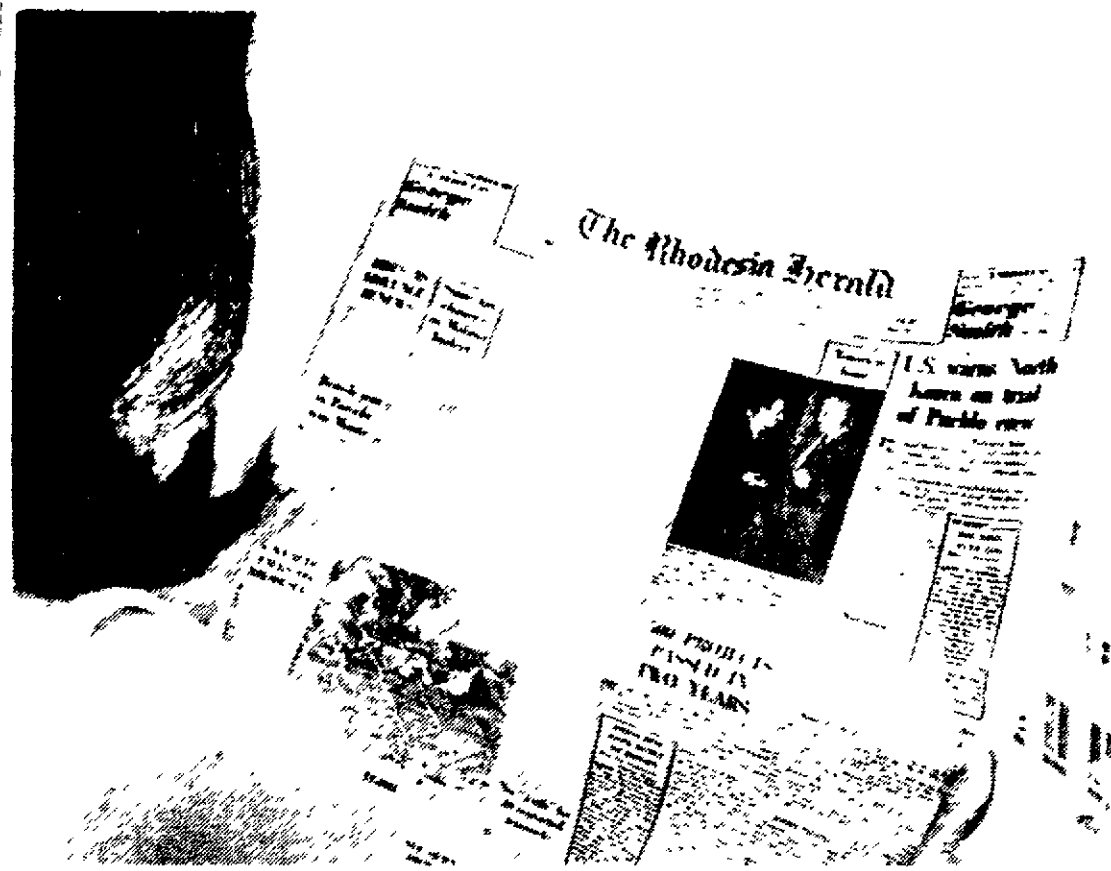

SHERWOOD — Plans were made by the Wide Awake 4-H Club last week to sponsor a bake sale at 10 a.m. Feb. 24 at the two village stores. All items for sale must be in place by 9:30 a.m.

Warsaw Chamber Orchestra Gives Nearly Flawless Oshkosh Concert

BY DAVID F. WAGNER

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — After diversions into the roots of jazz, opera, pop piano and folk singing, Town and Gown series unveiled its first concert of classical music — or "serious" or academic; whichever one prefers — Tuesday night.

With a sizable Oshkosh Civic Auditorium audience offering enthusiastic support, the Warsaw Chamber Orchestra performed a varied program of period pieces with precision, proficiency and, at times, poignancy.

Despite the nearly flawless performances by the 12 violins, two celli and a bass, the evening's glory went to a woman who played on only one of the concert's selections. Featured violin soloist, Wanda Wilkomirska, stole the show with her superb artistry on Bach's "Concerto for Violin in E Major."

Accomplished With Ease

Miss Wilkomirska has gotten critical acclaim from top reviewers and Tuesday night Oshkosh people discovered why. Her fluency and the seeming ease with which she accomplishes the most difficult passages was as exhilarating as any performance I have witnessed on a Town and Gown stage.

For the remainder of the program, the highly competent chamber orchestra dipped into the large reservoir of music for violin and came up with tasty examples of Tommaso Albinoni, in which the group demonstrated its ability to maintain perfect tempo; Adam Jarzebski, Archangelo Corelli, Antonio Vivaldi and W. A. Mozart.

Conductor Karol Teutsch established his control, although physically at a minimum, was mentally complete. Albinoni's "Sinfonia in B flat Major" requires that sort of mastery to complement expert musicianship or it can tend to drag. The Warsaw orchestra made it ring. Jarzebski's "Nova Casa" and "Tamburatta" were performed as though this 17th century composer was looking over the orchestra's shoulder, so careful and sensitive was the performance. Corelli's "Sarabande," "Gigue" and "Badinerie" are

Kaukauna Sets Zoning Hearing

City Wants Land For Construction Of Public Housing

KAUKAUNA — Public hearings on the rezoning of land and the vacating of part of a proposed street to permit construction of public housing will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the council chambers.

The rezoning involves an area west of Hendricks Avenue between 10th and 12th Streets. City planners wish to change the 150 by 140 foot area from class B to class C residential. The property is owned by Bethany Lutheran Congregation, but is available for construction of a housing complex.

The housing authority is planning a "J" shaped building which will have 71 units designed for single or double occupancy. Estimated cost of the structure is $1,250,000 and rental of a unit will range from $35 to $45 per month.

The street vacating involves a portion of Hendricks Avenue west of 11th Street in a ravine area where street extension is impractical.

Both the rezoning and street vacating have been recommended by the planning commission and received prior approval from the council.

Personnel Groups to Hear AAL Officials

The Appleton Personnel Association will be host to a joint meeting with its Twin Cities counterpart at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Appleton Elks Club. A program will be presented by (A) Wurster personnel training administrator, Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL). His for the boys at the seminary, topic will be "Supervisory Training at Aid Association for Ernest Vosters, Kimberly, are Lutherans." Don Johnson, Personnel Manager of AAL, will Robert Valentine, Kimberly, preside over the program.

published and performed together, but they are not a suite. They do, however, complement each other, especially when such relaxed intensity as the Warsaw Chamber Orchestra possesses is employed.

Vivaldi's "Concerto in A for Strings," even more than the Albinoni work which began the concert, runs the risk of becoming redundant, because no leading instrument is written into the music, and each of the three movements is short, sounding a great deal like introductory music. Teutsch did not allow his charges to fall into that abyss and ended with a sprightly, stimulating performance.

The all-too-short evening, which seemed to fly by even faster than the 90 minutes of the actual concert, ended with Mozart's "Divertimento in D Major KV 136," a three movement work written at age 16. Although exhibiting basic structures, the set shows the solid genius Mozart would unfold later. And, as usual, the Warsaw group mastered it perfectly.

Catholic Scout Awards Won by 9 at Little Chute

LITTLE CHUTE — Nine village Boy Scouts, eight from Troop 151 and one from Troop 51, were awarded Ad Altare Dei pins, highest award in Catholic Scout work, in recent ceremonies at St. John Catholic Church. The group will be honored at the Diocesan Religious Awards Recognition mass at Xavier High School Feb. 18. Boys achieving the award include Greg Otto, Gary Pfeffer, Jeff Jansen, Dave Lucassen, Matt Reynebeau, Bill Godschalk, George St. Aubin and Al Wimus of Troop 151 and James Farrell, Troop 51.

Hanoi Representative, Thant Confer on Talks

'Narrow Gap' Said to Keep Nations Apart

PARIS (AP) — United Nations Secretary-General U Thant met for 75 minutes today with Mai Van Bo, North Vietnam's representative in the French capital. While no information was forthcoming on the nature of their talks, it was evident the central topic was the possibility of peace talks on the Vietnam war.

The meeting, which came after Thant's hurried flight here from London, followed a conference between Thant and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson Tuesday, after which Wilson told the House of Commons that "only a very narrow gap" keeps the United States and North Vietnam from the conference table.

Thant delayed his return to New York, previously scheduled for Tuesday night, after a tour of New Delhi, Moscow and London seeking to open the door to talks to end the Vietnam war. But British officials were not optimistic that peace negotiations were any closer.

Thant talked in New Delhi with a North Vietnamese representative, and there were reports in London a message from Hanoi was waiting for him in the office of Mai Van Bo.

These reports said the message could be a reply to proposals for peace talks Thant made to Nguyen Hao, North Vietnam's consul-general in New Delhi.

Information Minister Georges Gorse, asked by reporters about Thant's visit, replied: "We are not unaware that there are indirect contacts going on to try to settle the Vietnamese affair. But nothing for the moment permits us to think that this is a prelude to veritable negotiations."

Gorse made his statement after a Cabinet meeting and before Thant met with President Charles de Gaulle.

As in Paris, there was little optimism in London that Thant's contacts with the North Vietnamese would be decisive in efforts to get the Americans and Communists to the conference table.

"There are simply no signs of willingness by North Vietnam to talk peace on terms that the United States could accept," one source said.

Thant conferred in London with Foreign Secretary George Brown and Wilson, who recently visited both Soviet leaders in Moscow and President Johnson in Washington.

Thant's aides were secretive about the purpose of his trip to Paris. They indicated he would confer with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and possibly with President de Gaulle.

A spokesman at U.N. headquarters in New York said Thant would return there some time Thursday.

10,500 Troops Head for War

Pressure Rising for Pentagon To Call Up Strategic Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newsmen "we believe that the" Key elements of the strategic urged a call to active duty of the reserve, these officers say, are the combat-ready regular Army and Marine divisions in the United States.

There were 10 such divisions in this country in July 1965 when President Johnson ordered a major buildup of American ground forces in Vietnam. Eight of them were Army divisions, two were Marine.

Either McNamara was over-ruled or has changed his mind since his Feb. 1 statement that U.S. forces in Vietnam are adequate.

Civilian officials at the Pentagon dispute the idea U.S. military strength is being stretched perilously thin. They say there are nearly one million men—not counting reservists—in uniform in the United States who could be drawn on for overseas deployment.

But senior officers argue such numbers are misleading, since Vietnam, the Marines will be in down to a little more than one division in the United States. Marine officers long have gone express belief further ground force deployments to Vietnam will be necessary and that the current buildup objective of 525,000 will be raised. This also is under study.

A Congress member who declined to be identified said the dispatch of more troops to Vietnam in addition to the 10,500 would be announced shortly.

"They're already programmed," he said.

Washington (AP) — If the Army succeeds in collecting $70.21 from a former Wisconsin soldier for a lost rifle, the Navy should collect $30 million from the secretary of defense for the recent loss of two ships, Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg, R-Wis., complained Tuesday.

Schadeberg said the Army has filed a $70.21 claim against Ernst J. Wagner of Racine, Wis., who was honorably discharged from the Army after a year's service in Vietnam during which he was decorated.

The Army, Schadeberg said, thinks Wagner ought to pay within 30 days for an M14 rifle believed to have fallen out of a helicopter, or face legal action.

"He offered his life in defense of his country, and now he gets a bill for it," Schadeberg said. "If they

August Date Possible

Apollo Launch Could Come 2 Months Early

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Recent successes in America's man-to-the-moon drive may permit the space agency to squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year, with the first launch perhaps two months sooner than scheduled.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announced schedule calls for astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo moonship into earth orbit in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no sooner than October.

Unofficially, however, sources say the flight could occur much earlier, perhaps August. They point out that current schedules call for the spacecraft to arrive at Cape Kennedy toward the end of March. The planned launch preparation time is about four months.

March 21 Launching

The success of America's second Saturn 5 superrocket launching, now scheduled for March 21, plus some key administrative decisions to be made in the next few weeks by NASA planners will determine whether the Schirra-commanded mission is in fact moved up and whether two manned Saturn 5 flights are attempted this year.

Navy Capt. Schirra, Air Force Maj. Eisele and Cunningham, aboard a Saturn 5 now officially scheduled until the fourth launch of the superrocket. However, project officials have left open the possibility that if the second Saturn 5 is as successful as the first—NASA may decide to skip a third unmanned test of the mighty booster.

In this event, the Apollo spaceship now scheduled to fly on the fourth Saturn 5 could be launched aboard the third, possibly in October or November. Another trio of Saturn 5 pilots then possibly could be launched in December for a dress rehearsal in earth orbit of the man-to-the-moon flight.

Although a decision is not expected until March, most experts now agree that the first lunar module test last Jan. 22 was so successful that a second unmanned flight will not be necessary, permitting launch crews to concentrate on the Schirra mission.

Cincinnati Man To Stand Trial For Burglary

Bond Reduction Appeal Denied In County Court

After denying a motion for dismissal, Outagamie County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren Monday afternoon bound Harold B. Lutchin, 34, Cincinnati, Ohio, over to the upper branch of County Court for trial on a charge of burglarizing the Martin J. Hupka Jewelry Store.

Judge Van Susteren did not set a date for reading of the information and entering of a plea.

Over strong objections by his attorney, Lutchin was returned to the county jail under $10,000 bond. The attorney asked to have the bond reduced "to something more reasonable."

Noting that "it was just another nickle and dime burglary," the attorney said that bond of $2,000 "would be more than adequate."

134 Watches Stolen

Martin Hupka, owner of the jewelry store at 336 W. College Ave., testified Monday morning that 134 watches valued at $5,102 (his cost) were taken from the store during the Dec. 17 burglary.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer protested a bond reduction, saying that Lutchin had to be extradited from Ohio where he was arrested. Schaefer differed with Lutchin's attorney, saying the store burglary "is a most serious crime."

He indicated that if Lutchin got out on bond, authorities might have difficulty getting him back here for the next court appearance.

Judge Van Susteren, although he ordered the bond remain the same, told Lutchin's attorney that he could submit information on the Ohio man's background that would help assure the court the man would show up for trial. Van Susteren indicated that depending on the information, he might reduce the bond.

Schaefer asked that he also be allowed to submit information about Lutchin's background if such information would be considered in the bond question.

Three Witnesses

Although Schaefer had indicated Monday morning that he would call five witnesses for the state during the preliminary, only three were put on the stand. They were Jerome J. Hartjes, 27, Combined Locks, who was an eye witness to the burglary and who identified Lutchin as one of the two men he saw near the jewelry store.

Outagamie YGOP Told Party Must Serve Sensitive Causes

A national Republican Party with a positive image geared to serving people in sensitive causes can become the nation's majority party and win the 1968 presidential election, a viable young GOP executive at the Outagamie County Young Republican's annual Lincoln Day dinner stated Tuesday.

Lt. Gov. James Goetz, of Minnesota, said the party holds 26 of the 50 state governorships and could win the national election in 17 of those states.

The changed image must come in the form of programs, and not purely philosophy, he said. It must be ready to tackle problems facing the country at home and abroad.

"Our international position is in great disarray," he noted. In Vietnam the leadership (President Johnson) has no idea on how to end the war. "The majority political party disagrees on why we are there and how to disengage ourselves from the conflict," he said. A half million American soldiers are serving there.

The administration has offered the American people little hope in the Pueblo incident but has called up 15,000 reservists to meet the serious challenge. The Middle East situation hangs in delicate balance. Britain has devaluated its pound but the real meaning to the U.S. lies in British plans to abandon its bases around the world, particularly in the East.

"Who will fill the gap after they're gone," he asked. "The U.S., Russia, Red China?"

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization, now 20 years old, is being rewritten. "Every nation needs friends," he observed, "particularly the U.S. in Western Europe."

Goetz suggested that if we are as overcommitted as General DeGaulle suggests — and the administration declines to say — then perhaps the French view that the NATO treaty is little more than paper has credence.

On the domestic front, the U.S. has problems second to none in the world, Goetz said.

Not Working

"Our public assistance programs are not working" because they were designed for a temporary problem during the temporary period of the Great Depression, he charged.

"The situation is different now. We have pockets of poverty. The ghettos are telling us. The programs won't work white folk. You have the money so why not change them?" he said.

A complete revamp of the welfare program is needed based on the principles of self respect and human dignity, he said.

While these programs are designed to help the people the situation is complicated by public apathy toward welfare as compared with intense interest in education. Getting full value from these programs is worth our concern, he said.

Great leadership alone won't resolve the problem, he asserted. "On behalf of all elected officials," Goetz said, "we are not gifted with superior intellect and are subject to human error."

"We must promote, and if necessary, provoke the private sector to be concerned with public assistance programs. If the nation is to long endure it must participate in them," he said.

Base Is $6,150

Teacher Salaries Boosted at Brillion

BRILLION — A teachers salary schedule increasing base pay $650 a year in all categories except non-degree teachers was adopted Monday by the board of education.

Approval came after several weeks of negotiation meetings between the school board and representatives of the Brillion Education Association (BEA). Effective date of the new index schedule is July 1.

The base salary for teachers with bachelors degrees will be $6,150, and the top would be $9,225 after 12 years. Present range for the same period of time is $5,500 to $8,100.

Base pay for a bachelors degree plus 12 educational credits will be $6,350, and $9,525 after 12 years; bachelors plus 30 credits, $6,550 and $9,825 after 12 years, and masters degree holders will be paid $6,650 base pay and $10,241 after 13 years.

Under the new schedule, the base pay for non-degree teachers will be $5,200 for two-year teachers and $5,500 for three-year teachers. The current schedule sets a $4,500 base salary for all non-degree instructors.

Shoreland Zoning Adopted By Outagamie Supervisors

Also Name New Law's Coordinator

Outagamie County Board supervisors Tuesday adopted the floodplain (Shoreland) zoning ordinance, the first of a three-part compliance with the new state water law. The vote was 40-4.

The board will have to approve a sanitary code and subdivision regulations in March to meet the April 1 state compliance deadline.

Outagamie becomes the eighth of the nine member counties of the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission to adopt this first part. Winnebago has not approved its ordinance while several counties already have adopted the second part, the sanitary code.

Tied to the Shoreland program was the approval of Frank Charlesworth for the newly-created post of coordinator of public services. He will enforce the shoreland zoning program, and carry out other duties to be determined later, at a salary of $905 per month.

Charlesworth, presently county surveyor, will take over his new duties March 1. County officials have not determined what will be done to provide continued surveyor services.

Some Opposition

The floodplain zoning ordinance was not adopted without opposition as supervisors spent nearly two hours this morning discussing it. During this time, an amendment was adopted, and an effort to have it tabled until the March meeting was narrowly defeated.

The amendment, proposed by Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, set a fee not to exceed $10 for

New Social Services Facility to be Probed For Waupaca County

WAUPACA — A threat of losing state welfare aid because build a new facility and then of inadequate office space for turn it over to a holding company, the state would pay services office will result in a for 75 per cent of the lease and Waupaca County Board investment-maintenance. Under such an arrangement the building would move the department to the county ownership at the end of 20 years.

Robert Payette, director, said Tuesday he was informed by health and social service office the state that if his department is located in a county court-house, the state will not pay for office space by July 1, a portion heating, lighting or janitorial of state grants to the county services. If it is in a separate county-owned building, such as the jail, the state would share in the cost of these services, and if located in a building not owned by the county, the state will pay up to 75 per cent of the total costs.

Supervisors decided to investigate using the jail basement from meeting the state standards, Payette said. To bring it up to meet minimum requirements would require an additional 400 square feet, he said.

Architectural Representative

The public property committee headed by Supv. Walter Ciura, Dist. 4, was informed of the state notice and brought a representative of the R. W. Surplice architectural firm, Green Bay, to the meeting Tuesday to explain what it would entail to finish a section of the jail basement for office space.

To make the east section of the jail basement adequate will require enlarging the office space, the representative said. Estimated cost would be $51,000, also result in more efficiency from employees of the department, Payette added.

He said that up to five people are working in one office, and constant disturbances reduce efficiency. A reception room, which the department does not have, is greatly needed, the director continued. People coming to the department many times must stand or sit in the courthouse hallway waiting for a caseworker, he said.

Supervisor Wants Road Lip Removed

Manawa Section Part Of Pending State Highway Program

WAUPACA — Removal of a six-inch raised lip of concrete along sections of State 22 between State 54 and Manawa was requested by Supv. Dennis Sexton, (Town of Royalton). Tuesday, during a one-day session of the county board.

Sexton said he has received repeated requests from area residents to have the lip on the edge of the highway removed because it is a driving hazard. One of the worst sections is in the Bear Lake area, he said.

County Highway Commissioner Fred Grunwald explained that the removal of the lip is in the future plans of the state highway program, but it will be a year or two before it can be done.

The lip is part of the 18-foot wide concrete highway surface. Removing it will require chipping off with an air hammer, Grunwald said. Once it is removed the highway will be widened and capped with an asphalt coat, he added.

The State Highway Department intends to remove such lips from all highways in the county and several have already been removed, he explained. State 22 near Manawa is one of the last in the county.

Kennedy Club to Collect for UCP At Chilton

CHILTON — The Kennedy 4-H Club will collect door to door for the United Cerebral Palsy fund drive, according to club leader Mrs. William Dietrich.

Several members volunteering to collect will be assigned streets. They will deposit their collections with Mrs. Sylvester Arenz, chairman of the city drive.

Members toured the fire department Tuesday and were given a brief department history and its operations by Fire Chief Norbert Sturm.

Demonstrations were given by Joanne Hertel, Mary Weber and Carol Kubichka.

Knowles to Ask Review

Waupaca Can Oppose Second Court Again

WAUPACA — County Board Supervisors in Waupaca County apparently will have another opportunity to oppose a second county court, which was authorized by a new state law.

A letter read at the county board session Tuesday indicated Gov. Warren P. Knowles would ask the law be reviewed at the next legislative session.

At the November session, the county board passed a resolution and forwarded it to the governor's office asking the bill creating a second Waupaca County Court be turned down.

The bill, which has been enacted into law, calls for a second court here and in several other counties in 1969.

Through the efforts of Racine

County, an additional judge in that county was removed from the legislative bill, the letter stated.

At the November session and previous board sessions, Waupaca County Judge Wendell McHenry and Dist. Atty. Richard E. Johnson opposed a second court. However, the bill creating the court still was promoted by Waupaca County Assemblyman Gerald Anderson.

The letter was placed on file and County Board Chairman Carl E. Sturm recommended that another resolution asking that Waupaca County be removed from the bill when it is reviewed, be introduced at the county board's fall session and forwarded to Madison.

A Day for Hearts and Flowers

BY CHUCK DILDAY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Gentlemen, today is Valentines Day.

It's time to get that box of candy, or order that bouquet, or but that bottle of cologne if you want to remain a knight in shining armor with the little woman at home.

And if you think that Valentines are kid stuff and pretty foolish, don't forget that what you think doesn't matter at all.

It's what the General Manager — the gal who runs the family — thinks that really counts. And let's face it, life is a whole lot easier if she thinks that you are one swell guy.

And while the occasion may be strictly sentimental, I'll lay you an odds even bet that you will remember when Feb. 14 was pretty important to you, too, if you think back a bit.

Store of Memories

All of us rugged he-man types have a few memories stashed away that make Valentine's Day more important than we may want to admit.

Think back.

probably to the girl with the long yellow curls and the buck teeth who sat across from you at school.

And do you remember the first Valentine you gave to the gal who is now expectantly waiting back at the manse wondering if you will remember this year?

Encounter with Love

I well remember my first encounter with True Love. (Of course, I am overlooking a couple of dozen passing fancies when I was too young to know better.)

I was just 14 when romance overwhelmed me. I remember it well.

I was a high school transfer student and it was my first day in the new school when I saw the Girl With the Brown Eyes. And I will never know how it happened that our way home after school was along the same street.

But it did.

And I carried her books. It was years later that I realized that she had more to do with this than I did.

Anyway, we got along better than well and the next months were filled with more book carrying and occasional movie dates.

And then came Valentines Day.

Now, I wasn't what you would call the offspring of wealthy parents, but I had a job working in a grocery store on Saturdays and I made a couple of honest bucks each week. And I decided that the Valentine for the Girl with the Brown Eyes was going to be nothing less than sensational.

So I shopped. I remember I went to two drug stores, a stationery store and all the 10 cent stores in town.

Finally I found THE Valentine. It cost a whole dollar and was filled with cupids and lace. I bought it.

The trouble was that I bought it about the first of the month and for two weeks I would dig it out of my bureau drawer and admire it secretly.

Didn't Carry Books

But the more I looked at it, the more I was panicked at the idea of giving it to her.

And so came the fateful day, Feb. 14. That night I didn't carry her books. I hurried home and got my Valentine, all carefully wrapped in special paper that cost another 10 cents. And then I started for her house.

It took me 15 minutes to muster courage to mount the steps to her front porch and ring her doorbell.

But I did. And the door opened and I blindly proffered my Valentine and blurted out, "It's for you." Then I turned and charged down the steps and up the street.

I was two blocks away when I finally realized I had given my Valentine to her mother.

Swore off Women

I walked slowly home and swore off women for life. But after I had been brooding for a half hour or so the phone rang and it was the Girl With the Brown Eyes calling to thank me for my beautiful Valentine and we decided to go to a movie that very same night.

Yes, I remember well. Don't you?

And if you are interested in knowing what happened to the Girl With the Brown Eyes, I married her a few years later and I know that right now she is wondering if I will remember this year.

And I will.

$60,000 County Highway Garage Planned Near Clintonville-Marion

Existing Facilities in Communities to be Discontinued When Construction Completed

WAUPACA — The Waupaca highway department equipment County Highway Department in the Clintonville-Marion area, was authorized, Tuesday, to proceed with construction of a new garage between Clintonville and Marion. The new building will house the county highway commissioner, told the county board.

The $60,000 building will be of steel construction.

Grunwald explained the need for a new building to service the area at the board's November session and he was given permission to conduct study and obtain cost estimates on the structure.

Eventually Sell Shop

The county owns the shop building being used in Clintonville and rents space from the City of Marion for equipment in that area. It is difficult to get equipment in and out of the Clintonville building, Grunwald said.

The Clintonville shop is in a downtown area near the Dairy-mans State Bank.

Grunwald also was authorized to advertise the Clintonville building for sale when the new building is ready.

Plans will be submitted to contractors for bids. Construction is expected to start next summer. The building will be ready to move into by next fall, Grunwald said.

Insurance Funds

The building will be financed from the county highway department employee compensation insurance fund and the department equipment fund. Supervisors were assured by Grunwald that the county would not have to appropriate additional funds for the building. When Clintonville shop building is sold the money will be returned to the insurance account and the balance will come from future department surpluses.

Grunwald explained the financial structure of the compensation insurance fund. It presently contains about $90,000. The county is self-insured so such a fund is required, he said.

The new building also will contain a 24 by 24 foot office wing for the two districts.

The main department shops are in Waupaca but it has others in Iola and Marion. Space for county equipment in New London and Marion is rented. The New London shop is in the city garage building. The department eventually plans to have county owned buildings in all of the areas, Grunwald said.

Hospital Will Get Dental Equipment

$17,000 Appropriation Wins Approval of Outagamie Board

Better dental care for Outagamie County Hospital patients was assured when county board supervisors voted Tuesday afternoon to spend $17,000 for modern equipment and expanded professional services.

The appropriation, which met unanimous support, will allow for the purchase of a mobile dental unit, with x-ray equipment and updated tools and supplies for the county hospital.

Supt. Eugene Speener told the board's executive committee last week that increased dental facilities were recommended by the State Department of Health and Social Services and by a consultant.

8 Hours a Week

With Tuesday's appropriation, dentist services to the county hospital will be increased to eight hours per week. A dentist now treats patients two hours per week.

The mobile dental equipment to be added will allow for treatment of patients in their rooms.

Kaukauna Supv. Russell DeLa Hunt, chairman of the board's health committee, said that some of the dental equipment at the hospital was of "pre-World War II" vintage.

Tuesday's resolution provided for the transferring of $15,000 from the contingency fund to the dental hospital budget to cover the $17,000 expenditure. There is $2,000 in the hospital budget for the equipment, supervisors were informed.

Federal Funds

Board Chairman Sylvester Esler said some of the money probably could be gotten back through federal assistance once the new dental equipment is purchased.

In other action Tuesday afternoon, the board:

—Approved taking the positions of county nurse and assistant county nurse from civil service status and putting them on a contract basis. The county nurse would be paid $683.33 per month, while her assistant would receive $500 per month under contracts authorized for negotiation.

—Approved the request of Sara Schamp, assistant county nurse, to attend an eight-week field training course in public health nursing in Waukesha.

Costs are paid by the state. She will be absent from her post at no cost to the county.

building permits issued by the county building inspector and a fee of not more than $20 for conditional use permits.

The amendment was adopted 37-7. This prevented a proposal by Supv. Patrick Mares, Appleton, for a flat building permit fee of $10 and conditional use fee of $100.

Supv. Ervin Conradt, route 2, Shiocton, presented the most opposition to immediate adoption of the ordinance. He urged the ordinance be laid over until the March meeting.

Conradt said too many people did not know enough about the aspects of the ordinance. He asked the tabling to allow a mass public meeting to further educate the people.

"I'm not trying to throw cold water on this," he said. "It has merit but there is a lot of homework yet to be done."

His tabling proposal was defeated 23-21.

The four supervisors who voted against adoption of the actual ordinance were Conradt, Mares, George Kroes, route 1, Kaukauna, and Henry Breiting, route 2, New London.

William Morris, regional planning commission executive director, and Boyd Kinzley, director of natural resources, appeared before the board to explain the proposed floodplain zoning ordinance.

Kinzley, who has guided member counties in complying with the state law, was a major author of the model ordinance which was followed in setting up Outagamie's ordinance.

Kinzley and the regional planning commission began developing the shoreland zoning program to assist its member counties to comply with the state law, originally slated to become effective Jan. 1. The complexity of the ordinances slowed adoption, and the state extended the deadline at Morris's request.

Supervisors Vote Themselves Out of Insurance Program

Outagamie County supervisors Tuesday denied themselves a chance to have the county pay half of their group health and medical insurance premiums.

A resolution by the county board's property and insurance committee asked that the county participate on a 50-50 basis with supervisors on the insurance plan. Supervisors eligible for coverage under the county's insurance plan now pay the full cost of the premium.

And they will continue to do so on the basis of a 26-13 vote Tuesday afternoon.

Supv. Walter Fredericks of New London told the board that the insurance committee, which he heads, asked for half of the premium pay following requests from several supervisors. He said those supervisors wanted the same insurance opportunity as county employees.

Pay Own Premiums Fredericks said that only county board members under age 65 would be eligible to get the insurance. About seven or eight supervisors now take the insurance and pay the full costs themselves, according to Board Chairman Sylvester Esler.

Appleton Supv. Arthur Hoolihan, who also is an Appleton alderman, told supervisors that the city pays part of the group insurance for councilmen and urged that the same type of plan become effective for board members.

inuation of Hupka concerned his ability to identify the watches stolen from his store.

Lutchin's attorney asked for dismissal of the charge on grounds that all the state had was a "feeble identification" of Lutchin by the Combined Locks man.

However, Judge Van Susteren disagreed, noting that there was corroborating identification of Lutchin by Hartjes and the arresting state policeman, and that police were given a license number of the car that left the burglary scene Dec. 17.

Bonduel assured itself of a finish no worse than sixth place in the Northeastern Wisconsin Conference Tuesday night by outlasting Oconto Falls, 69-65, while Seymour dropped its seventh game in a row, 70-59, to Pulaski.

Coach John Reinke's Bears upped their NEW record to 9-6. Tom Betzner led a quartet of double-figures scorers for the Bears, collecting 19 points. Jim Betzner added 18 and Keith Marohl 14 in backup roles.

Jeff Pytleski and Tim Lesowe led the losers with 27 and 18 points, respectively.

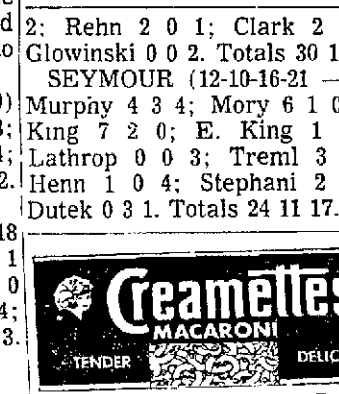

Seymour grabbed a 12-9 lead in the first quarter but then the roof caved in. Pulaski outscored their hosts by a 24-10 margin in the second period to go ahead, 33-22, by intermission and coasted in from there.

Tom Banaszynski, the NEW's leading scorer, paced the Red Raiders with 31 points. Pete King had 16 for Seymour, and Dennis Murphy was limited to 11.

Rate Ceilings Under Scrutiny In Washington

Inflation, Credit Demands Forcing Move by Liberals

BY EDMOND LE BRETON

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberals in Congress and the executive branch are being forced by unyielding economic pressures to search their souls on the possibility of changing sides on a deeply-felt issue.

The question is whether interest-rate ceilings written into some laws can be maintained although inflation and credit demand have pushed much higher the returns that investors can expect.

President Johnson certainly not a high-interest man by past performance signaled he had made a painful decision when he recommended in his economic report that Congress lift the 6 per cent limit on interest charged for loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration.

Quick Passage

The reaction in Congress was swift—and discouraging to some administration strategists who were reported hoping that at least a temporary lifting of the ceiling could be passed quickly.
If Congress does act there is every indication it will be only after long, agonizing debate.

The other principal federal provision on interest rates applies to government borrowing.
It specifies that long-term government securities may not carry a rate higher than 4 1/4 per cent. For more than a decade secretaries of the Treasury of both parties have been recommending in vain that this limit be raised. At present the government simply can't raise money at 4 1/4 per cent.

But the 4 1/4 per cent limit has long been a rallying cry for those who believe in government action to keep interest rates down.

Relaxed Rule

Congress last year relaxed the rule indirectly. It allowed Treasury notes to be issued for terms up to seven years instead of five. Notes are not subject to the ceiling.

So now what actually are medium-term Treasury securities are selling for more than 4 1/4 per cent, while the limit remains on the statute books for whatever symbolic value it may have. The Treasury still can't sell longer-term securities because of the ceiling.

The private market long ago found a way around the FHA interest limitation. This is the almost universal practice of charging a discount, expressed in "points" or percentages of the amount provided for a loan.
Most of this burden usually falls on the seller so that in effect he receives less than the nominal cost of a house sold.

One of the arguments advanced for allowing FHA to insure mortgages carrying more than 6 per cent interest is that this would eliminate or at least reduce the use of points.

The contention is disputed however by such opponents as Chairman Wright Patman (D-Texas), of the House Banking Committee, dean of low interest advocates in the House. Patman contends that in the past when FHA interest was increased—finally up to the statutory limit—discounting quickly caught up.

He argued also that lifting the FHA ceiling would tend to push interest rates generally up, by bidding up the price of loans and that states would have to raise their own interest ceilings or see their citizens excluded from FHA benefits.

State Has Alternate Plans To Fight Water Pollution

Will Return to Chicago Conference on March 7

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Wisconsin will return to the recessed anti-pollution enforcement conference in Chicago with alternate plans for waging the war on dirty water based on the possibility that the federal government may further cut back promised anti-pollution aids.

That was the decision of the state board of resource development recently as it assessed the first six days of the state-federal anti-pollution conference held in Chicago during the past week and a half.

The conference is scheduled to be convened again on March 7 in Chicago. It was called by Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner and U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall to deal with pollution problems which are growing in Lake Michigan.

The U.S. government and the states of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan are joined in the conference.

At the urgings of board member Gerard Rohlich of Madison, the group voted to prepare alternative plans for prospective state action for Wisconsin's anti-pollution administrators to be reported at the coming session of the conference.

Possible Steps
The plans will outline possible state steps to be taken helping to clean up Lake Michigan and keeping it clean.

The alternative plans will be based on different levels of future federal aid for the programs.

Administrator of the resource development division, Freeman Holmer, told his board that one of the main messages delivered to the federal government by every state taking part is the problem caused when the federal government takes high priced promises to induce state action in the field of pollution control — and then fails to deliver the dollars as promised.

The Wisconsin plans will be based on what is possible under several different levels of federal funding, the board decided.

Holmer also reported that the main lesson learned by Wisconsin anti-pollution administrators taking part in the conference is the need for third level, or tertiary, treatment of sewage being pumped into the lake. The development could boost treatment costs in affected localities by 50 per cent, he said.

The third level treatment, he said, is necessary to remove phosphates which feed algae growth in the lake, one of the major growing problems in the spreading pollution of Lake Michigan.

Other problems dealt with by the conference — such as the alewife explosion — were already recognized by the state planners, he said.

Affects State
The need for tertiary treatment to reduce the level of effluent phosphate content will affect Wisconsin communities in the Lake Michigan basin — including all of Northeastern Wisconsin.

Holmer said, however, that the state will oppose a Federal Water Pollution Control Administration recommendation that the third level treatment facilities be designed to remove at least 80 per cent of the phosphates in effluent.

Where large amounts of sewage are being treated, this is possible. But the testimony of FWPCA staff members shows that in small amounts, that level of successful treatment is extremely difficult to attain, Holmer said.

The administrator also reported that the federal government is going to adopt Wisconsin's own plan for funding municipal anti-pollution efforts through a long-term repayment of bonding issues rather than fewer block grants.

The action, expected to be made formal within two weeks, comes after the federal government had rejected Wisconsin's landmark plan for aiding localities fight water pollution.

The plan was adopted in Wisconsin in the 1965 session of the legislature, which restructured the states laws dealing with pollution control.

Victim's Surprise Saves His Money

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The two masked thugs who held up Chuck McKenzie, 20, early Sunday did too thorough a job of surprising him.

McKenzie arrived at a bank to make a night deposit of $1,700 from the restaurant he manages when two men ordered him to hand over the money.

The startled McKenzie threw up his hands. The money sack which he had been holding kept going up. It landed on the bank roof.

Cursing McKenzie, the two men fled.

rejected the Wisconsin plan as conflicting with federal statutes, but intends to seek legal changes to adopt the plan for its own use, Holmer said.

Greatest Need
Returning to the pollution conference, Holmer said that the greatest need for state pollution fighters is a public recognition that the pollution ills of the state — and Lake Michigan — are not going to be cured immediately. The federal conference report will contain recommendations for almost four years of concerted action, he said.

It could be ten years before significant changes are noticed, he pointed out.

"One of our toughest problems is going to be maintaining public interest and public support," he said. "The people want to see action . . . it may be four years, or five years — or even ten years before we get results."

"I can show you a glass of water, and it will look clean enough to drink," he told his board. "But it won't be. That's it — it's not an easily visible problem we face."

Stevens Point Woman Gets Driver's License By Way of Vietnam

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP) — Mrs. Pierrette Strong finally got her Wisconsin driver's license, courtesy of a U.S. Marine stationed in Vietnam.

She applied for the license Jan. 2. It came the past week in a letter from Cpl. M. J. Zufu.

"I received this license from Madison by mistake," Zufu wrote from Da Nang. "I hope that the state's little blunder hasn't caused you any inconvenience."

Mrs. Strong, who has no relatives in Vietnam, said she had no idea how the license went to Zufu.

Tiny Stolen Tiger In Need of Pills

CHRISTMAS, Fla. (AP) — A tiger cub was stolen during the weekend and the owner said that he fears his pet will die if it doesn't get its pills.

Bill Bailey said the Siberian-Bengal cub was stolen from its cage Saturday night.

Because the cat is only 14 weeks old, Bailey said, "she requires a special formula milk and she'll die if she doesn't get her calcium and iron pills."

Disgruntled Burglars Set Fire to Building

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Firemen say burglars apparently became disgruntled after breaking into a safe and finding only $50, so they poured solvent on the floor and set a fire that caused $800,000 damage.

Commercial Wood Products Co. was engulfed in flames when 70 firemen arrived Sunday. Heat scorched a nearby truck and piles of lumber.

Former West Virginia Governor Charged in Conspiracy for Bribery

William Barron, 5 Others Named In Alleged Contract Misconduct

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Barron, a former governor of West Virginia, and five other men were charged today with conspiring to obtain bribes in return for state contracts. The indictment, the Justice Department said, was returned by a federal grand jury at Charleston, W. Va.

Named along with Barron, 56, a West Virginia attorney who was governor from January 1961 to January 1965, were:

- Burl A. Sawyers, 55, Charleston, state roads commissioner since March 1961
- Vincent J. Johnkoski, 57, Charleston, deputy state roads commissioner since March 1961
- Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore, 56, Charleston, state commissioner of finance and administration since January 1961
- Bonn Brown, 56, an Elkins, W. Va., attorney
- Alfred W. Schroath, 65, Clarksburg, W. Va., automobile dealer

The indictment said a conspiracy began in January 1961, and called for Barron's appointment of Sawyers, Gore and

200 Students Suspended in Disturbance

Negro History Being Demanded in Third Milwaukee School

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Disturbances at a North Side high school following demands for more teaching of Negro history led to the suspensions of an estimated 200 students Tuesday.

Officials at Riverside High School said the students would remain suspended from classes pending talks with parents.

Riverside is the third high school with large Negro enrollments where students have demonstrated in the last two weeks demanding textbooks on Negro history to supplement existing history instruction.

Riverside officials said about 250 students held an unauthorized assembly Tuesday, and that the incident was followed by hallway disturbances. Two youths were taken into custody after sidewalk incidents, one of which included damage to a bus.

Officials at the three schools have said they are trying to locate copies of the books demanded by students. The demonstrators have requested "The American Negro."

A policeman was injured and windows were broken during demonstrations last week at age areas in the sector, and the North Division and Rufus King high schools.

going to discuss any questions about air-sea rescue operations."

This suggested that U.S. forces might be searching the waters in hopes of recovering the pilot.

Goulding also said he was unable to provide information about the pilot who flew on to Da Nang but promised to do so when the information became available.

Navy sources said each of the A-1Hs carried a single crewman.

While Communist China claims a 12-mile territorial water limit, the United States formally recognizes only a three-mile limit, but normally U.S. pilots are cautioned to stay clear of the 12-mile limit to avoid difficulty.

Usually Unarmed

Goulding said he did not have information which would enable him to say what caused the navigational difficulties in this case. He told newsmen it is customary for warplanes to fly unarmed while being ferried.

Last June, a flight of Communist MIGs jumped an off-course American Phantom jet about 30,000 feet over Hainan Island and shot it down. The two crewmen bailed out, were plucked from the South China Sea 30

"friendly casualties" when half the bombs dropped Tuesday by U.S. B-52 bombers on the closest said they have ever made to Saigon landed outside the target area.

The spokesman said 100,000 rounds of bombs went astray, indicating three or four of the high-level Stratofortresses made the raid. The target was Viet Cong troop concentrations 10 1/2 miles north of the city, and the spokesman added that even the bombs that went astray landed in an area for which South Vietnamese officials had given target clearance.

First B52 Error

It was the first report of a bombing error by the big B52s in nearly three years of operations over South Vietnam, but most of their strikes have been against enemy-controlled areas.

On the northwest frontier, the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh took its heaviest pounding in six days.

North Vietnamese gunners slammed 200 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortar into Khe Sanh in a 24-hour period, killing one Marine and wounding nine others. But there were no ground attacks that could signal the start of the big push the Communists are expected to make to drive U.S. forces from South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces.

U.S. warplanes continued their massive round-the-clock bombardment of Communist build-up areas threatening the Khe Sanh base. Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 200 tactical sorties Tuesday against North Vietnamese troop concentrations, gun positions and storage areas in the sector, and the big B52s chipped in with three raids today.

Moon Might Have Water

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New studies indicate the moon may have moist, warm areas—possibly conducive to microbial life—a lunar scientist reports.

Dr. Jack Green told a seminar of the University of California at Los Angeles chapter of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics Tuesday that evidence of moisture was found in specially filtered telescope pictures of an area near the crater Aristarchus.

Aristarchus, in the upper left portion of the lunar disk, is the site of red flares—possibly indicating volcanic activity—reported by several astronomers.

Green said his belief that there may be warm, moist areas near the crater is based on apparent detection of sulfur with a filter, producing photographs in which that mineral shows up black. Large black areas several miles square were found in photographs recently made to investigate earlier indications, Green said.

Always Near Water

"On earth sulfur, the most abundant volcanic mineral, is always found in the presence of hydrous or water-bearing rock," he said. "If this holds true on the moon, then there must be large areas near volcanic craters which are warm and moist and conceivably could support small organisms."

"Bacterial life has been found in boiling water in numerous hot springs on our planet."

Green, research scientist for McDonnell Douglas Corp. and a consultant on the space agency's Surveyor program, said his study covered only an area near Aristarchus but he hopes to survey other craters later.

Green said a soil-testing device taken to the moon by recent Surveyors was not equipped to detect sulfur. He suggested that if his interpretation of the "black" areas is correct, manned bases on the moon should be established near volcanic craters to take advantage of water and heat by heating them to 500 to 800 degrees Fahrenheit. On the moon, where surface temperatures rise to 250 degrees at greater near volcanic craters, such temperatures could be achieved by focusing solar rays on hydrous rock, Green said.

Oregon Governor Back

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Gov. Tom McCall returned to his office Tuesday after being out with pneumonia for two weeks.

Do you have the kind of hemorrhoids that can be relieved without surgery?

Painful burning and itching of hemorrhoids may be relieved without surgery, in some cases, by a product called M.P.O. M.P.O. contains Benzocaine, a topical anesthetic hospitals use for burns and skin rashes. It can give relief for hours! M.P.O. — Mentholatum Pile Ointment. Comes in suppositories, too.

Summer Riots Spontaneous, President's Panel Concluding

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Commission on Civil Disorders is reportedly moving toward the conclusion that last summer's urban riots were spontaneous—not the result of a conspiracy.

Unless new evidence is unearthed within the next few weeks, commission sources said that will be a major point in the panel's final report, now being written for release about March 1. Another section will make urgent recommendations on steps to prevent disorders.

"In each case we found agitation before, during and after the riots, but not any planned conspiracy," one official said. "As far as we can tell, all broke out spontaneously."

employment, housing, education and welfare programs, one official said, plus proposed steps to improve police-community relations.

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, commission chairman, has predicted the findings "will be uncomfortable for the people of the United States."

Kiel Stewardess Killed in Texas Highway Mishap

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Two airline stewardesses, one of them from Wisconsin, were killed early today when their car skidded on an icy overpass and was struck broadside by a large truck.

Police said the accident happened in northwest Denton, where Interstate 35E passes over Texas 24. Both vehicles plunged 25 feet down an embankment after the collision.

Killed were Delores Watson, 28, of California, and Yvonne Lutke, 25, of Kiel, Wis., both stewardesses with American Flyers Airline, a supplemental carrier based in Fort Worth.

Also in the automobile and hospitalized in fair condition was Linda Brignolo, 22, of Torrington, Conn. The truck driver, Carl Cunningham, 25, of Oklahoma City, was treated at a hospital and discharged.

Officers said the women were traveling north on Interstate 35E when their car skidded across the median.

Investigation Continuing

"That part of our investigation is proceeding right up to the last moment."

Thus far, the commission's findings correspond with testimony it received last August from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. In the six months since then, some of the commission's top aides have devoted much of their time to searching for evidence that the riots were planned.

One investigator reported he encountered, in quiet visits to several urban areas, individual agitators "who like to claim credit for disturbances they had in their cities. But they really can't."

The 11-member panel was appointed by President Johnson last July 29 to investigate the causes of riots that scarred Detroit, Newark and other cities and to recommend preventative action.

Easy Part Done

The first two sections of the report—what happened and why—are virtually complete, sources said, and members "are down to the nitty-gritty, the real tough decisions" on the third segment—prevention.

Recommendations will cover

French May Not Fly Over South Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — A government spokesman said Air France has been forbidden to fly over South Vietnam on its weekly flight from Phnom Penh, Cambodia, to Shanghai. The action was taken for "security reasons," he said.

Air France's landing rights at Tan Son Nhut airport were not affected. The airport, frequently under Viet Cong attack, now is open for commercial departures and arrivals from 8 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.
